4) Issuer's Business, Products and Services

The purpose of this section is to provide a clear description of the issuer's current operations. (Ensure that these descriptions are updated on the Company's Profile on www.otcm Markets.com).

A. Summarize the issuer's business operations (If the issuer does not have current operations, state "no operations")

Background

Software Effective Solutions Corp is a Louisiana corporation originally incorporated in 1999. On October 25, 2021, our company acquired MedCana, Inc., a Nevada corporation, pursuant to an agreement and plan of exchange. MedCana, Inc. (Nevada) owns assets in Nevada, and also in the country of Colombia. The Nevada assets are computer software and hardware, and also databases and web servers hosted in the United States. The Colombian assets are 5 businesses; each business owns 3 Colombian (federally issued) territorial-based licenses that permit cultivation and food/pharmaceutical processing of cannabis, for a total of 15 licenses. The licenses are legal permits that have monetary value. The value is based on two criteria: 1) the actual cost of owning the license (and also based on the purchase price of the licenses itself), and 2) the license grants the usage of land specified within the contract license, which is worth of the future farm yields (crop yields) that have a market value at the time of harvesting and reselling the crop.

TOKAN Corporation sold its software and hardware assets and Intellectual Property assets to the Company for 63,000,000 shares of common stock of the Company. The agreement was made on August 15, 2021. This constitutes approximately 63% of the total issued and outstanding common shares. The software and hardware, and Intellectual Property assets are the most important assets for the Company because it will persist and be constantly upgraded to the most modern technology, and compete with other software/hardware systems.

MedCana, Inc.'s Colombian assets, which shall be used to supplement the Company's software, include 5 businesses, located in the country of Colombia. Each of these 5 businesses hold (own) 3 Colombian (federally issued) territorial-based licenses that permit cultivation and food/pharmaceutical processing of cannabis. The total number of licenses is 15 (fifteen) altogether.

The licenses are legal permits that have monetary value. The value is based on two criteria: 1) the actual cost of owning the license (and also based on the purchase price of the licenses itself), and 2) the license grants the usage of land specified within the contract license, which is worth of the future farm yields (crop yields) that have a market value at the time of harvesting and reselling the crop. Medcana also owns a 60% stake in Eko2o S.A.S, a company that sells and services agricultural technology solutions, irrigation systems, sensors and monitoring systems, and green houses.

The Company expects that it will develop the software/hardware/Intellectual Property for its own private use at first, so that it can test the robustness of the software. After thorough testing and software upgrades, it will aspire to add unique features that will make it enticing for other cannabis vendors to use the software, and so we aim to sell them the software/hardware.

Product Offerings

1. Sell companies or individuals the software and hardware as a package, contained in a Virtual Machine, so that they can host it onto their own servers. The Company will send a Virtual Machine file, which is compatible with the most popular Virtual Machine engines - Docker, Amazon Web Servers Containers, VMWare, or Virtual Box
2. Alternatively, we can offer a 24/7 online subscription model, which requires us to give them an APP, such as an application that interfaces with our main servers, as a client/server model. It is also known as a SaaS (software as a service), which means that we will give them a subscription based model of paying for the usage of our software. Integration will be seamless to them, but more complex for the Company to perform because the Company would have to anticipate all of the permutations that a typical cannabis dispensary company, pharmaceutical company, cannabis reseller, would need in order for it to be useful for them.

The sales are anticipated to be segmented into 2 business verticals: 1) software/hardware/intellectual property, and 2) physical sale of crop yields to local and international buyers. Because the software/hardware requires a ramp up period versus the physical farming is simpler, the first product anticipated to provide sales is #2, which is the Cannabis plant material. For the longevity of revenues, we expect it to pivot to #1, which is the software/hardware SaaS offering.

Our original business plan is Content Management Systems, CMS. And we are not deviating from this business plan. We are still aiming to be a software/hardware/IP company, and our extra land assets in Colombia aim to give us revenue, which we will send its profits to the farming and to the American software/hardware.

