Security Description:

The goal of this section is to provide a clear understanding of the material rights and privileges of the securities issued by the company. Please provide the below information for each class of the company's equity securities, as applicable:

1. For common equity, describe any dividend, voting and preemption rights.

CONVERSION RIGHTS. Shares of the Common Stock shall have no conversion rights.

DIVIDENDS. The holders of the Common Stock shall be entitled to receive dividends when, as and if declared by the Board of Directors, in its sole discretion, except that, upon any declaration of a dividend, no more than twenty percent (20%) of the total aggregate value of the dividend may be payable to the holders of the Common Stock.

VOTING RIGHTS. (a) For matters in which Delaware law restricts voting only to those shares of this Common Stock Class, each share of the Common Stock shall have one (1) vote.

(b) For all other matters in which shares of the Common Stock are legally allowed to vote, the voting rights are as follows:

i. If at least one share of the Common Stock is issued and outstanding, then the total aggregate issued shares of the Common Stock at any given time, regardless of their number, shall have voting rights equal to twenty percent (20%) of the voting rights of the entire Corporation.

ii. Each share of the Common Stock which is issued and outstanding shall have the voting rights equal to twenty percent (20%) of the voting rights of the entire Corporation, divided by the number of shares of the Common Stock issued and outstanding at the time of voting.

2. For preferred stock, describe the dividend, voting, conversion, and liquidation rights as well as redemption or sinking fund provisions.

SERIES A PREFERRED STOCK:

CONVERSION RIGHTS. Shares of Series A Preferred Stock shall have no conversion rights.

DIVIDENDS. The holders of Series A Preferred Stock shall be entitled to receive dividends when, as and if declared by the Board of Directors, in its sole discretion, except that, upon any declaration of a dividend, eighty percent (80%) of the total aggregate value of the dividend shall be distributed to the holders of the Series A Preferred Stock, with each holder receiving their respective pro rata share of such amount.

VOTING RIGHTS. (a) For matters in which Delaware law restricts voting only to those shares of this series of Preferred Stock, or only to the shares of the Preferred Stock class as a whole, each share of Series A Preferred Stock shall have one million (1,000,000) votes.

(b) For all other matters in which shares of Series A Preferred Stock are legally allowed to vote, the voting rights are as follows:

i. If at least one share of Series A Preferred Stock is issued and outstanding, then the total aggregate issued shares of Series A Preferred Stock at any given time, regardless of their number, shall have voting rights equal to eighty percent (80%) of the voting rights of the entire Corporation.

ii. Each share of Series A Preferred Stock which is issued and outstanding shall have the voting rights equal to eighty percent (80%) of the voting rights of the entire Corporation, divided by the number of shares of Series A Preferred Stock issued and outstanding at the time of voting.

LIQUIDATION RIGHTS. Upon any liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any distribution or payment shall be made to the holders of any other series or class of stock, eighty percent (80%) of the assets of the Corporation, or liquidated value thereof, which remain after any legally obligated payments are made by the Corporation, shall be distributed to the holders of the Series A Preferred Stock, with each holder receiving their respective pro rata share of such assets, or liquidated value thereof.

SERIES B PREFERRED STOCK:

CONVERSION RIGHTS TO COMMON STOCK. (a) Each share of Series B Preferred Stock may be convertible, at any time by the respective holder, into 200,000 shares of the Corporation's Common Stock, par value $0.00001 per share (the "Common Stock").

(b) Upon any forward or reverse split of the shares of the Common Stock of the Corporation, the conversion rate given in paragraph (a) above shall be increased or decreased in precisely the same proportion (ratio) as the forward or reverse split of the shares of the Common Stock.

For example, a 2:1 (two-shares-for-one-share) forward split of the shares of the Common Stock of the Corporation will result in a 2:1 forward split of the conversion rate given in paragraph (a) above, from 200,000 shares of Common Stock for every 1 share of Series B Preferred Stock, to 400,000 shares of Common Stock for every 1 share of Series B Preferred Stock.

For example, a 1:2 (one-share-for-two-shares) reverse split of the shares of the Common Stock of the Corporation will result in a 1:2 reverse split of the conversion rate given in paragraph (a) above, from 200,000 shares of Common Stock for every 1 share of Series B Preferred Stock, to 100,000 shares of Common Stock for every 1 share of Series B Preferred Stock.

