GROW SOLUTIONS HOLDINGS, INC.
NOTES TO CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS FOR THE THREE MONTHS ENDED
MARCH 31, 2022 AND 2021
(UNAUDITED)

Note 1 — Organization and Operations

Grow Solutions Holdings, Inc. (formerly known as LightTouch Vein & Laser, Inc. and Strachan, Inc.) (the “Company” or “GRSO”) was organized under the laws of the State of Nevada on May 1, 1981. The Company provided indoor and outdoor gardening supplies to the rapidly growing garden industry.

The Merger

Effective April 28, 2015, the Company entered into an Acquisition Agreement and Plan of Merger (the “the Merger”) with Grow Solutions, Inc., a Delaware corporation (“Grow Solutions”) and LightTouch Vein & Laser Acquisition Corporation, a Delaware corporation and a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company (“LightTouch Acquisition”). Under the terms of the Merger, Grow Solutions merged with LightTouch Acquisition and became a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company. The Grow Solutions’ shareholders and certain creditors of the Company received 44,005,000 shares of the Company’s common stock in exchange for all of the issued and outstanding shares of Grow Solutions. Following the closing of the Grow Solutions Agreement, Grow Solutions’ business became the primary focus of the Company and Grow Solutions management assumed control of the management of the Company with the former director of the Company resigning upon closing of the Agreement. Shareholders maintained 1,886,612 shares as part of the recapitalization.

As a result of the Merger, the Company discontinued its pre-Merger business. The Merger was accounted for as a “reverse merger,” and Grow Solutions, was deemed to be the accounting acquirer in the reverse merger. Consequently, the assets and liabilities and the historical operations that are reflected in the financial statements prior to the Merger are those of Grow Solutions and recorded at the historical cost basis and the consolidated financial statements after completion of the Merger include the assets and liabilities of Grow Solutions, historical operations of the Company, and operations of the Company and its subsidiaries from the closing date of the Merger. As a result of the issuance of the shares of the Company’s Common Stock pursuant to the Merger, a change in control of the Company occurred as of the date of consummation of the Merger. The Merger is intended to be treated as a tax-free exchange under Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. All historical share amounts of the accounting acquirer were retrospectively recast to reflect the share exchange.

Reverse Merger and Recapitalization

On March 5, 2019, the Company entered into a securities exchange agreement with the shareholders of Pure Roots Holding, Ltd., representing 100% of the outstanding shares thereof (collectively the “Seller”), and Pure Roots Holding, Ltd., a Wyoming corporation (“PRH”), whereby the Company purchased from the Seller, 100% of the issued and outstanding restricted common stock of PRH in exchange for 85,000 restricted shares of the Company’s newly created Series B Preferred Stock (the “Series B Preferred Stock”). The Seller subsequently distributed the Series B Preferred Stock of the Company to the shareholders of PRH.

The shares of Series B Preferred Stock have a par value of $0.001 and a liquidation value of $1,000 per share (the “Series B Liquidation Value”) and each share is convertible into 2,833 shares of common stock (the “Conversion Ratio”). The holders of shares of the Series B Preferred Stock shall be entitled to receive dividends out of any assets legally available, to the extent permitted by Nevada law, at an annual rate equal to 8% of the Series B Liquidation Value of such shares of Series B Preferred Stock, and shall accrue from the date of issuance of such shares of Series B Preferred Stock, payable quarterly in common stock valued at the closing trade price per share on the last trading day of the calendar quarter. The Series B shareholders have agreed to defer dividend rights until the Company earns sufficient revenues.

The holders of Series B Preferred Stock rank senior to the Company’s common stock and Series A preferred Stock and will vote together with the holders of the Company’s common stock on an as-converted basis on each matter submitted to a vote of holders of common stock (whether at a meeting of shareholders or by written consent). In any such vote, the number of votes that may be cast by a holder shall be equal to one (1) vote for each share of common stock into which such holder’s outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock may be converted. Each holder shall be entitled to notice of all shareholder meetings (or requests for written consent) in accordance with the Company’s bylaws. As a result of the issuance of the Series B Preferred Stock, there was a change in control of the Company as of the date of consummation of the Merger

On March 5, 2019, Chad Fischl, acquired control of 51 shares of the Series A Preferred Stock of the Company, representing 100% of the Company's total issued and outstanding Series A Preferred Stock, from TCA Share Holdings, LLC a Limited Liability Company, in exchange for agreeing to become the President, Chief Executive Officer (CEO) and a Director. All the issued and outstanding Series A Preferred Stock were cancelled on January 19, 2022.

