WORLDWIDE HOLDINGS DELAWARE, INC.
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 2021

NOTE 1 - ORGANIZATION AND OPERATIONS

The Company was incorporated on January 11, 1988 as a Delaware corporation under the name of Jutland Enterprises, Inc. In the subsequent years the Company has had several name changes beginning with Treat Enterprises, Inc. and Professional Wrestling Alliance Corporation. On November 1, 2000, the Company's name was changed to TRSG Corporation. And in 2003 to Worldwide Holdings, Inc. On December 31, 2002, the Company sold all of its assets and became a shell corporation searching for a Merger candidate.

NOTE 2 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING PRACTICES

Basis Of Presentation – The accompanying financial statements are presented in accordance with Generally Accepted Financial Principles of the United States of America.

A. Going Concern

The financial statements have been presented on the basis that we are a going concern, which contemplates the realization of assets and satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business. We have sustained significant operating losses which raises substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. Management will continue its ongoing efforts to increase the customer base and seek lower cost suppliers to generate future profits. The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern and do not include adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty. The basis of accounting contemplates the recovery of the Company's assets and the satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business.

Management's Use of Estimates - The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments - For certain of our financial instruments, none of which are held for trading, including cash, accounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued expenses, and the banklines of credit, the carrying amounts approximate fair value due to their short maturities.

Cash and Cash Equivalents - For purposes of the Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows, we consider liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents. We maintain our cash in bank deposit accounts, which, at times, may exceed the federally insured limit of $250,000. We have not experienced any losses in such accounts and believe we are not exposed to any significant credit risk on cash and cash equivalents.

Accounts Receivable - We grant credit in the form of unsecured accounts receivable to our customers based on an evaluation of their financial condition. We perform ongoing credit evaluations of our customers. The estimate of the allowance for doubtful accounts, which is charged off to bad debt expense, is based on management's assessment of current economic conditions and historical collection experience with each customer.

Inventory - Inventory, and is stated at the lower of cost or market using the first-in, first-out method.

Property and Equipment - Property and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and are depreciated over their estimated useful lives using the straight-line method. Recovery periods range from three to thirty-nine years. Upon retirement or sale, the cost and related accumulated depreciation are removed from the balance sheet, and the resulting gain or loss is reflected in other income and expense. Maintenance and repairs are charged to operations as incurred.

Impairment of Long-lived Assets - We evaluate our long-lived assets for indications of possible impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Recoverability is measured by comparing the carrying amounts to the future net undiscounted cash flows which the assets are expected to generate. Should an impairment exist, the impairment would be measured by the amount by which the carrying amount of the assets exceeds the projected discounted future cash flows arising from the asset. There have been no such impairments of long-lived assets through December 31, 2019 and 2018, respectively.

Revenue Recognition - Revenue is recognized when goods are shipped and earned or when services are performed, provided collection of the resulting receivable is probable. If any material contingencies are present, revenue recognition is delayed until all material contingencies are eliminated. Further, no revenue is recognized unless collection of the applicable consideration is probable.

Income Taxes - Income taxes are accounted for in accordance with FASB ASC 740, Income Taxes. A deferred tax asset or liability is recorded for all temporary differences between financial and tax reporting and for net operating loss carryforwards, where applicable. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance when, in the opinion of management, it is more likely than not that some portion or the entire deferred tax asset will not be realized. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are adjusted for the effect of changes in tax laws and rates on the date of enactment.

Advertising - We expense advertising costs as incurred. However, certain expenditures are treated as prepaid (such as trade show fees) if they are for goods or services which will not be received until after the end of the accounting period. These costs are subsequently recognized as expenses in those periods in which the goods or services are received.

Earnings Per Common Share - Basic earnings per share amounts are based on the weighted average shares of common stock outstanding. If applicable, diluted earnings per share would assume the conversion, exercise or issuance of all potential common stock instruments such as options, warrants and convertible securities, unless the effect is to reduce a loss or increase earnings per share. This presentation has been adopted for the years presented. There were no adjustments required to net income for the years presented in the computation of diluted earnings per share.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements - In May 2014, the FASB issued ASU No. 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606) (“ASU 2014-09”). With ASU 2014-09, the FASB supersedes the revenue recognition requirements of Topic 605, Revenue Recognition, and most industry-specific guidance. ASU 2014-09 sets forth an entirely new revenue recognition model, codified in FASB ASC 606-10, requiring that contracts be identified, performance obligations be identified, the transaction price be determined and allocated to performance obligations, and revenue be recognized upon satisfaction of performance obligations. ASU 2014-09 is effective for public companies for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2016 and interim periods within those annual periods. Early adoption is not permitted.

In July 2013, the FASB issued ASU No. 2013-11, Income Taxes (Topic 740), Presentation of an Unrecognized Tax Benefit When a Net Operating Loss Carryforward, a Similar Tax Loss, or a Tax Credit Carryforward Exists (“ASU 2013-11”). ASU 2013-11 requires that an unrecognized tax benefit, or a portion of an unrecognized benefit, should be presented in the financial statements as a reduction to a deferred tax asset for a net operating loss carryforward except to the extent a net operating loss carryforward, a similar tax loss, or a tax credit carryforward is not available at the reporting date under the tax law of the applicable jurisdiction to settle any additional income taxes that would result from the disallowance of a tax position or the tax law of the applicable jurisdiction does not require the entity to use, and the entity does not intend to use, the deferred tax asset for such purpose, the unrecognized tax benefit should be presented in the financial statements as a liability and should not be combined with deferred tax assets. In assessing whether a loss or tax credit carryforward is available to settle additional income taxes at the reporting date, entities would not consider future developments such as the subsequent expiration of a deferred tax asset. The assessment would only reflect conditions present at the reporting date. The ASU is effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those years, beginning after December 15, 2013.

Management does not believe that any other recently issued, but not yet effective accounting pronouncements, if adopted, would have a material effect on the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

NOTE 3 - RELATED-PARTY TRANSACTIONS

For the three months ended March 31, 2021 and 2020, the only related party transaction was the accrual of interest on the convertible note payable as discussed in NOTE 6 included in this Financial Statement.

.From time to time we receive cash advances from our controlling shareholder. These advances and the related repayments are made without a formal agreement between the parties. The balance due to the related party at the end of each months has an interest rate of 6% simple interest per year.

NOTE 4 – COMMITMENT AND CONTINGENCIES.

The Company is authorized to issued to 2,000,000,000 shares of Common Stock, par value $0.001. On the Financial Statement date 2,000,000,000 shares of Common Stock was issued and outstanding.

This amount was included in a Convertible Note Payable in the same amount on December 31, 2017. The Convertible Note payable has an interest rate of 6% per annum, has a term of five years and is convertible into a maximum of 110,000,000 common shares at par value of $0,001.

NOTE 7 - INCOME TAXES

Deferred income taxes reflect the net tax effects of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amount used for federal and state income tax purposes. As there has been on recent operations there are no tax assets recorded.

NOTE 8 - LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

There were no legal proceedings known or contemplated involving the Company at the date of these Financial Statements.