(c) Promptly after the conversion date, the Corporation shall issue and deliver to such holder a certificate or certificates for the number of full shares of Common Stock issuable to the holder pursuant to the holder's conversion of Series B Preferred Shares in accordance with the provisions of this Section. The stock certificate(s) evidencing the Common Stock shall be issued with a restrictive legend indicating that it was issued in a transaction exempt from registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), and that it cannot be transferred unless it is so registered, or an exemption from registration is available, in the opinion of counsel to the Corporation. The Common Stock shall be issued in the same name as the person who is the holder of the Series B Preferred Stock unless, in the opinion of counsel to the Corporation, such transfer can be made in compliance with applicable securities laws. The person in whose name the certificate(s) of Common Stock are so registered shall be treated as a holder of shares of Common Stock of the Corporation on the date the Common Stock certificate(s) are so issued.

(d) All shares of Common Stock delivered upon conversion of the Series B Preferred Shares as provided herein shall be duly and validly issued and fully paid and nonassessable. Effective as of the conversion date, such converted Series B Preferred Shares shall no longer be deemed to be outstanding and all rights of the holder with respect to such shares shall immediately terminate except the right to receive the shares of Common Stock issuable upon such conversion.

(e) The Corporation covenants that, within 30 days of receipt of a conversion notice from any holder of shares of Series B Preferred Stock wherein which such conversion would create more shares of Common Stock than are authorized, the Corporation will increase the authorized number of shares of Common Stock sufficient to satisfy such holder of shares of Series B submitting such conversion notice.

CONVERSION RIGHTS TO SERIES D PREFERRED STOCK. (a) Each share of Series B Preferred Stock may be convertible, at any time until 11:59 p.m. Eastern Time on December 31, 2013, into one (1) share of Series D Preferred Stock. Beginning 12:00 a.m. Eastern Time January 1, 2014, such conversion shall not be available.

(b) For purposes of calculating Common Stock conversion rights for shares of Series D Preferred Stock issued pursuant to this section, and only for such purposes, the investment amount shall be set at $1 per share of Series D Preferred Stock issued.

(c) Each share of Series B Preferred Stock may be converted into either shares of Common Stock, as described in section 2.4, or shares of Series D Preferred Stock as described in this section, but not both.

(d) Effective as of the conversion date, converted Series B Preferred Shares shall no longer be deemed to be outstanding and all rights of the holder with respect to such shares shall immediately terminate except the right to receive the shares of Series D Preferred Stock issuable upon such conversion.

DIVIDENDS. Holders of Series B Preferred Stock shall be entitled to receive dividends when, as and if declared by the Board of Directors, in its sole discretion, except that, upon any declaration of a dividend, no more than twenty percent (20%) of the total aggregate value of the dividend may be payable to the holders of Series B Preferred Stock.

VOTING RIGHTS. (a) For matters in which Delaware law restricts voting only to those shares of this series of Preferred Stock, or only to the shares of the Preferred Stock class as a whole, each share of Series B Preferred Stock shall have one (1) vote.

(b) For all other matters in which shares of Series B Preferred Stock are legally permitted to vote, the shares of Series B Preferred Stock shall have no voting rights.

LIQUIDATION RIGHTS. Upon any liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, after any distribution or payment is made to the holders of the Series A Preferred Stock as described in section 1.6 above, twenty percent (20%) of the assets of the Corporation which remain after any legally obligated payments are made by the Corporation shall be distributed to the holders of the Series B Preferred Stock, with each holder receiving their respective pro rata share of such assets, or liquidated value thereof.

SERIES D PREFERRED STOCK:

CONVERSION. (a) The conversion rights are derived from this principle: Each share of Series D Preferred Stock are to be convertible into the number of shares of the Common Stock that together have a market value of precisely five times (500%) what the investor paid for such single share of Series D Preferred Stock. For example, if an investor paid $1 for one share of Series D Preferred Stock, that investor would receive $5 worth of Common Stock upon conversion.

The exact number of common shares issued as a result of the conversion would depend on the market price of the common stock (as described more precisely in paragraph (b) below) but the total market value of the common shares would always be equal to five times (500%) the amount invested, except that, notwithstanding the foregoing, no more than 50,000 common shares may be issued for each share of Series D Preferred Stock being converted (referred to as the “Maximum Conversion Share Number”).

