Security Description:

1. For common equity, describe any dividend, voting, and preemption rights.

Dividends are declared upon vote of the Board of Directors. However, the Company does not anticipate any dividends in the near future. Each common share is entitled to one vote. The voting rights of the Common shares are affected by the terms of the preferred stock as explained below.

2. For preferred stock, describe the dividend, voting, conversion, and liquidation rights as well as redemption or sinking fund provisions.

The 5,000,000 preferred shares of the corporation contain supervoting provisions. Holders of the Series A Super Voting Preferred Stock shall have One Hundred Thousand (100,000) times that number of votes on all matters submitted to the shareholders that is equal to the number of shares of Common Stock (rounded to the nearest whole number), at the record date for the determination of the shareholders entitled to vote on such matters or, if no such record date is established, at the date such vote is taken or any written consent of such shareholders is affected. A holder of the Series A Super Voting Preferred Stock shall vote together with the holders of Common Stock as a single class upon all matters submitted to the Common Stock shareholders. The holders of Series A

² To be included in the Pink Current Information tier, the transfer agent must be registered under the Exchange Act.

Super Voting Preferred Stock of the Corporation shall not be entitled to receive dividends paid on the Corporation's Common Stock. Upon liquidation, dissolution and winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, the holders of the Series A Super Voting Preferred Stock then outstanding shall not be entitled to receive out of the assets of the Corporation, whether from capital or earnings available for distribution, any amounts which will be otherwise available to and distributed to the Common Stockholders. The shares of Series A Super Voting Preferred Stock will not be convertible into the shares of the Corporation's Common Stock.

3. Describe any other material rights of common or preferred stockholders.

None.

4. Describe any material modification to rights of holders of the company's securities that have occurred over the reporting period covered by this report.

None.

3) Issuance History

The goal of this section is to provide disclosure with respect to each event that resulted in any direct changes to the total shares outstanding of any class of the issuer's securities in the past two completed fiscal years and any subsequent interim period.

Disclosure under this item shall include, in chronological order, all offerings and issuances of securities, including debt convertible into equity securities, whether private or public, and all shares, or any other securities or options to acquire such securities, issued for services. Using the tabular format below, please describe these events.

A. Changes to the Number of Outstanding Shares

Indicate by check mark whether there were any changes to the number of outstanding shares within the past two completed fiscal years and any subsequent periods: No.

B. Promissory and Convertible Notes

Indicate by check mark whether there are any outstanding promissory, convertible notes, convertible debentures, or any other debt instruments that may be converted into a class of the issuer’s equity securities: (X) No, subject to legal ability to convert any debt into securities upon appropriate settlement, contract, or negotiation that has not occurred.

Note: While Beacon Redevelopment Industrial Corp. presently maintains no promissory notes, convertible notes, convertible debentures, or other debt instruments that contain terms providing for issuance of common shares (“conversion terms”), the Company notes that any debt could potentially, upon agreement with the creditor at a future date or judicial decree, be converted into common or preferred shares. Therefore, the absence of any conversion terms does not reflect occurrences that may take place in the future.

Use the space below to provide any additional details, including footnotes to the table above:

4. Issuer’s Business, Products, and Services

A. Summarize the issuer’s business operations.

Beacon Redevelopment Industrial Corp. invests in undervalued, distressed properties that it believes can achieve a return on investment. In addition to acquiring the properties, Beacon attempts to achieve income from the resources that are contained on the property.

B. List any subsidiaries, parent company, or affiliated companies.

- C. Beacon Pennsylvania Holdings Inc. (glass factory)
- D. Sustainable Tourism Inc. (land in West Virginia)
- E. Beacon Energy Corporation (coal rights)

F. Describe the issuers’ principal products or services.

We buy, sell, lease, manage, and maintain properties. We attempt to receive revenue through royalties, leases, sales for profit, and mineral or coal rights

5. Issuer’s Facilities:

Beacon Redevelopment Industrial Corp., through its wholly owned subsidiary, Beacon Pennsylvania, owns the Westmoreland Glass Factory at 2658 Radebaugh Road, Grapeville, PA 15634. The glass factory, having been partially destroyed by fire, is not operational and must be demolished with the bricks recycled.

Beacon Redevelopment Industrial Corp., through its wholly owned subsidiary, Sustainable Tourism Inc., owns in excess of 250 acres of land in West Virginia, subdivided into 7 parcels, located at 2631 Old Field Fork Road, or 2631 County Road 119/31, Linn WV 26384.

Beacon Redevelopment Industrial Corp., through its wholly owned subsidiary, Beacon Energy Corporation, owns in excess of 1,000 acres of coal rights in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania,

6. Officers, Directors, and Control Persons:

7) Legal/Disciplinary History

A. Please identify whether any of the persons or entities listed above have, in the past 10 years, been the subject of:

1. A conviction in a criminal proceeding or named as a defendant in a pending criminal proceeding (excluding traffic violations and other minor offenses);

The apparent and alleged principal of Wahoo Funding Inc., 10% shareholder, Richard Astrom, has been charged by information for tax related offenses wherein the United States Attorney’s Office alleged that he avoided taxes by using corporate entities to hold his personal investments. Case: United States v. Astrom, 5:21-cr-7-Oc-28PRL (M.D. Florida). Apparently, Mr. Astrom waived indictment and entered a guilty plea to these charges. As stated above, neither Wahoo Funding nor Mr. Astrom have been in contact with the issuer and it will not honor any instruction unless the dissolved entity is brought into good standing with the State of Florida.

