6) Describe the Issuer's Business, Products and Services

Describe the issuer's business so a potential investor can clearly understand the company. In answering this item, please include the following:

- A. a description of the issuer's business operations;

The issuer is a development stage company that has undertaken computer software design and development that may result in software applications designed to operate on mobile devices, computers and other devices that can access the internet and utilize wireless communication networks. The issuer acquired through merger several technologies that are the basis of software applications for use on multiple devices with seamless interoperability with a primary focus on secure wireless communications and secondary focus on language translation; serving the broad consumer market of "smartphone" users and government agencies internationally. The first acquisition, InterText Corp., had developed software that, when completed, will allow wireless devices (smartphones, tablets, computers, etc.) to communicate with other wireless devices using email, voice or text modes interoperably and with automatic language translations. The second acquisition, TuouT Corporation, had developed the architecture of a social network platform with numerous unique features enabling privacy-based communications, language translation and "Bring Your Own Device" interoperability. The third acquisition, SecurDigital, Inc., had developed a working prototype of its elegant and cost efficient software that added a layer of protective security to wireless transmissions beyond simple encryption.

B. Date and State (or Jurisdiction) of Incorporation:

September 23,1996; State of Delaware

C. the issuer's primary and secondary SIC Codes;

Primary SIC Code: 7389; Secondary SIC Code: 7372-01.

D. the issuer's fiscal year end date;

December 31st

E. principal products or services, and their markets;

The issuer has as its initial focus the launching of the technology developed by SecurDigital, which it considers to be a major advance in the delivery of wireless encrypted and interoperable communications. Eliminating the exposure of wireless communications to scanners or hackers, SecurVoice™ technology is delivered to subscribers using a Software-as-a-Service ("SaaS") model and – just as significant – SecurVoice technology is agnostic as to carrier, operating system and hardware, performing "Wireless Interoperability" for wireless transmission, WiMAX, WiFi and VoIP products, globally on cell phones, tablets and other wireless-enabled devices.

SecurVoice Privacy Edition offers a highly secure key encryption system for standard cell phones for the largest consumer demographic and corporate customers that will comply with FIPS 140-2, Level 2 and higher validation. The software operates at the application layer with system dependencies isolated in secure libraries, making it application platform and operating system agnostic (i.e., "interoperable"). SecurVoice technology is based on existing technology standards: JAVA, SOA Enablement, Scalability and Quick Adoption. Constant configuration change of AES 128-bit encryption every three seconds provides a virtually un-hackable system.

SecurVoice™ utilizes an artfully simple architecture, which eliminates exposure of communications to scanners or hackers, has a complete "Back Office infrastructure" that provides the ability to add millions of licenses per day and is specifically designed for VoIP, wireless cell, satellite phones and radio (walkie-talkies) to address all commercial and government requirements. A client-controlled enterprise server is matched with a simple 38kb JAVA Application that the customer installs by simply downloading in seven easy steps to each device, creating instant availability. The Client's Enterprise Server application additionally provides functions and features for total monitoring, recording, conferencing and controlling communications use and discussions for commercial and government customers, while using a SaaS support model and performing "Wireless Interoperability" Services for WiMAX and WiFi products globally.

SecurVoice™ protects voice, data, and video from being scanned or interpreted:

1. It is an unrecognizable digital transmission, hence secure or private, depending on the level of encryption.
2. Its interoperable capability allows global connection to all types of cell, satellite, VOIP or Walkie-talkie (radio) devices.
3. SecurVoice™ is operating system application platform for wireless transmission that is device and carrier independent and works with all existing legacy systems and with all existing network carriers.

SecurDigital products have broad application within our targeted market: banking institutions; financial services; legal; corporate confidentiality market concerns; US Government multi-departments where the need for Privacy (128-bit encryption) is area of focus, not Secret-level security.