(b) Based on the principle described in paragraph (a) above, the conversion formula is as follows:

Each share of Series D Preferred Stock shall be convertible, at any time at the sole election of the holder, into the number of shares of the Common Stock that together are equal to 500% of the price paid for that share of Series D Preferred Stock, divided by the Market Price of the Common Stock, as that term is defined in Section 4.5 below, up to a maximum of 50,000 shares of the Common Stock.

For example: Investor XYZ purchased 10 shares of Series D Preferred Stock at a price of $1 per share, and now converts all 10 shares into shares of the Common Stock. For this example, the Market Price of the Common Stock (as defined in Section 4.5 below) at the time of conversion is $0.01 per share.

Investor XYZ may convert the 10 shares of Series D Preferred Stock into the number of shares of Common Stock equal to the price paid for the shares ($1 each, for a total of $10), multiplied by 500%, and then divided by the Market Price of the Common Stock at the time of conversion (which is $0.01 in this example).

$500\% \text{ of } $10 = \50

$$50 \text{ divided by } $0.01 = 5,000$

Therefore, where Investor XYZ purchases 10 shares at $1 per share, and then converts such shares, at which time the Market Price of the Common Stock is $0.01, then the number of shares of the Common Stock which Investor XYZ may receive in exchange for the 10 shares of Series D Preferred Stock, is 5,000 (500 common shares for every 1 share of Series D Preferred Stock).

(c) Promptly, but in no event later than five (5) business days after notification of conversion from the holder, the Corporation shall issue and deliver to such holder a certificate or certificates for the number of full shares of Common Stock issuable to the holder pursuant to the holder's conversion of Series D Preferred Shares in accordance with the provisions of this Section. The stock certificate(s) evidencing the Common Stock shall be issued with a restrictive legend indicating that it was issued in a transaction exempt from registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), and that it cannot be transferred unless it is so registered, or an exemption from registration is available, in the opinion of counsel to the Corporation. The Common Stock shall be issued in the same name as the person who is the holder of the Series D Preferred Stock unless, in the opinion of counsel to the Corporation, such transfer can be made in compliance with applicable securities laws. The person in whose name the certificate(s) of Common Stock are so registered shall be treated as a holder of shares of Common Stock of the Corporation on the date the Common Stock certificate(s) are so issued.

(d) All shares of Common Stock delivered upon conversion of the Series D Preferred Shares as provided herein shall be duly and validly issued and fully paid and nonassessable. Effective as of the date of conversion, such converted Series D Preferred Shares shall no longer be deemed to be outstanding and all rights of the holder with respect to such shares shall immediately terminate except the right to receive the shares of Common Stock issuable upon such conversion.

(e) The Corporation covenants that, within 30 days of receipt of a conversion notice from any holder of shares of Series D Preferred Stock wherein which such conversion would create more shares of Common Stock than are authorized, the Corporation will increase the authorized number of shares of Common Stock sufficient to satisfy such holder of shares of Series D submitting such conversion notice.

(f) Upon any forward or reverse split of the shares of the Common Stock of the Corporation, the Maximum Conversion Share Number as defined in paragraph (a) above shall be increased at a ratio equal to precisely the same ratio as the forward split of the shares of the Common Stock, and decreased at a ratio equal to 10% of the severity of the ratio used in the reverse split of the Common Stock.

For example, a 2:1 (two-shares-for-one-share) forward split of the shares of the Common Stock of the Corporation will result in a 2:1 forward split of the Maximum Conversion Share Number given in paragraph (a) above, increasing the Maximum Conversion Share Number from 50,000 shares of Common Stock for every 1 share of Series D Preferred Stock, to 100,000 shares of Common Stock for every 1 share of Series C Preferred Stock.

For example, a 4:1 (four-shares-for-one-share) forward split of the shares of the Common Stock of the Corporation will result in a 4:1 forward split of the Maximum Conversion Share Number given in paragraph (a) above, increasing the Maximum Conversion Share Number from 50,000 shares of Common Stock for every 1 share of Series D Preferred Stock, to 200,000 shares of Common Stock for every 1 share of Series D Preferred Stock.

