Notes to Financial Statements

Note 1 - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Organization

TheDirectory.com, Inc. (the "Company"), incorporated under the laws of the State of Utah in June 1983 as Teal Eye, Inc. Subsequently, in 1984, the Company then merged with Terzon Corporation and changed its name to Terzon Corporation. In September 1984, the Company changed its name to Candy Stripers Corporation, Inc. In 1986, the Company ceased the candy manufacturing operations and filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection. After emerging from bankruptcy in 1993, the Company remained dormant until it changed its name to Piedmont, Inc. on January 6, 1998. On May 31, 2003, the Company changed its name to US Biodefense, Inc.

SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP), which contemplate continuation of the Company as a going concern.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

For certain of the Company's financial instruments, including cash and cash equivalents, prepaid expenses, accounts payable and deferred revenues, the carrying amounts approximate fair value due to their short maturities.

Leases

The Company leases office facilities under a month to month agreement.

General and Administrative Expenses

General and administrative expenses consist primarily of personnel and related expenses for executive, legal, finance, human resources and corporate communications, including wages, benefits, bonuses and stock-based compensation, professional fees, insurance premiums and other expenses, including occupancy, technology and other direct overhead, public company costs and other corporate expenses.

Net Income (Loss) Per Share

Basic net income (loss) per share is computed by dividing the net income (loss) for the period by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted net income (loss) per share is computed by dividing the net income (loss) for the period by the weighted average number of common and potential dilutive shares outstanding during the period, to the extent such shares are dilutive. Potential dilutive shares are composed of incremental common shares issuable upon the exercise of stock options, warrants and unvested restricted shares using the treasury stock method and convertible preferred stock under the if-converted method, where such conversions are dilutive.

Note 2 – Going Concern

The Company's financial statements have been prepared assuming that it will continue as a going concern, which contemplates continuity of operations, realization of assets, and liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business.

As reflected in the financial statements, the Company had an accumulated deficit and net loss for the periods ended November 30, 2020. The net income for the three and nine month periods ended August 31, 2021 was related one time non cash gains. These gains were relating to write offs of certain debt obligations, interest and fees which in some cases management determined were no longer due based on information and belief, as well as other agreements with certain debt holders. These factors raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

The Company is attempting to further implement and expand its business plan to generate sufficient revenue; however, the Company's cash position is negligible and may not be sufficient to support the Company's daily operations if revenue does not grow to levels to support ongoing expenses. While the Company believes in the viability of its business plan to expand operations and generate sufficient revenue and in its ability to raise additional funds by way of a public or private offering, there can be no assurances to that effect. The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent upon its ability to further implement its business plan and generate sufficient revenue, profits and its ability to raise additional funds by way of a public or private offering.

Note 3- Notes Payable

A summary of convertible notes payable balance as of October 5, 2021.

8/04/2014	$18,000	$47,500	N/A	8/04/2015	45% Discount	LG Capital Joseph Lerman	Loan

To the best of management's knowledge:

LG Capital is owned by Joseph Lerman

Typenex is owned by John Fife

On June 28th 2021, the Company entered into a settlement agreement regarding the Typenex note. The new terms include a cash buyout option of the entire note for $215,000 by December 28, 2021 with no shares being issued. In Q3 we took a one time non cash gain of $500,000 relating to this obligation pursuant to the agreement.

The Company has contacted LG Capital and is attempting to settle or restructure the LG Note.

The Company is continuously evaluating all contracts, service agreements, debt obligations, interest and fees charged associated with all outstanding and future notes & contracts in light of recent accounting changes regarding notes and the industry wide SEC actions relating to non-registered dealers and other misrepresentations and how these types of actions may have affected the Company and its shareholders. During the period ending August 31, 2021 the Company wrote down certain debt obligations, interest and fees based on information and belief that management determined were no longer due. The Company also signed a new agreement relating to the Typenex note. As a result of these actions the Company took one-time non-cash gains of $2,187,505.
