4) Issuer's Business, Products and Services

The purpose of this section is to provide a clear description of the issuer's current operations. Ensure that these descriptions are updated on the Company's Profile on www.OTCMarkets.com.

A. Summarize the issuer's business operations (If the issuer does not have current operations, state "no operations")

Tanke Biosciences Corp (OTC: TNBI) is a diversified company focused on identifying emerging, growth stage businesses, which have achieved verifiable market validation, proof of concept, and/or customer adoption of their platform solution(s) as evidenced by sustainable, recurring revenue traction; in order to provide them with the experienced operational resources/support and capital infusion in order to scale operations to drive managed, profitable growth and drive shareholder value in their respective market areas.

The current business operations is an change in direction for Tanke Biosciences, which was previously limited to energy monitoring business, based upon as part of an initiative to redefine the Company's core strategic direction, and then build the core products, services, tools, systems and infrastructure in support of that new company mission statement. The initiative was driven by the Brand Craft Holdings team which delivered their recommendations for a revised business strategy and approach which was approved by both the Tanke Biosciences management and Board in the fourth quarter of 2024, for implementation in 2025, which will include exiting the energy monitoring business.

The recommendations entailed pivoting the Company into a diversified company structure focused on participating in early stage companies that are leading edge in their respective, addressable markets. As such, the management, Brand Craft Holdings and the Board of the Company are implementing a structure which enables identifying and supporting entities that are leading edge in their respective market niches, and that have expectations of enhancing shareholder values through scalable and sustainable revenue growth and enhanced profitability. Our support will include both organizational expertise and capital infusion, focused on the design, implementation and execution of scalable, efficient and effective operating infrastructures with swift going to market motions to drive revenue and profits. In addition, it included divesting the current energy monitoring operations, as that was no longer a fit or focus for the company.

The Brand Craft Holdings team initiated the implementation of the new strategy and approach in Q1 2025, initially identifying the management team with industry, functional and regulatory experts who will begin identifying target portfolio companies..

To drive the implementation of our strategy, in Q1 2025, TNBI engaged Vincent Renz as its new Chief Executive Officer and appointed him to our Board of Directors. Mr. Renz brings over 30 years of leadership experience at C-Suite level, having served as CTO of eResearch Technology, CEO/COO of NewCardio, Inc, COO of Clinphone, Sr. Vice President, Client Services of Computron Software. Mr. Renz has served most recently as the President and Founder of Straight4ward Advisory Services – a boutique professional services company. He is experienced with driving significant value creation for shareholders and delivering on both turnaround and growth strategies.

Additionally in Q1 2025, TNBI appointed John Hopkins as Executive Chairman of our Board of Directors. Mr. Hopkins brings a wealth of executive leadership experience across finance, strategic planning, and corporate transformation. He began his career as an audit manager at Coopers & Lybrand (now PwC) before transitioning to Arco Chemical Company, where he played a key role in re-engineering the organization through various controller, planning, and treasury positions until its acquisition. He then served as Vice President, Controller, and Head of Finance at Cambrex Corp, a life sciences company based in New Jersey. Mr. Hopkins's first CFO appointment was at Measurement Specialties, a leading designer of sensors and sensor-based consumer products. Joining during a critical SEC investigation, he successfully led the financial restructuring efforts, returning the company to profitability.

Further, an initial management advisory team, which will deliver extensive leadership, managerial, operational and technical experience across multiple industries (i.e. healthcare, life sciences, government, financial services, enterprise software, manufacturing, distribution, consumer products, medical devices, consulting services, etc.) and functional areas (i.e. sales, marketing, customer success, program management, product development/management, information technology, quality/regulatory systems, partnerships, channel management, etc.), has been identified and engaged. With these additions, the combination of TNBI's current management, Board of Directors and Brand Craft team bring decades of proven leadership expertise across multiple industry verticals and have successfully driven tangible growth in organizations with a relentless focus on operational excellence.

The advisory team also initiated their due diligence review and analysis of the potential opportunities, which included three SaaS technology platforms; a mobile first employee engagement and development platform focused on an underserved market - front line workers, an AI enabled platform which supports the hiring of veterans and their families to best leverage the skills and experiences gained while serving in the military, and a healthcare wearable solution to support remote/virtual care and monitoring for at risk pregnancies. At this time, we are actively engaged in discussions for defining potential operational support and capital infusion to drive their next stage of revenue and profitability growth. If and when we enter binding letters of intent or definitive agreements with any of these potential opportunities, we will publicly announce those milestones.

To summarize our business strategy and approach, TNBI as a diversified company committed to identifying and investing in companies, in strategic and complementary vertical industries, with business models that have achieved "proof of concept" with their technology platforms and revenue streams. Our team of seasoned-operating managers will partner with the existing management to deliver cost efficient, high quality and scalable operations.