For example, a 1:10 (one-share-for-ten-shares) reverse split of the shares of the Common Stock of the Corporation will result in a 1:1 reverse split of the Maximum Conversion Share Number given in paragraph (a) above, resulting in no change to the Maximum Conversion Share Number (the Maximum Conversion Share Number remains 50,000 shares of Common Stock for every 1 share of Series D Preferred Stock).

For example, a 1:100 (one-share-for-one hundred-shares) reverse split of the shares of the Common Stock of the Corporation will result in a 1:10 reverse split of the Maximum Conversion Share Number given in paragraph (a) above, decreasing the Maximum Conversion Share Number from 50,000 shares of Common Stock for every 1 share of Series D Preferred Stock, to 5,000 shares of Common Stock for every 1 share of Series D Preferred Stock.

Except as with respect to the Maximum Conversion Share Number as described above, a forward or reverse split of the Common Stock of the Corporation shall have no impact on the conversion rate or ratio or formula as described in paragraphs (a) and (b) above.

(g) The Market Price of the Common Stock is defined as the average closing market (last trade) price per share of the Common Stock of the Corporation for the five most-recently completed trading sessions.

DIVIDENDS. The holders of Series D Preferred Stock shall be entitled to receive dividends when, as and if declared by the Board of Directors, in its sole discretion, except that, upon any declaration of a dividend, no more than twenty percent (20%) of the total aggregate value of the dividend may be payable to the holders of Series D Preferred Stock.

VOTING RIGHTS. (a) For matters in which Delaware law restricts voting only to those shares of this series of Preferred Stock, or only to the shares of the Preferred Stock class as a whole, each share of Series D Preferred Stock shall have one (1) vote.

(b) For all other matters in which shares of Series D Preferred Stock are legally permitted to vote, the shares of Series D Preferred Stock shall have no voting rights.

LIQUIDATION RIGHTS. Series D Preferred Stock has no liquidation rights.

SERIES E PREFERRED STOCK:

CONVERSION. (a) The conversion rights are derived from this principle: Each share of Series E Preferred Stock are to be convertible into the number of shares of the Common Stock that together have a market value of precisely three times (300%) what the investor paid for such single share of Series E Preferred Stock. For example, if an investor paid $1 for one share of Series E Preferred Stock, that investor would receive $3 worth of Common Stock upon conversion.

The exact number of common shares issued as a result of the conversion would depend on the market price of the common stock (as described more precisely in paragraph (b) below) but the total market value of the common shares would always be equal to three times (300%) the amount invested, except that, notwithstanding the foregoing, no more than 30,000 common shares may be issued for each share of Series E Preferred Stock being converted (referred to as the “Maximum Conversion Share Number”).

(b) Based on the principle described in paragraph (a) above, the conversion formula is as follows:

Each share of Series E Preferred Stock shall be convertible, at any time at the sole election of the holder, into the number of shares of the Common Stock that together are equal to 300% of the price paid for that share of Series

E Preferred Stock, divided by the Market Price of the Common Stock, as that term is defined in Section 5.5 below, up to a maximum of 30,000 shares of the Common Stock.

For example: Investor XYZ purchased 10 shares of Series E Preferred Stock at a price of $1 per share, and now converts all 10 shares into shares of the Common Stock. For this example, the Market Price of the Common Stock (as defined in Section 5.5 below) at the time of conversion is $0.01 per share.

Investor XYZ may convert the 10 shares of Series E Preferred Stock into the number of shares of Common Stock equal to the price paid for the shares ($1 each, for a total of $10), multiplied by 300%, and then divided by the Market Price of the Common Stock at the time of conversion (which is $0.01 in this example).

$300\% \text{ of } $10 = \30

$$30 \text{ divided by } $0.01 = 3,000$

Therefore, where Investor XYZ purchases 10 shares at $1 per share, and then converts such shares, at which time the Market Price of the Common Stock is $0.01, then the number of shares of the Common Stock which Investor XYZ may receive in exchange for the 10 shares of Series E Preferred Stock, is 3,000 (300 common shares for every 1 share of Series E Preferred Stock).