The subscriber-based product offerings brought forth are Software as a Service (SaaS) subscription models (recurring revenue model). Specifically, the Company has identified the need for reliable Inventory Tracking Services for the growing Marijuana Dispensary and Cannabis Derivative sector. The reason for choosing the Marijuana Dispensary and Cannabis Derivative Inventory Tracking System is because: A) There are numerous public companies that are selling these products and may need the expertise of tracking their items. B) Having clients that are publicly traded adds legitimacy and has advantageous marketing aspects. And C) We have a good working knowledge of how and where the hosting servers are domiciled, in order to abide by all regulations set forth upon the industry, so that the Company can help these marijuana start-up businesses be compliant.

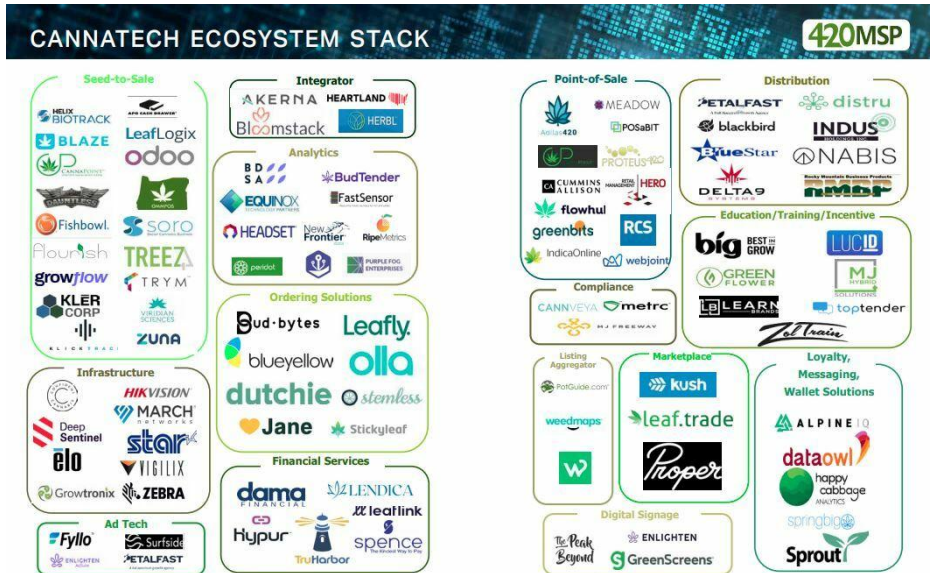

The Company has programming expertise and knowledge to execute and code the software lifecycle and relevant use-cases, to make a viable SaaS platform for vendors of Cannabis, growers of Cannabis, and related hardware vendors, in order to track their products. (This is known in the industry as Seed to Store tracking). The Company has chosen Amazon.com's AWS hosting to be the prime hosting vendor for this project because it has geographical load balancing and can abide by the appropriate jurisdictions that then legally serve its content to our clients.

The Business Plan, and Software Plan

Software / Hardware / IP Offering.

The Software/Hardware/IP constitutes about 60% of the Company's focus. Upon clinical research, the cannabis industry is fragmented due to various software that vendors use, and a lack of integration. This is analogous to how accounting software companies in the 1990's aimed to be the leader, and then they all distilled down via takeovers and buyouts, to only 3 big vendors in the early 2010's - Simply Accounting, Quickbooks, and Sage.

The figure below shows how fragmented the cannabis software industry is currently. We anticipate that it will be reduced to 3 leaders.

Our Software Offering is Unique:

We provide Cannabis/CBD seed to delivery software in the USA, Canada and Internationally. Our software provides, tracking, logistics, compliance, and payment processing. We employ software engineers in the USA and Canada this is our primary business. We look to have farming operations outside the USA and Canada. Our goal is to offer end to end customer software, logistics and product supply.

Our business goals for the software are:

- Make English language software. And brand our software to be the “cutting edge” and most user friendly cannabis software in the world.
- Make money from our Colombian assets to expand our software offerings: Expand quickly to become one of the largest, if not the largest, diversified growth, certified processing, and exporting operation in Colombia.
- Create unique patentable products (or even farming processes if we come across a reproducible technique) through our research and development actions.
- Create a recognizable brand that is synonymous to good quality and good reputation.
- Create globally certified pharmaceutical grade extracts, if we are able to make connections with pharmacologists and laboratories.
- Use our own software and advertise how well our software is.