The common stockholders of GRSO before the Merger ("Predecessor") retained 92,497,617 shares of common stock, par value $0.001 per share. Upon the effectiveness of the Merger, the holders of the Predecessor's Series A Preferred Stock tendered all 51 shares of the issued and outstanding Series A Preferred Stock to Chad Fischl. The Series A Preferred Stock has voting rights such that the 51 shares equated to 96,268,926 voting shares which represented 51% of the common voting rights, therefore the tender of the Series A Preferred Stock pursuant to the Merger, coupled with the issuance of the Series B Preferred Stock provides for the CEO to have had majority control over the Company as of the date of consummation of the Merger.

The Merger is being accounted for as a "Reverse Business Combination," and PRH is deemed to be the accounting acquirer in the merger. Consequently, the assets and liabilities and the historical operations that will be reflected in the financial statements prior to the Merger will be those of PRH, and the consolidated financial statements after completion of the Merger will include the assets and liabilities of GRSO, historical operations of PRH and combined operations of PRH and GRSO from the Closing Date of the Merger.

The Merger will be treated as a recapitalization of the Company for financial accounting purposes. The historical financial statements of GRSO before the Merger will be replaced with the historical financial statements of PRH before the Merger in all future filings.

The financial condition and operating results of the combined entities since March 5, 2019, are included in the condensed consolidated financial statements.

The Company's new businesses are based on design, development, manufacture, sales and distribution of licensed technologically advanced systems for organic and other agricultural products farming "AeroPods". The AeroPod offers a high efficiency grow solution having scalable, secure and low carbon footprint characteristics. The new business commenced operations during the year ended December 31, 2019. The Company has completed analysis on the designing, manufacturing and eventual sales and distribution of AeroPods for the farming and agriculture sectors. The proposed business structure would eventually offer high efficiency grow solutions that are scalable and secure with a low carbon footprint.

Note 2 — Going Concern and Management's Plan

The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared assuming the Company will continue as a going concern, which contemplates the recoverability of assets and the satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business. For the three months ended March 31, 2022, the Company has incurred a net loss of $253,423. The working capital deficit, stockholders' deficit and accumulated deficit was $8,109,482, $8,109,482, and $17,065,594, respectively, at March 31, 2022. The Company received a default notice on its payment obligations under the senior secured credit facility agreement (see Note 4), defaulted on its other pre-merger debt and has received demands for payment of past due amounts from creditors, consultants and service providers. It is management's opinion that these matters raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of twelve months from the issuance date of this report. The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent upon management's ability to implement a new business plan, raise additional capital as needed from the sales of stock or debt or find a partner to merge with. The Company has been implementing cost containment measures and restructuring or setting up payment plans with vendors and is working to restructure its secured obligations. The accompanying consolidated financial statements do not include any adjustments that might be required should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

Note 3 — Summary of Significant Accounting Policies and Basis of Presentation

The Company's consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("US GAAP").

Principles of Consolidation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly owned subsidiary, Pure Roots Holding Corp. All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

Fair value of financial instruments

The fair value of the Company's assets and liabilities, which qualify as financial instruments under Financial Accounting Standards

Board (“FASB”) Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) 820, “Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures,” approximates the carrying amounts represented in the balance sheet, primarily due to their short-term nature.

Use of estimates and assumptions

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Significant estimates include the allowance for bad debt on accounts receivable, reserves on inventory, valuation of goodwill and intangible assets for impairment analysis, valuation of the legal settlement reserve, valuation of stock-based compensation, the valuation of derivative liabilities and the valuation allowance on deferred tax assets.

Concentration of credit risk

Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to concentration of credit risk consist of cash accounts in a financial institution which, at times, may exceed the Federal and/or Canadian depository insurance coverage of $250,000 and CDN$100,000, respectively. The Company has not experienced losses on these accounts and management believes the Company is not exposed to significant risks on such accounts.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents. As of March 31, 2022, the Company had cash of $443,298.

Debt Discount and Debt Issuance Costs

Debt discounts and debt issuance costs incurred in connection with the issuance of debt are capitalized and amortized to interest expense based on the related debt agreements using the straight-line method. Unamortized discounts are netted against the related debt instruments.