(c) Promptly, but in no event later than five (5) business days after notification of conversion from the holder, the Corporation shall issue and deliver to such holder a certificate or certificates for the number of full shares of Common Stock issuable to the holder pursuant to the holder's conversion of Series E Preferred Shares in accordance with the provisions of this Section. The stock certificate(s) evidencing the Common Stock shall be issued with a restrictive legend indicating that it was issued in a transaction exempt from registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), and that it cannot be transferred unless it is so registered, or an exemption from registration is available, in the opinion of counsel to the Corporation. The Common Stock shall be issued in the same name as the person who is the holder of the Series E Preferred Stock unless, in the opinion of counsel to the Corporation, such transfer can be made in compliance with applicable securities laws. The person in whose name the certificate(s) of Common Stock are so registered shall be treated as a holder of shares of Common Stock of the Corporation on the date the Common Stock certificate(s) are so issued.

(d) All shares of Common Stock delivered upon conversion of the Series E Preferred Shares as provided herein shall be duly and validly issued and fully paid and nonassessable. Effective as of the date of conversion, such converted Series E Preferred Shares shall no longer be deemed to be outstanding and all rights of the holder with respect to such shares shall immediately terminate except the right to receive the shares of Common Stock issuable upon such conversion.

(e) The Corporation covenants that, within 30 days of receipt of a conversion notice from any holder of shares of Series E Preferred Stock wherein which such conversion would create more shares of Common Stock than are authorized, the Corporation will increase the authorized number of shares of Common Stock sufficient to satisfy such holder of shares of Series E submitting such conversion notice.

(f) Upon any forward or reverse split of the shares of the Common Stock of the Corporation, the Maximum Conversion Share Number as defined in paragraph (a) above shall be increased or decreased in precisely the same proportion (ratio) as the forward or reverse split of the shares of the Common Stock.

For example, a 2:1 (two-shares-for-one-share) forward split of the shares of the Common Stock of the Corporation will result in a 2:1 forward split of the Maximum Conversion Share Number given in paragraph (a) above, from 30,000 shares of Common Stock for every 1 share of Series E Preferred Stock, to 60,000 shares of Common Stock for every 1 share of Series E Preferred Stock.

For example, a 1:2 (one-share-for-two-shares) reverse split of the shares of the Common Stock of the Corporation will result in a 1:2 reverse split of the conversion rate given in paragraph (a) above, from 30,000 shares of Common Stock for every 1 share of Series E Preferred Stock, to 15,000 shares of Common Stock for every 1 share of Series E Preferred Stock.

Except as with respect to the Maximum Conversion Share Number as described above, a forward or reverse split of the Common Stock of the Corporation shall have no impact on the conversion rate or ratio or formula as described in paragraphs (a) and (b) above.

(g) The Market Price of the Common Stock is defined as the average closing market (last trade) price per share of the Common Stock of the Corporation for the five most-recently completed trading sessions.

5.4 DIVIDENDS. The holders of Series E Preferred Stock shall be entitled to receive dividends when, as and if declared by the Board of Directors, in its sole discretion, except that, upon any declaration of a dividend, no more than twenty percent (20%) of the total aggregate value of the dividend may be payable to the holders of Series E Preferred Stock.

5.5 VOTING RIGHTS. (a) For matters in which Delaware law restricts voting only to those shares of this series of Preferred Stock, or only to the shares of the Preferred Stock class as a whole, each share of Series E Preferred Stock shall have one (1) vote.

(b) For all other matters in which shares of Series E Preferred Stock are legally permitted to vote, the shares of Series E Preferred Stock shall have no voting rights.

LIQUIDATION RIGHTS. Series D Preferred Stock has no liquidation rights.

3. Describe any other material rights of common or preferred stockholders.

No other rights outside of description above in (1) and (2).

4. Describe any material modifications to rights of holders of the company's securities that have occurred over the reporting period covered by this report.

No modification to rights of holders of the company's securities have occurred over the last year.

3) Issuance History

The goal of this section is to provide disclosure with respect to each event that resulted in any changes to the total shares outstanding of any class of the issuer's securities in the past two completed fiscal years and any subsequent interim period.

Disclosure under this item shall include, in chronological order, all offerings and issuances of securities, including debt convertible into equity securities, whether private or public, and all shares, or any other securities or options to acquire such securities, issued for services. Using the tabular format below, please describe these events.

A. Changes to the Number of Outstanding Shares for the two most recently completed fiscal years and any subsequent period.

Indicate by check mark whether there were any changes to the number of outstanding shares within the past two completed fiscal years:

INTERACT – TV INCORPORATED
NOTES TO UNAUDITED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

DECEMBER 31, 2024

These statements are consolidated with its 100% owned subsidiary and all subsidiaries there under as described above.