The Colombian assets will help us grow our software offering. We have a solid physical asset, and there are limitations on its yield. However, if those profits are reinvested into software, the Return on Investment (ROI) and EPS will be much higher if we stay the course of maintaining as a software company.

Plan for Our Colombian Assets

Our Assets in Colombia aim to provide profit which will go into the software/hardware offering.

The Company, via its MedCana, Inc. acquisition, secured five businesses with three licenses each. Business #1 intends to administrate all of the shipping and movement of product for Businesses #2, #3,#4, and #5. Business #2 intends to produce with THC, Business #3 intends to produce products without THC; Business #4 is to process cannabis, and Business #5 is to sell the products. total of 15 licenses. The companies are located in the city of Marinilla in Colombia.

The licenses granted/issued by Colombia allow for various activities, which include general handling of cannabis, growing of the plant, and processing of the crop year, ergo why 3 licenses are required for each business.

The five businesses are named and have been registered in the country of Colombia. They are named:

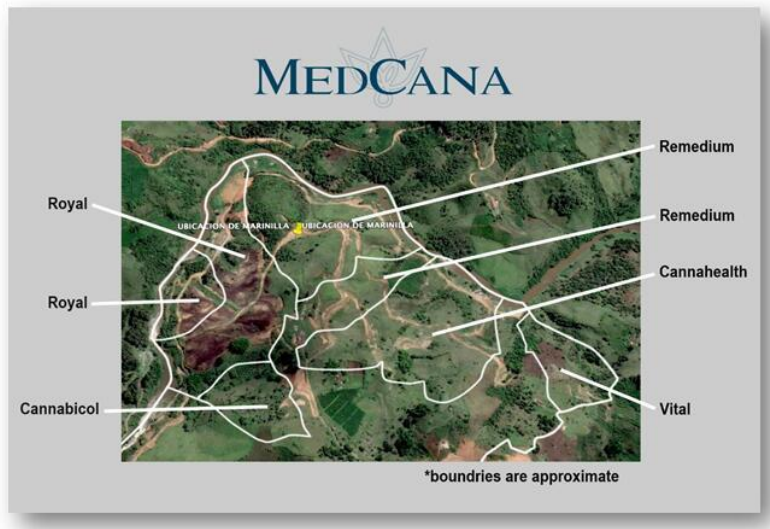

1. REMEDIUM S.A.S, ROYAL
2. CANNABIS DE COLOMBIA S.A.S
3. CANNEHEALTH BUSINESS S.A.S

SOFTWARE EFFECTIVE SOLUTIONS CORP.
NOTES TO THE UNAUDITED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 2025

NOTE 1 – ORGANIZATION AND NATURE OF BUSINESS

Software Effective Solutions Corp. (the “Company”) was incorporated under the laws of the State of Louisiana in June 1997. The Company changed its name to Software Effective Solutions Corp. in November 2006.

October 25, 2021, the Company acquired all the equity of MedCana, Inc., a Nevada corporation pursuant to an agreement and plan of exchange, making MedCana a 100% owned subsidiary.

Effective January 4, 2022, Maximum Ventures, LLC, a Company controlled by Xu A Tang, former Director, sold their 2,000,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock to Gabriel Diaz (510,000 shares), Julie Hale (510,000 shares), and Tamian S.A.S. (980,000 shares). The sale of the Series A Preferred Stock effective a change of control of the Company.

NOTE 2 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“U.S. GAAP”) as found in the Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) and the Accounting Standards Update (“ASU”) of the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) and are expressed in US Dollars. Significant accounting policies applicable to the Company are summarized as follows:

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period.

Principles of Consolidation

The unaudited consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly owned subsidiary, MedCana, Inc. All significant intercompany transactions and balances have been eliminated in consolidation.

