The financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America and are presented in US dollars. The Financial Statements and related disclosures as of December 31,2020 (Unaudited) pursuant to the rules and regulations of the United States Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”). The Company has adopted June 30 fiscal year end.

Use of Estimates and Assumptions

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period. FOR THE SIX MONTHS PERIOD ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2019

NOTE 2 —Significant Accounting Policies and Recent Accounting Pronouncements - continued

The respective carrying values of certain on-balance-sheet financial instruments approximate their fair values. These financial instruments include cash, accrued liabilities and notes payable. Fair values were assumed to approximate carrying values for these financial instruments since they are short term in nature and their carrying amounts approximate fair value.

Basic and Diluted Loss Per Share

The Company computes earnings (loss) per share in accordance with ASC 260-10-45 'Earnings per Share, which requires presentation of both basic and diluted earnings per share on the face of the statement of operations. Basic earnings (loss) per share is computed by dividing net earnings (loss) available to common stockholders by the weighted average number of outstanding common shares during the period. Diluted earnings (loss) per share gives effect to all dilutive potential common shares outstanding during the period. Dilutive earnings (loss) per share excludes all potential common shares if their effect is anti-dilutive. The Company has no potential dilutive instruments, and therefore, basic and diluted earnings (loss) per share are equal.

Revenue Recognition

We base our judgment on new guidance ASC 606.

The Company considered recognizes its revenue on the accrual basis, which considers revenue to be earned when the services have been performed. We considered gross revenue as a principal. Our revenue includes payments from the costumers for the logistic business, dispatch and marketing.

We Estimating Gross Revenue as a Principal. We evaluate the nature of our promises under the contracts and use judgment to determine whether the contracts include services, which we would need to evaluate for a material right or a performance obligation with quantity of services to be delivered.

ASU 2016-08, Principal versus Agent Considerations (Reporting Revenue Gross versus Net) amends revenue recognition guidance within ASC 606 for these types of transactions. To determine the nature of its promise to the customer, the entity should:

1. Identify the specified goods or services to be provided to the customer, and
2. Assess whether it controls each specified goods or service before that goods or service is transferred to the customer.

We are primarily responsible for fulfilling the promise to provide the specified service.

We have the inventory risk before the specified service has been transferred to a customer, or after transfer of control to the customer (for example, if the customer has a right for cancel or return).

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

The Company does not expect the adoption of recently issued accounting pronouncements to have a significant impact on the Company's results of operations, financial position or cash flow

Business Overview

We are an Emerging growth company with strong revenue generating operations. We were formed on June 23, 2017 and have more than three years of business experience.

The United Express intends to operate as a general company of transportation and delivery of merchandise, household goods, and other items for companies and individuals across the United State. As such, it is difficult to determine the average customer of the Company as the business will have the licensure and the ability to effectively arrange for the transportation any type of merchandise. Management anticipates that the business will receive orders for service from companies seeking to move merchandise, as well as, people relocating to different areas of the target regional market area. A primary concern for the Company is its ability to quickly respond to customer request, give affordable price for the services, and carry the full responsibility from pick up to drop off. In this quarter, the price of oil and its associated refined energy products has been within a reasonable, steady range. Lack of major volatile in oil prices has caused the freight and logistic industries costs to be on a straight level during last 3 months. In the event of an increase in the price of fuel, we will also reasonably increase prices (at a standardized rate of markup) to ensure the profitability of the business.

Our other activities are providing dispatch services for the other companies. We working with CVK Express and doing dispatch service for them.

Also, in second quarter we began working with ROYAL REALTY ENTERPRISE, INC to purchase from them used home appliances and sell it to appliance companies for further installation.

For the 3 months ended December 31, 2020 our business activities have focused on dispatch service, used appliances service and logistics.

As of December 31,2020, mostly we generated income from CVK Express LLC. $146,500 for dispatch, $22,150 from companies for logistic service and 219,370 from companies who bought from us used appliances. Our three months revenues for the period ended December 31,2020 was $388,020.

We also cooperate with private people and companies when they ask about transportation service, up in coming move, relocation, short terms storage and other's needs.

We also plan to deliver cargo through others transportation providers if we get more delivery orders than can afford. In this case here is our position as intermediary company.

Our fees are count based on our expenses, size and type of shipment, distance, route, gas price and other customer needs.

For the six months period ended December 31,2020, we

- developed our business plan;
- selected business partners;
- signed agreements with customers;
- found the cargo dealers;
- found used appliances customers;
- organized short-term storage;
- chose despatcher providers;
- created a list of potential customers and their requirements;
- found service company for van maintenance and repairs;
- have chosen the transfer agent company: Empire Stock Transfer, Inc.
- chose optimal routes of traffic and provide delivery for the retail stores;
- have chosen used home appliances seller.

Our revenues are not concentrated in a few customers anymore and if should one or more of them decrease their orders or cease to use our services, it does not affect our revenues as a year ago.

Our revenue for the 3 months ended December 31, 2020 was $388,020. It is about five times more than in similar period year ago. Our revenue for the 3 months 2019 was $80,070

Liquidity

At December 31, 2020, we had $12,252 in cash for our operations and $20,000 in capital. For the period ended December 31,2019 we had 32,783 in cash for our operations. We will attempt to fund from our future operations, which may be insufficient to fund such amounts. There is no assurance our estimates of these costs are accurate.

Should we fail to comply with SEC reporting and internal controls and procedures, we may be subject to securities laws violations that may result in additional compliance costs or costs associated with SEC judgments or fines, both of which will increase our costs and negatively affect our potential profitability and our ability to conduct our business.