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“GAAP”).

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For the purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers all short-term investments with an original maturity of three months or less at the date of purchase to be cash equivalents.

Accounts Receivable and Allowance for Doubtful Accounts

Accounts receivable are the customer’s obligations due under normal trade terms. The Company provides an allowance for doubtful accounts equal to the estimated uncollectible amounts. The Company’s estimate is based on historical collection experience and a review of the status of trade accounts receivable. It is reasonably possible that the Company’s estimate of the allowance for doubtful accounts will change.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost net of accumulated depreciation and amortization. The costs of additions and betterments are capitalized and expenditures for repairs and maintenance are expensed in the period incurred. When items of property and equipment are sold or retired, the related costs and accumulated depreciation are removed from the accounts and any gain or loss is included in operations for the period.

The Company capitalizes leased equipment when the terms of the lease result in the transfer to the Company of substantially all the benefits and risks of ownership of the equipment. Depreciation and amortization of property and equipment are provided utilizing primarily the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the respective assets as follows:

Building and Improvements 39.5 years

Machinery and equipment 3 to 5 years

Furniture and fixtures 5 years Leasehold improvements are amortized over the shorter of the lease term or the estimated useful life of the improvement utilizing the straight-line method. The Company presently has no property plant and equipment.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

The Company reviews the carrying value of long-lived assets to determine if they have been impaired by adverse conditions that may affect the Company, or whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may not be recoverable. As of December 31, 2024, no impairment charges for long-lived assets were deemed necessary.

Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities

The Company recognizes all derivative instruments, if any, as either assets or liabilities in the balance sheet at fair value, which is recorded through earnings. If a derivative is a qualifying hedge, depending on the nature of the hedge, changes in the fair value of the derivative are either offset against the change in fair value of the underlying assets or liabilities through earnings or recognized in accumulated comprehensive income until the underlying hedged item is recognized in earnings. The ineffective portion of a derivative's change in the fair value is to be immediately recognized in earnings.

The Company has in the past entered convertible note contracts to fund the Company's operations. As of December 31, 2024, the Company had no derivative instruments. See footnote three for further discussion on convertible notes.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue is recognized when (i) persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, a signed noncancelable contract (ii) delivery has occurred and the music rights have been transferred to the licensee, who is able to use them, (iii) the fee is fixed or determinable and (iv), collectability of the sale is reasonably assured. All significant duties and obligations owed to the licensee are met.

Advertising Expenses

The Company has expensed all advertising costs as incurred. There were minimal advertising expenses for the year ended December 31, 2024.

Income Taxes

Management has concluded that there are no uncertain tax positions that would require recognition in the financial statements. If the Company were to incur an income tax liability from an uncertain tax position in the future, interest on any income tax liability would be reported as interest expense and penalties on any income tax liability would be reported as income taxes.

Management's conclusions regarding uncertain tax positions may be subject to review and adjusted later based upon ongoing analyses of tax laws, regulations, and interpretations thereof as well as other factors. Generally, federal, state, and local authorities may examine the tax returns for three years from the date of filing and the current and prior three years remain subject to examination as of December 31, 2024.

Deferred taxes represent the tax effects of differences between the financial reporting and tax basis of the Company's assets and liabilities at the enacted tax rates in effect for the years in which the differences are expected to reverse. The Company evaluates the recoverability of deferred tax assets and establishes a valuation allowance when it is more likely than not that some portion or all the deferred tax assets will not be realized. Income tax expense consists of the income tax within the period and the change during the period in deferred tax assets and liabilities.

Total accrued deferred tax assets as of December 31, 2024, was $ 61,140.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The Company utilizes a three-level hierarchy (the "Valuation Hierarchy") for fair value measurements. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The following fair value hierarchy is used in selecting inputs, with the highest priority given to Level 1, as these are the most transparent or reliable:

- Level 1 – inputs to the valuation methodology are quoted prices (unadjusted) for identical assets or liabilities in active markets. The Company has no level 1 assets and liabilities as of December 31, 2024.
- Level 2 – inputs to the valuation methodology include quoted prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets, and inputs that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly, for substantially the full term of the financial instrument. The Company has no level 2 assets and liabilities as of December 31, 2024.
- Level 3 – inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement. The Company has no level 3 assets and liabilities as of December 31, 2024.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Significant estimates include the accounts receivable and inventory allowances and deferred tax valuation allowance. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

NOTE 2 – Revenue

Revenues include monies received by the Company's wholly owned subsidiary Pocket Kid Records for the licensing of albums by bands signed to Pocket Kid Records, as well as the sponsorship of such bands and non-recoupable advances made in support of band tours by various third parties, as well as album sales. The exact terms of these revenue deals are not available for public disclosure beyond the disclosures contained in any disclosure statements we may provide.

