To the Board of Directors and Shareholders of Trans Global Group, Inc.

Opinion on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet of Trans Global Group, Inc (the "Company") as of December 31, 2019, the related statements of income, comprehensive income, shareholders' equity, and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the consolidated financial statements and schedule (collectively, the financial statements). In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2019, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years ended December 31, 2019, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Going Concern

As discussed in Note 3 to the financial statements the accompanying consolidated financial statements and notes have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern.

The Company incurred a net loss of $83,100 during the financial year ended December 31, 2019 and had working capital deficiency of $155,398 as at December 31, 2019. These factors indicate the existence of a material uncertainty which may cast significant doubt over the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

Basis for Opinion

We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) ("PCAOB") and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud. The Company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. As part of our audits, we are required to obtain an understanding of internal control over financial reporting, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion.

Our audit included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our audit also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

NOTE 5 SIGNIFICANT EVENTS

In May 2018 TGGI decided to expand its business development activities and pursue a new line of products which are edible sauces that can be infused with THC and/or CBD.

In May 2018 TGGI decided to expand its edible business development activities and pursue a new line of products which are doughs that can be infused with THC and/or CBD.

In September 2018 the Company held initial discussions with a graphic designer related to its envisaged edible product lines.

In October 2018 the Company began working on concepts for a range of consumable products that could be infused with CBD and/or THC and can be flash frozen. This included items such as personal pizzas, calzones, and hot pockets.

In November 2019 IGPK and TGGI agreed to work on reaching a deal to acquire a Patent, intellectual property (IP), and other assets beneficial to the device TGGI has been working to bring to market.

On December 29, 2018, IGPK executed a Letter of Intent (LOI) to purchase the assets for TGGI to own in exchange for the block of shares.

On January 10, 2019, Trans Global Group, Inc. and GCGX, entered into a rescission agreement whereby GCGX would receive shares of common stock back. In exchange TGGI would receive:

- ownership of the device
- $120,000 in cash in 12 monthly installments beginning 60 days after Global Consortium received the issuance of its Certificate of Occupancy (CO) in March 2019 for the building in Sacramento, CA
- logistic support in distributing the device

On January 13, 2019, a final revision to the Letter of Intent (LOI) was signed by the Seller.

In January 2019 TGGI's consultant presented the concept of an "Edible Reload". This concept changes TGGI approach to the initially envisaged business model. The Edible Reload concept creates an entire market that didn't exist before, not to mention a more profitable revenue stream than the original device(s). The concept can be applied to multiple device designs.

Instead of having a one-time use device, the concept presented allows the end-user to purchase additional Edible Reloads. This concept is modeled on the approach taken by successful manufacturers such as Keurig which builds an affordable machine and makes the majority its money selling pods, or Gillette which manufactures razors and makes the majority of its money selling blades.

In February 2019 TGGI agreed to return its 540,000,000 of IGPK Common shares to IGPK as part of the acquisition of the patented device, associated intellectual property, and business assets.

In March 2019 Trans Global Group, Inc. and GCGX revised the recession agreement signed in January. Due to real-time permitting delays GCGX is experiencing with the regulatory bodies in Sacramento, both sides recognize GCGX will be unable to meet its original estimated timeline. While not making late payment demands on GCGX is a risk factor for TGGI, as a goodwill gesture and in pursuit of developing significant additional working relationships with GCGX long into the future, under the revised agreement TGGI agreed to accept deferral of all payments until 60 days after the CO is issued for the building.

In March 2019 TGGI and IGPK during the Due Diligence phase discovered issues with respect to the patent and associated business that were attempting to be acquired. As a result, IGPK and TGGI determined the value placed on the proposed assets wasn't worth the price being paid and attempted to renegotiate the purchase price, terms, and conditions.

On April 12, 2019, TGGI, IGPK, and the Seller reached an understanding whereby the attempted acquisition was unsuccessful. The final transaction did not take place and no monies exchanged hands.

In May 2019 TGGI and IGPK agreed to work on reaching agreement with respect to the 540,000,000 IGPK Common shares that makes sense moving forward that benefits both parties.

On October 8, 2019, the Company and Integrated Cannabis Solutions, Inc. (IGPK) reached an agreement with respect to its ownership of 540,000,000 Common shares of IGPK. According to the terms of the agreement IGPK agreed to file an Amended Certificate of Designation for its Preferred stock and created two new Series of Preferred stock.

IGPK Series C Preferred is:

- convertible into IGPK Common at $1.00 per share
- carries no voting rights
- is Callable by IGPK
- and IGPK has a first right of refusal to purchase the Preferred shares before any conversions or sales

On October 15, 2019, IGPK issued Trans Global Group, Inc., 540,000 shares of its Series C Convertible/Callable Preferred stock. The IGPK Preferred shares give Trans Global Group the ability to raise capital to further its business plan without any dilution to its shareholders.

