Advanced Deposition Technologies, Inc.
Notes to Financial Statements

Note 1: Basis of Presentation and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Organization

The exact name of the issuer is Advanced Deposition Technologies, Inc. (herein sometimes called the "Company") The Company was incorporated in Massachusetts on January 11, 1985 under the name of Advanced Dielectric Technologies, Inc. In July of 1993 the Company changed its name to Advanced Deposition Technologies, Inc. and changed domicile to Delaware.

In January 2016, the Company entered into an Agreement and Plan of Reorganization ("Agreement") with Tahou Natural Resources Development Co., Ltd., a Japanese corporation ("Tahou") and its shareholder. Pursuant to the Agreement, the Company acquired one hundred percent (100%) of the issued and outstanding share capital of Tahou from the Chairman of the Company in exchange for a new issuance of 300,000,000 restricted shares of common stock of the Company.

The Company is developing the assets of its wholly owned subsidiary, Tahou Natural Resources Development Co., Ltd. which owns a land parcel located in Atsuma-cho, Yufutsu-Gun, Iburino-Kuni, Tomakomai, Hokkaido Japan, on the northern island, which includes more than 743 acres believed to have accessible oil and gas reserves.

Going Concern

The Company's financial statements have been prepared using accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America applicable to a going concern, which contemplates the realization of assets and liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business. The Company has not generated any revenue for several years. As the Company develops a new business, it assumes that management will be able to make arrangements for future capital sources, but no assurance thereof can be given. The accompanying financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

Income Taxes

The Company utilizes the liability method of accounting for income taxes as set forth in ASC 740-20, "Accounting for Income Taxes." Under the liability method, deferred taxes are determined based on the difference between the financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities using enacted tax rates in effect in the years in which the differences are expected to reverse. An allowance against deferred tax assets is recorded when it is more likely than not that such tax benefits will not be realized.

Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Advanced Deposition Technologies, Inc.
Notes to Financial Statements

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of reporting cash flows, the Company considers all highly-liquid debt instruments purchased with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Revenue Recognition

The Company plans to recognize revenue when the following four conditions are present: (1) persuasive evidence of an agreement exists, (2) the price is fixed or determinable, (3) delivery has occurred or services are rendered, and (4) collection is reasonably assured.

Income (Loss) Per Common Share

Income (Loss) per common share is computed by dividing net loss available to common stockholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the periods presented. The Company had no potentially dilutive securities in 2015 and 2014. Accordingly, basic and dilutive loss per common share are the same.

Fair Value

The carrying values of cash and cash equivalents, and accounts payable and accrued liabilities approximate their fair values because of the short-term maturity of these financial instruments.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements

The Company has reviewed recently issued, but not yet adopted, accounting standards in order to determine their effects, if any, on its results of operations, financial position or cash flows. Based on that review, the Company believes that none of these pronouncements will have a significant effect on its financial statements.

Note 2: Income Taxes

Due to no revenue and expenses of $12,926 and $0 at March 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively, the Company had no income tax liability. The Company has no tax positions at March 31, 2016 and 2015, for which the ultimate deductibility is highly certain but for which there is uncertainty about the timing of such deductibility. The Company recognizes interest accrued related to unrecognized tax benefits in interest expense and penalties in operating expenses. During the years ended December 31, 2015 and 2014, the Company recognized no interest and penalties. Under the rules of the Internal Revenue Service, the Company's tax returns for the previous three years remain open for examination.

Advanced Deposition Technologies, Inc.
Notes to Financial Statements

Note 3: Capital Stock

Preferred Stock - In January 2016, the Company amended the quantity and par value of the authorized stock of the Company. The Company is now authorized to issue 200,000,000 shares of Preferred Stock, par value $0.001 per share which may be issued in one or more series or classes, with each series or class having the rights and privileges respecting voting rights, preferences as to dividends and liquidation, conversion rights, and other rights of such series as determined by the board of directors at the time of issuance. There are several possible uses for shares of Preferred Stock, including expediting financing and minimizing the impact of a hostile takeover attempt.

In January 2016, the Company established a Series E Preferred Stock. The number of authorized shares of the Series E Preferred Stock is 1,000,000 shares. The Series E Preferred Stock shall not be redeemable by the Corporation and has no preferences as to dividends or liquidation rights. With respect to voting, the Series E Preferred Stock shareholders shall vote as a single class. Every Series E Preferred Stock shareholder shall be entitled to cast ten votes for each share of Series E Preferred Stock owned.

As of March 31, 2016 and 2015, there were 1,000,000 and 0 shares, respectively, of Preferred Stock outstanding, all of which was Series E.

Common Stock - In January 2016, the Company amended the quantity and par value of the authorized stock of the Company. The Company is now authorized to issue 800,000,000 shares of common stock, par value $0.001. The Company's Board of Directors is expressly granted the authority to issue, without stockholder action, the authorized shares of the Company's common stock. The Board of Directors may issue shares and determine the powers, preferences, limitations, and relative rights of any class of shares before the issuance thereof.

As of March 31, 2016 and 2015, there were 319,997,727 and 9,997,727 shares, respectively, of common stock outstanding.

Note 4: Related Party Transactions

In 2008 4,900,000 common shares of the Company were issued to a related party in exchange for the cancellation of a $4,900.00 promissory note.

In November of 2015 the Company and the individual rescinded the 2008 transaction and the Company issued the former president 4,900,000 common shares in exchange for forgiveness of all accrued wages totaling approximately $37,000.

In November of 2015 the president of the Company, Mr. Tsunenobu Arai, purchased 4,900,000 shares from the previous president.

In January of 2016, the majority of the shareholders and the board approved stock for stock exchange of Tahou Natural Resources Development Co., Ltd., a Japanese ("Tahou"). Mr. Arai was the sole shareholder of Tahou and is now the Chairman and CEO of the Company. Mr. Arai has committed to cover the operational expenses related to the development of the Company and the Tahou assets. The accounting treatment going forward of this investment is being reviewed by management.

Advanced Deposition Technologies, Inc.
Notes to Financial Statements

Effective as of 12-31-2015 all promissory notes and related interest were forgiven without consideration.

Note 5: Subsequent Events

ASC 855-16-50-4 establishes accounting and disclosure requirements for subsequent events. ASC 855 details the period after the balance sheet date during which we should evaluate events or transactions that occur for potential recognition or disclosure in the financial statements, the circumstances under which we should recognize events or transactions occurring after the balance sheet date in our financial statements and the required disclosures for such events.

There are no events to report.