NOTE 3 – Convertible Notes Payable

As of December 31, 2024, the Company had five convertible notes outstanding, as follows:

On September 1, 2009, Viscount Records, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of Viscount Media Trust (which in turn is a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company) issued a convertible note in the amount of $150,000 at an interest rate of 8 percent per annum to Viscount Productions Ltd in exchange for a recording artist contract. The contract was subsequently assigned to FMCOCO, Inc. (a related party, see note three below). As of December 31, 2024 the note had an estimated fair value of $475,825 including interest.

On November 25, 2009, the Company issued a convertible note payable to FMCOCO in the amount of $20,000 at an interest rate of 5 percent per annum. As of December 31, 2024, the note had an estimated fair value of $6,694 including interest.

On February 11, 2010, the Company issued a convertible note payable to FMCOCO in the amount of $60,000 at an interest rate of 8 percent per annum. As of December 31, 2024, the note had an estimated fair value of $141,688 including interest. ($16,000 of this note was converted into 1,600,000,000 shares of common stock – see Note 5.)

On April 1, 2010, the Company issued a convertible note payable to FMCOCO in the amount of $20,000 at an interest rate of 5 percent per annum. As of December 31, 2024, the note had an estimated fair value of $39,598 including interest.

On February 28, 2012, the Company issued a convertible note payable to FMCOCO (the fifth convertible note held by FMCOCO) in the amount of $60,000 at an interest rate of 8 percent per annum. As of December 31, 2024, the note has an estimated fair value of $151,090 including interest.

All convertible notes have a conversion rate equal to one share of common stock of the Company in exchange for every $0.00001 of the total value of the note, including any accrued interest at the time of conversion.

NOTE 4 - Commitments and Contingencies

Legal Matters

The Company, including all its subsidiaries, is not aware of, nor involved or engaged in any pending, threatened, or current legal proceedings.

NOTE 5 – Issuance of Shares

Common

In April 2014, 868,750,000 shares of common stock were issued because of a conversion from 34,750 shares of Preferred Series B stock. See our Statement of Changes in Stockholders' Equity.

Also, in April 2014, 1,600,000,000 shares of common stock were issued because of a conversion of $16,000 worth of the value of a convertible note held by FMCOCO, Inc., thus reducing the value of such convertible note from approximately $83,559 to $67,559. Accrued interest has subsequently raised the value of this note to $ 109,479 as of December 31, 2024.

Preferred

In April 2014, 2,000 shares of Preferred Series D were sold for $2,000 cash to a nonaffiliate in an isolated transaction.

NOTE 6 – Share-Based Compensation

The Company accounts for stock-based compensation pursuant to ASC 718, "Share-Based Payment," which requires measurement of compensation cost for all stock awards at fair value on the date of grant and recognition of compensation, net of estimated forfeitures, over the requisite service period for awards expected to vest.

NOTE 7 – New Accounting Pronouncements

In determining the transaction price, an entity may include variable consideration only to the extent that it is probable that a significant reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognized would not occur when the uncertainty associated with the variable consideration is resolved. Revenues from contracts with customers are comprised of consulting fees and mutual fund and private placement commissions. Management has determined that the adoption of ASC Topic 606 has had no impact on the Company.

NOTE 8 – U.S. Small Business Administration Loan (SBA Loan)

Interact-TV, Inc. obtained an SBA Loan for a total of $ 89,600 in July of 2021 with an interest rate of 3.75% per annum. The first installment repayment date is due 12 months after receipt of these funds monthly (360 payments) and the term is for 30 years. The company follows the terms of the loan. The current outstanding balance of the loan is $87,683. A short-term extension for the initial repayment installments has been granted.

Scheduled payment to repay the loan commenced in the first Quarter of 2023.

NOTE 9 – Subsequent Events