2. The entry of an order, judgment, or decree, not subsequently reversed, suspended or vacated, by a court of competent jurisdiction that permanently or temporarily enjoined, barred, suspended or otherwise limited such person’s involvement in any type of business, securities, commodities, or banking activities;

None.

3. A finding or judgment by a court of competent jurisdiction (in a civil action), the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Commodity Futures Trading Commission, or a state securities regulator of a violation of federal or state securities or commodities law, which finding or judgment has not been reversed, suspended, or vacated; or

None.

4. The entry of an order by a self-regulatory organization that permanently or temporarily barred, suspended, or otherwise limited such person’s involvement in any type of business or securities activities.

None.

B. Describe briefly any material pending legal proceedings, other than ordinary routine litigation incidental to the business, to which the issuer or any of its subsidiaries is a party or of which any of their property is the subject. Include the name of the court or agency in which the proceedings are pending, the date instituted, the principal parties thereto, a description of the factual basis alleged to underlie the proceeding and the relief sought. Include similar information as to any such proceedings known to be contemplated by governmental authorities.

In 2012, Hempfield Township brought an action against Beacon Pennsylvania Holdings Inc. to demolish the glass factory. This action occurred before its own political committee with no neutral adjudicators. The Township obtained an Order before its own tribunal, consisting of its own representatives, to require the Company to demolish the structure in a manner that would not provide sufficient time for the Company to recycle or reclaim the bricks. Beacon Pennsylvania appealed the Order to the Court of Common Pleas of Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, because of various procedural and factual errors that occurred during the proceeding. Hempfield Township never submitted the record on appeal for the case to move forward. In the event that the record on appeal is ever filed, and the Court does not agree with the contentions of Beacon Pennsylvania Holdings, the development would constitute a material event. Beacon Redevelopment, which intends to resume the recycling project in mid-2022, believes that allowing Beacon Pennsylvania Holdings Inc. to complete the program in a manner that allows for the recycling of the antique bricks on the property will benefit the community and the Company. Beacon Pennsylvania requires the revenue earned from recycling the bricks in order to clean the property. No firm will finance the project if unreasonable time limits are placed on the Company that interfere with the recycling process. Beacon Pennsylvania believes that, through effective communications, disputes can be resolved.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS:

1. The property valuations are based on the purchase price.
2. The valuation of the Old Field Fork Corp. property is based on the purchase of the stock of the Company which included the 250 acres of land in West Virginia. The Company subsequently caused the property to be placed in a wholly owned subsidiary, Sustainable Tourism Inc. New deeds were filed to effectuate this transfer. However, we value the property at its original purchase price.
3. These companies are wholly owned subsidiaries of Beacon Redevelopment Industrial Corp. and we did not purchase the shares, but obtained them during the formation process. For this reason, we do not place a value on the investment itself. This should be read in conjunction with footnote 2 above where we advise that the property in West Virginia is now owned by Sustainable Tourism, Inc.
4. Beacon Redevelopment Industrial Corp. primarily purchases distressed properties with the intent to develop or sell said properties and assets. Therefore, it does not seek to obtain "sales" as a normal company does. Rather, it hopes to achieve profits when it sells, leases, or develops the properties. In the normal course of business, some income is derived from various sources. These are the result of dividends, settlements, royalties, or other sporadic payments.
5. The Company maintains a large number of outstanding loan obligations. To avoid default, the Company negotiated with its lenders and creditors and obtained a moratorium on interest charges until no sooner than June 2024. At that time, the Company committed to renegotiate the interest based on the current prime rate plus a percentage. However, interest is not accruing at this time and will not retroactively accrue. Prior applied interest is contained within the loan amount.
6. GOING CONCERN: The Company's financial statements are prepared using accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America to a going concern, which contemplates the realization of assets and liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business. However, the Company does not have significant cash nor does it have an established source of revenues sufficient to cover its operating costs and to allow it to continue as a going concern. Under the going concern assumption, an entity is ordinarily viewed as continuing in business for the foreseeable future with neither the intention nor the necessity of liquidation, ceasing trading, or seeking protection from creditors pursuant to laws or regulations. Accordingly, the assets and liabilities are recorded on the basis that the entity will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business, which, in reality, may not be able to be achieved. The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent upon its ability to successfully accomplish its business plan and eventually attain profitable operations. The accompanying financial statements do not include any adjustments that may be necessary if the Company is unable to continue as a going concern. During the next year, the Company's foreseeable cash requirements will relate to continual development of the operations of its business, maintaining its good standing and making the requisite filings with OTC Markets, and the payment of expenses associated with software development. The Company may experience a cash shortfall and be required to raise additional capital. Historically, the Company has relied upon internally generated funds and funds from the sale of securities to finance its operations and growth. Management may raise additional capital through future public or private offerings of the Company's stock or through loans from private investors, although there can be no assurance that it will be able to obtain such financing. The Company's failure to do so could have a material and adverse effect upon its and its shareholders.