NOTE 6 SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

In January 2019 TGGI's consultant presented a first iteration CAD software mockup of the consumable portion of one device design.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

These financial statements have not been audited and have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Trans Global Group, Inc. has no reason to believe that the financial statements since fiscal year 2016 cannot be audited in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

5) Issuer's Business, Products and Services

A. Summarize the issuer's business operations

The Company has two different businesses 1) is a plastic manufacturer of its device(s) which can be shipped worldwide and have numerous applications, 2) is the creation of a line of edible sauces that can be infused with CBD and/or THC giving each sauce flavor three product lines. The Company has also been working on the concept for a dough that can be flash frozen for items such as personal pizzas, calzones, and hot pockets that can be infused with CBD and/or THC.

B. Describe any subsidiaries, parents, or affiliated companies, if applicable, and a description of their business contact information for the business, officers, directors, managers or control persons. Subsidiary information may be included by reference:

None

C. Describe the issuers' principal products or services, and their markets

The Company has two different businesses 1) is a plastic manufacturer of its device(s) which can be shipped worldwide and have numerous applications, 2) is the creation of a line of edible sauces that can be infused with CBD and/or THC giving each sauce flavor three product lines. The Company has also been working on the concept for a dough that can be flash frozen for items such as personal pizzas, calzones, and hot pockets that can be infused with CBD and/or THC.

Over the last year the Company has gone through multiple iterations of the initial designs while working with a consultant. The consultant even came up with a few designs we had not, that can be marketed alongside ours.

Our biggest break through is the design and creation of the "Edible Reload" concept. This changed the entire business model we first envisaged. The Edible Reload created an entire market that didn't exist before, not to mention a more profitable revenue stream than the original device(s).

Device(s) – The Company's primary focus is to bring to market its patentable delivery device(s) that can be used in the Edibles market for CBD, THC, Alcohol, and potentially other markets. The device concept allows for an edible substance to be delivered to the user as a one-time use application. The business model initially envisaged by TGGI can be expanded based on the Reload approach used by companies such as Keurig and Gillette. This approach lets the end-user to retain the device base and purchase additional Reloads. From a business perspective the approach lowers the cost of purchase for the end-user over time. In addition, retention of the device base should bring enhanced customer loyalty and repeat purchases on an ongoing basis.

The design of each of our delivery systems offers markedly different solutions to the specific technological problems, processes, and materials than the patented system we tried to acquire. These major differences will allow us to file a series of patent applications that should be approved by the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO).

The usage applications for the delivery systems are flexible enough to appeal to both MJ and non-MJ sectors. This flexibility broadens the markets the Company can sell the device to since not all States have currently approved the use of marijuana for recreational or medical use, and not all buyers will need or want to be marijuana consumers.

Edible Reload – The Edible Reload aftermarket concept was developed over the past year as we tinkered with the design of the device(s). This concept changes TGGI approach to the initially envisaged business model. The Edible Reload concept creates an entire market that didn't exist before, not to mention a more profitable revenue stream than the original device(s) alone. The concept can be applied to multiple device designs.

Instead of having a one-time use device, the concept presented allows the end-user to purchase additional Edible Reloads. This is modeled on the approach taken by successful manufacturers such as Keurig which builds an affordable machine and makes the majority its money selling pods, or Gillette which manufactures razors and makes the majority of its money selling blades.

While the device(s) are critical to bring to market, what is equally if not more important are reloads that can be purchased and used with the device(s). The Company is focused on potential demand outcomes for its products and continues to refine its design concepts before moving to significant capital expenditure such as producing 3D printed models, manufacturing molds, advertising design concepts, and making intellectual property filings either for patents or trademarks.

The Reloads like the Keurig pods, or Gillette razor blades, will have multiple flavors, and if infused the number of end-choices available to the consumer goes up exponentially. For example, flavors will can be plain, CBD, THC, CBD-THC, Alcohol, Alcohol-CBD, Alcohol-THC, Alcohol-CBD-THC, and each combination can have multiple flavors.

Consumer Edibles

Rather than enter into the dessert sector of the edibles market which is becoming saturated with products, we sought to develop easy to fix foods and microwaveable foods.

In the second Quarter of 2018 the Company retained a Chef to see if a line of products could be created that are easy to fix and could be consumed by people watching their sodium or sugar intake and appeal to the vegetarian market. This informed TGGI's subsequent decision to enter the edible sauce market.

Sauces – The Company retained a Chef to create a line of sauces based on the concept that the sauce had to be low in sodium, sugar, and that were able to be consumed by vegetarians. Subsequently the Company decided to enter this business line and we now have a line of sauces that meet all of our initial benchmarks.

With the right partner the sauces can be sold as is or infused with CBD, THC or a hybrid of both effectively giving each flavor four (4) different sauces.

Dough – Once the sauces were developed, we tasked the Chef to create a low sodium, sugar, gluten-free product that could be sold to vegetarians and non-vegetarians alike. We are still in development of this product and may have to settle for two separate products rather than one which meets all of our requirements. Our goal is to partner with someone who can market these products and sell them infused with CBD, THC, and even a CBD-THC hybrid. The goal output is to manufacture a simple cheese pizza product, calzone product, and hot pocket product, and add additional flavors as the market develops.

Long Term Goal

We would like to partner with one of the large companies in Canada that can manufacture and sell the Device(s) and the Edible Reloads, since in Canada all of the variations can be sold.
