NOTE 2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation

The summary of significant accounting policies is presented to assist in the understanding of the financial statements. These policies conform to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“GAAP”) and have been consistently applied.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with United States generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. The Company’s financial statements reflect all adjustments that management believes are necessary for the fair presentation of their financial condition and results of operations for the periods presented.

Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue in accordance with ASC 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers. Revenue is recognized in an amount that reflects the consideration the Company expects to be entitled to in exchange for transferring promised goods to customers.

Revenue is generally recognized at a point in time when control of the goods has been transferred to the customer, which occurs upon delivery to the customer’s designated carrier at the Company’s warehouse. At this point, title and risk of loss pass to the customer.

The transaction price includes federal excise taxes, which the Company is responsible for remitting to the appropriate governmental authorities. These amounts are included in revenue in accordance with industry practice and applicable accounting guidance.

Cost of Sales

Cost of sales includes all of the costs and expenses directly related to the production of goods and services included in revenues.

Advertising and Promotional Costs

Advertising and promotional expenses are expensed as incurred. For the six months ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, the Company incurred advertising and promotional expenses of $47,260 and $18,799, respectively. These amounts include costs related to media advertising, product sampling, sponsorships, and trade show participation.

Stock-Based Compensation

The cost of equity instruments issued to employees and non-employees in return for goods and services is measured by the grant date fair value of the equity instruments issued in accordance with ASC 718, Compensation – Stock Compensation. The related expense is recognized as services are rendered or vesting periods elapse.

The Company accounts for stock-based compensation in accordance with ASC 718, Compensation – Stock Compensation, for awards to employees and ASC 505-50, Equity-Based Payments to Non-Employees, for awards to service providers and vendors.

From time to time, the Company has issued shares of its common stock to employees in lieu of cash compensation. The fair value of these equity awards is measured on the grant date and recognized as compensation expense over the service period, which is typically the period the services are rendered.

The Company has also issued stock to non-employees in exchange for goods and services. The fair value of such awards is measured on the date the goods or services are received and is recognized as an expense in the corresponding functional category (e.g., general and administrative, sales and marketing).

For the six months ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, the Company recognized total stock-based compensation expense of $71,800 and $5,087, respectively.

The Company maintains a stock option and award incentive plan, which became effective on March 23, 2023, and will remain in effect until March 23, 2043, unless terminated earlier by the Company's board of directors. The purpose of the Plan is to attract and retain employees, consultants, and directors and to align their compensation with the long-term growth of shareholder value.

The Plan provides for the issuance of up to 25,000,000 shares of common stock through Incentive Stock Options (ISOs), Non-Qualified Stock Options (NSOs), and other equity awards including purchase rights. Awards may be granted to employees, consultants, and directors of the Company and its affiliates, with ISOs limited to employees only. Shares that expire, are forfeited, or are repurchased may be reissued under the Plan.

As of December 31, 2025, no stock options or other awards have been granted under the Plan.

Related Party Transactions

A related party is generally defined as (i) any person that holds 10% or more of our membership interests including such person's immediate families, (ii) our management, (iii) someone that directly or indirectly controls, is controlled by or is under common control with us, or (iv) anyone who can significantly influence our financial and operating decisions. A transaction is considered to be a related party transaction when there is a transfer of resources or obligations between related parties. In the current period there were no related party transactions.

The Company's CEO, Mark Newman, facilitated invoicing for certain sales through his company, Accolade Brands, which held state liquor licenses that the Company did not yet possess. Accolade Brands charged a nominal fee of $0.75 per case for this service. This arrangement is being phased out as the Company obtains its own state licenses, including those in Florida, New York, and Texas.

Income Taxes

The Company accounts for income taxes using the asset and liability method in accordance with ASC 740, Income Taxes. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the expected future tax consequences of temporary differences between the financial reporting and tax bases of assets and liabilities. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using tax rates expected to apply in the periods in which those temporary differences are expected to be realized or settled, based on enacted tax laws.

Deferred tax assets are recognized only to the extent that it is more likely than not that the assets will be realized. In making this determination, management considers all available positive and negative evidence, including projected future taxable income and recent financial results. A valuation allowance is recorded when it is not more likely than not that deferred tax assets will be realized.

The Company accounts for uncertain tax positions using a “more-likely-than-not” threshold for recognition and derecognition. Interest and penalties related to income tax matters are recorded as a component of selling, general and administrative expenses.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all investments with a maturity date of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents. The Company had cash balances of $25,686 and $263,906 as of December 31, 2025 and June 30, 2025, respectively.

Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable represents the Company’s unconditional right to receive consideration arising from the transfer of goods to customers and are recorded at the invoiced amount, net of an allowance for doubtful accounts. The Company maintains an allowance for doubtful accounts based on customer-specific factors, historical collection experience, and current economic conditions. As of December 31, 2025 and June 30, 2025, the Company recorded an allowance for doubtful accounts of $20,000, which management believes is adequate to cover estimated credit losses.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost or fair value if acquired as part of a business combination. Depreciation is computed by the straight-line method and is charged to operations over the estimated useful lives of the assets. Maintenance and repairs are charged to expense as incurred. The carrying amount of accumulated depreciation of assets sold or retired are removed from the accounts in the year of disposal and any resulting gain or loss is included in results of operations. The estimated useful lives of property and equipment are furniture and fixtures - 7 years, and computers and office equipment - 3 years.

Intangible Assets

Intangible assets acquired in asset acquisitions are recorded at their estimated fair values as of the acquisition date. Finite-lived intangible assets are amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives, which range from 3 to 15 years. Indefinite-lived intangible assets, such as certain trademarks and trade names, are not amortized but are tested annually for impairment, or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that the asset might be impaired.

Leases

We determine if an arrangement is a lease at inception. Operating leases are included in operating lease right-of-use (“ROU”) as assets, operating lease non-current liabilities, and operating lease current liabilities in our balance sheet. Finance leases are property and equipment, other current liabilities, and other non-current liabilities in the balance sheet.

ROU assets represent the right to use an asset for the lease term and lease liability represent the obligation to make lease payment arising from the lease. Operating lease ROU assets and liabilities are recognized at the commencement date based on the present value of lease payments over lease term. As most of the leases don’t provide an implicit rate, we generally use the incremental borrowing rate on the estimated rate of interest for collateralized borrowing over a similar term of the lease payments at commencement date. The operating ROU asset also includes any lease payments made and exclude lease incentives. Lease expense for lease payment is recognized on a straight-line basis over lease term.

Financial Instruments and Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Our primary financial instruments at December 31, 2025 and June 30, 2025 consisted of cash equivalents, accounts receivable, accounts payable and debt. We apply fair value measurement accounting to either record or disclose the value of our financial assets and liabilities in our financial statements. Fair value is defined as the exchange price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability (an exit price) in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability in an orderly transaction between market participants on the measurement date. A fair value hierarchy requires an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs, where available, and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value.

Described below are the three levels of inputs that may be used to measure fair value:

Level 1 Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 Observable inputs other than Level 1 prices, such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities; quoted prices in markets that are not active; or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data for substantially the full term of the assets or liabilities.

Level 3 Unobservable inputs that are supported by little or no market activity and that are significant to the fair value of the assets or liabilities.

Recently Issued Financial Accounting Standards

The Company has implemented all applicable accounting pronouncements that are in effect. These pronouncements did not have any material impact on the financial statements unless otherwise disclosed, and the Company does not believe that there are any other new accounting pronouncements that have been issued that might have a material impact on its financial position or results of operations.

NOTE 3. GOING CONCERN

The Company had losses of $786,597 and $1,054,746 for the six months ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively. As of December 31, 2025, the Company had a shareholders' deficit of $7,942,762. These conditions raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern for one year from the date of issuance of these financial statements.

Management's Plans

In response to these conditions, Management has implemented a strategic plan to increase revenues and achieve profitability within 12 months. Key components of this plan include:

- Strategic Acquisition: The Company is in advanced stages of a material asset acquisition involving a high-volume spirits brand and related inventory. Management expects the revenue generated from this brand to exceed the Company's current total aggregate brand revenue, providing a significant path to cash-flow positive operations.
- Capitalization: Subsequent to December 31, 2025, the Company successfully secured $1.5 million in new investment capital. These funds are being deployed to finalize the pending acquisition and provide the necessary working capital to scale marketing and sales efforts for the new brand.
- Operational Efficiency: The Company has formed specialized subsidiaries to isolate acquisition risks and has engaged strategic operational partners to streamline production and bottling processes.

While the Company has been successful in raising capital and entering into these strategic agreements, the successful execution of the management plan is subject to the closing of the pending acquisition and the attainment of projected sales targets. The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern, which contemplates continuity of operations, the realization of assets, and the satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.