The current business operations is an change in direction for Tanke Biosciences, which was previously limited to energy monitoring business, based upon as part of an initiative to redefine the Company’s core strategic direction, and then build the core products, services, tools, systems and infrastructure in support of that new company mission statement. The initiative was driven by the Brand Craft Holdings team which delivered their recommendations for a revised business structure and approach which was approved by both the Tanke Biosciences management and Board in the fourth quarter of 2024, for implementation in 2025.

To implement the new business strategy and supporting operations, TNBI brought on a new management team in Q1, including Vincent Renz, as CEO, and John Hopkins, as Executive Chairman. As part of the implementation, the company has identified their initial management advisory team, which will deliver extensive leadership, managerial, operational and technical experience across multiple industries (i.e. healthcare, life sciences, government, financial services, enterprise software, manufacturing, distribution, consumer products, medical devices, consulting services, etc.) and functional areas (i.e. sales, marketing, customer success, program management, product development/management, information technology, quality/regulatory systems, partnerships, channel management, etc.).

In addition, the advisory team also initiated their due diligence review and analysis of the potential investment opportunities, identifying emerging, growth-stage businesses that have achieved verifiable market validation, proof of concept and/or customer adoption along with a path to recurring revenue traction. Our team seeks to provide target businesses improvement in shareholder value with operating efficiency and position them for strategic capital.

As part of this change in business operations, the decision to exit the current energy monitoring business was finalized and approved, to be completed in 2025.

To summarize our business strategy and approach, TNBI as a diversified company committed to identifying and investing in companies, in strategic and complementary vertical industries, with business models that have achieved “proof of concept” with their technology platforms and revenue streams. Our team of seasoned-operating managers will partner with the existing management to deliver cost efficient, high quality and scalable operations.

NOTE 2 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation

The Company’s unaudited financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America (“U.S. GAAP”), and pursuant to the rules and regulations of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”) and reflect all adjustments, consisting of normal recurring adjustments, which management believes are necessary to fairly present the financial position, results of operations and cash flows of the Company as of and for the nine month period ended September 30, 2025.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid investments with a maturity of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents. There were no cash equivalents as of September 30, 2025, and September 30, 2024.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The FASB issued ASC 820-10, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures, for financial assets and liabilities. ASC 820-10 provides a framework for measuring fair value and requires expanded disclosures regarding fair value measurements. ASC 820-10 defines fair value as the price that would be received for an asset or the exit price that would be paid to transfer a liability in the principal or most advantageous market in an orderly transaction between market participants on the measurement date. ASC 820-10 also establishes a fair value hierarchy which requires an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs, where available. The following summarizes the three levels of inputs required by the standard that the Company uses to measure fair value:

- Level 1: Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- Level 2: Observable inputs other than Level 1 prices, such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities; quoted prices in markets that are not active, or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data for substantially the full term of the related assets or liabilities.
- Level 3: Unobservable inputs that are supported by little or no market activity and that are significant to the fair value of the assets or liabilities.

| | Fair Value on September 30, 2025 | (Level 1) | (Level 2) | (Level 3) |
|------------------------|-------------------------------------|-----------|-----------|-----------|
| Derivative liabilities | $ — | $ — | $ — | $ — |

| | Fair Value on September 30, 2024 | (Level 1) | (Level 2) | (Level 3) |
|------------------------|-------------------------------------|-----------|-----------|-----------|

Earnings Per Share

Under ASC 260 “Earnings Per Share,” the Company presents basic and diluted earnings (loss) per-share (“EPS”) amounts on the face of the statements of operations. Basic EPS is computed by dividing income (loss) available to common stockholders (the numerator) by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding (the denominator) during the period. Shares issued during the period and shares reacquired during the period are weighted for the portion of the period that they were outstanding. The computation of diluted EPS is similar to the computation of basic EPS except that the denominator is increased to include the number of additional common shares that would have been outstanding if the dilutive potential common shares had been issued. As of September 30, 2025, there are 3,294,000 potentially dilutive shares of common stock from convertible notes payable. Potentially diluted shares are not presented when the effect of the computations is anti-dilutive due to the losses incurred. Accordingly, there is no difference in the amounts presented for basic and diluted loss per share.

NOTE 3 – GOING CONCERN

The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern, which contemplates the realization of assets and the liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business. The Company has an accumulated deficit of $13,257,092 as of September 30, 2025. The Company cannot be certain that it will be successful in implementing its strategy and business plan even with the required funding.

These factors, among others, raise substantial doubt about the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern. The accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.