Convertible Notes with Fixed Rate Conversion Options

The Company may enter into convertible notes, some of which contain, predominantly, fixed rate conversion features, whereby the outstanding principal and accrued interest may be converted by the holder, into common shares at a fixed discount to the market price of the common stock at the time of conversion. This results in a fair value of the convertible note being equal to a fixed monetary amount. The Company records the convertible note liability at its fixed monetary amount by measuring and recording a premium, as applicable, on the note date with a charge to interest expense in accordance with ASC 480 - “Distinguishing Liabilities from Equity”.

Derivative Liabilities

The Company has certain financial instruments that are derivatives or contain embedded derivatives. The Company evaluates all its financial instruments to determine if those contracts or any potential embedded components of those contracts qualify as derivatives to be separately accounted for in accordance with ASC 810-10-05-4 and 815-40. This accounting treatment requires that the carrying amount of any derivatives be recorded at fair value at issuance and marked-to-market at each balance sheet date. In the event that the fair value is recorded as a liability, as is the case with the Company, the change in the fair value during the period is recorded as either other income or expense. Upon conversion, exercise or repayment, the respective derivative liability is marked to fair value at the conversion, repayment or exercise date and then the related fair value amount is reclassified to other income or expense as part of gain or loss on extinguishment.

The classification of derivative instruments, including whether such instruments should be recorded as liabilities or as equity, is re-assessed at the end of each reporting period. Equity instruments that are initially classified as equity that become subject to reclassification are reclassified to liability at the fair value of the instrument on the reclassification date. Derivative instrument liabilities will be classified in the balance sheet as current or non-current based on whether or not net-cash settlement of the derivative instrument is expected within 12 months of the balance sheet date.

The Company utilizes a binomial option pricing model to compute the fair value of the derivative and to mark to market the fair value of the derivative at each balance sheet date. The Company records the change in the fair value of the derivative as other income or expense in the consolidated statements of operations.

Revenue Recognition

Effective October 1, 2018, the predecessor company adopted Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) 606, Revenue From Contracts With Customers, which is effective for public business entities with annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2017. This new revenue recognition standard (new guidance) has a five-step process: a) Determine whether a contract exists; b) Identify the performance obligations; c) Determine the transaction price; d) Allocate the transaction price; and e) Recognize revenue when (or as) performance obligations are satisfied. The Company’s initial application of ASC 606 did not have a material impact on its financial statements and disclosures and there was no cumulative effect of the adoption of ASC 606.

Stock-based compensation

Stock-based compensation is accounted for based on the requirements of ASC 718 – “Compensation –Stock Compensation“, which requires recognition in the financial statements of the cost of employee and director services received in exchange for an award of equity instruments over the period the employee or director is required to perform the services in exchange for the award (presumptively, the vesting period). The ASC also requires measurement of the cost of employee and director services received in exchange for an award based on the grant-date fair value of the award. The Company utilizes the Black-Sholes option pricing model and uses the simplified method to determine expected term because of lack of sufficient exercise history. Additionally, effective October 1, 2016, the Company adopted the Accounting Standards Update No. 2016-09 (“ASU 2016-09”), Improvements to Employee Share-Based Payment Accounting. Among other changes, ASU 2016-09 permits the election of an accounting policy for forfeitures of share-based payment awards, either to recognize forfeitures as they occur or estimate forfeitures over the vesting period of the award. The Company has elected to recognize forfeitures as they occur, and the cumulative impact of this change did not have any effect on the Company’s consolidated financial statements and related disclosures.

Loss Per Share

Basic net loss per common share is computed by dividing net loss attributable to common stockholders by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted net loss per common share is determined using the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding during the period, adjusted for the dilutive effect of common stock equivalents. In periods when losses are reported, which is the case for the three months ended March 31, 2022 and 2021 presented in these consolidated financial statements, the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding excludes common stock equivalents because their inclusion would be anti-dilutive. Convertible note principal and accrued interest outstanding at March 31, 2022, totaled $3,193,806. Based on the conversion terms of the aforementioned notes, the Company had 13,537,493,733, potentially dilutive shares as of March 31, 2022. The Company has 20,000,000,000 authorized shares and 9,211,983,199 issued and outstanding common shares at March 31, 2022. The holders of the convertible notes are contractually limited to owning no more than either 4.99% or 9.99% of issued and outstanding common shares of the Company, applying the limitation percentages the holders could no longer than 10,603,665,189 shares.

The Company had the following common stock equivalents at March 31, 2022 and 2021:

	March 31, 2022	March 31, 2021
Convertible notes payable	13,537,493,733	2,319,182,887
Settlement obligation under 3(a)(10)	-	2,152,791,250
Totals	13,537,493,733	4,471,974,137

Income Taxes

The Company accounts for income taxes under ASC Topic 740 “Income Taxes” (“ASC 740”). ASC 740 requires the recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities for both the expected impact of differences between the financial statement and tax basis of assets and liabilities and for the expected future tax benefit to be derived from tax loss and tax credit carry forwards. ASC 740 additionally requires a valuation allowance to be established when it is more likely than not that all or a portion of deferred tax assets will not be realized.

ASC 740 also clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes recognized in an enterprise’s financial statements and prescribes a recognition threshold and measurement process for financial statement recognition and measurement of a tax position taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. For those benefits to be recognized, a tax position must be more-likely-than-not to be sustained upon examination by taxing authorities. ASC 740 also provides guidance on derecognition, classification, interest and penalties, accounting in interim periods, disclosure and transition. Based on the Company’s evaluation, it has been concluded that there are no significant uncertain tax positions requiring recognition in the Company's financial statements.

The Company's policy for recording interest and penalties associated with audits is to record such expense as a component of income tax expense. Management is currently unaware of any issues under review that could result in significant payments, accruals or material deviations from its position.

Foreign Currency Translation

The Company follows Section 830-10-45 of the FASB Accounting Standards Codification ("Section 830-10-45") for foreign currency translation to translate the financial statements of the foreign subsidiary from the functional currency, generally the local currency, into U.S. Dollars. Section 830-10-45 sets out the guidance relating to how a reporting entity determines the functional currency of a foreign entity (including of a foreign entity in a highly inflationary economy), re-measures the books of record (if necessary), and characterizes transaction gains and losses. Pursuant to Section 830-10-45, the assets, liabilities, and operations of a foreign entity shall be measured using the functional currency of that entity. An entity's functional currency is the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates; normally, that is the currency of the environment, or local currency, in which an entity primarily generates and expends cash.

The functional currency of each foreign subsidiary is determined based on management's judgment and involves consideration of all relevant economic facts and circumstances affecting the subsidiary. Generally, the currency in which the subsidiary transacts a majority of its transactions, including billings, financing, payroll and other expenditures, would be considered the functional currency, but any dependency upon the parent and the nature of the subsidiary's operations must also be considered. If a subsidiary's functional currency is deemed to be the local currency, then any gain or loss associated with the translation of that subsidiary's financial statements is included in accumulated other comprehensive income. However, if the functional currency is deemed to be the U.S. Dollar, then any gain or loss associated with the re-measurement of these financial statements from the local currency to the functional currency would be included in the condensed consolidated statements of income and comprehensive income (loss). If the Company disposes of foreign subsidiaries, then any cumulative translation gains or losses would be recorded into the condensed consolidated statements of income and comprehensive income (loss). If the Company determines that there has been a change in the functional currency of a subsidiary to the U.S. Dollar, any translation gains or losses arising after the date of change would be included within the statement of income and comprehensive income (loss).

Based on an assessment of the factors discussed above, the management of the Company determined its subsidiary's local currency (i.e. the Canadian dollar) to be the functional currency for its foreign subsidiary.

Subsequent events

The Company follows the guidance in Section 855-10-50 of the FASB Accounting Standards Codification for the disclosure of subsequent events. The Company has evaluated events that occurred subsequent to March 31, 2021 and through the date the financial statements were issued.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

There are no recently issued accounting pronouncements the Company has not yet adopted that will materially impact the Company's consolidated financial statements.

Management does not believe that any recently issued, but not yet effective accounting pronouncements, when adopted, will have a material effect on the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

Note 4 – Settlement Reserves

Since February 2019, the Company has been working with advisors and creditors to restructure outstanding debt issued prior to December 31, 2018, including amounts outstanding with L2 (all L2 liabilities have been assigned to Oasis Capital – “Oasis”) among other creditors. Management believes that amounts recorded as debt and settlement reserves related to notes are adequate to cover the expected settlements.

All convertible notes issued before March 2019, were reevaluated in light of ASC 480, which allows for treating certain convertible notes as stock settled debt. This treatment does not require the bifurcation of the embedded derivative, nor does it require a periodic revaluation of the fair market values. So long as the discount to the share price used for conversion remains constant a premium is calculated and charged to interest expense at the issuance date of the note and recognized as a liability which is added to note face amount net of any original issue discounts (OID). The derivative liability for each qualifying note was reclassified as put premium and allocated to each note based on the note conversion stock price discount.

Refer to the table at the end of the section of this note covering notes issued prior to December 2018 for current balance of principal, accrued interest and put premiums.