Concentrations of Credit Risk

We maintain our cash in bank deposit accounts, the balances of which at times may exceed federally insured limits. We continually monitor our banking relationships and consequently have not experienced any losses in our accounts. We believe we are not exposed to any significant credit risk on cash.

Allowance for Credit Losses

The Company estimates its allowance for credit losses using the Current Expected Credit Loss (CECL) model under ASC 326. The CECL model requires recognition of expected credit losses over the contractual life of financial assets as of the reporting date, taking into account the nature of the debt, industry expectations, current conditions, and reasonable and supportable forecasts.

Financial assets subject to CECL include trade receivables. The Company groups its financial assets based on shared risk characteristics and evaluates them collectively. The allowance is measured using a combination of historical activity, industry expectations, adjusted for current economic trends, and forward-looking factors such as industry outlook and macroeconomic indicators (e.g., unemployment rate, GDP).

Under CECL, the carrying amount of a financial asset (net of the allowance for credit losses) represents the amount the Company expects to collect. This means that when the CECL estimate is appropriately recorded, the net reported balance of financial assets reflects management’s best estimate of collectible cash flows, based on available and supportable information.

Management reviews the adequacy of the allowance at each reporting period and updates estimates as appropriate. Changes in estimates are recorded in the income statement as a component of credit loss expense.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The fair value is the exit price that would be received upon the sale of an asset, or the amount required to transfer a liability, in an orderly transaction between market participants. As such, the fair value of a financial instrument is a market-based measurement determined using the assumptions market participants would use to price an asset or liability.

A three-tier fair value hierarchy is established as a basis for considering such assumptions and for inputs used in the valuation methodologies in measuring fair value:

- Level 1: Observable inputs that reflect quoted prices (unadjusted) for identical assets or liabilities in active markets.
- Level 2: Observable inputs that reflect quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in markets that are not active; quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets; inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the assets or liabilities; or inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means.
- Level 3: Unobservable inputs reflecting our own assumptions incorporated in valuation techniques used to determine fair value. These assumptions must be consistent with market participants' assumptions that are reasonably available.

On December 31, 2025, there are no instruments requiring fair value hierarchy disclosure. The carrying amount of the Company's financial assets and liabilities, such as cash, other assets, accounts payable, and accrued expenses approximate their fair value because of the short maturity of those instruments.

Intangible Assets

The Company accounts for its intangible assets in accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") Subtopic 350-30, General Intangibles Other Than Goodwill. ASC Subtopic 350-30, which requires assets to be measured based on the fair value of the consideration given or the fair value of the assets (or net assets) acquired, whichever is more clearly evident and, thus, more reliably measurable. Under ASC Subtopic 350-30 any intangible asset with a useful life is required to be amortized over that life and the useful life is to be evaluated every reporting period to determine whether events or circumstances warrant a revision to the remaining period of amortization. If the estimate of useful life is changed the remaining carrying amount of the intangible asset is amortized prospectively over the revised remaining useful life. Costs to renew or extend the term of an intangible asset are recognized as an expense when incurred.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

The Company periodically reviews the carrying value of its long-lived assets held and used at least annually or when events and circumstances warrant such a review. If significant events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value of an asset or asset group may not be recoverable, the Company performs a test of recoverability by comparing the carrying value of the asset or asset group to its undiscounted expected future cash flows. Cash flow projections are sometimes based on a group of assets, rather than a single asset. If cash flows cannot be separately and independently identified for a single asset, the Company determines whether impairment has occurred for the group of assets for which it can identify the projected cash flows. If the carrying values are in excess of undiscounted expected future cash flows, it measures any impairment by comparing the fair value of the asset group to its carrying value. If the fair value of an asset or asset group is determined to be less than the carrying amount of the asset or asset group, impairment in the amount of the difference is recorded.

Property and Equipment

Fixed assets are carried cost less accumulated depreciation. All fixed assets with a cost of $2,000 or greater are capitalized. Depreciation of property and equipment is calculated using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets, which range from three to five years. Leasehold improvements are amortized over the lesser of the remaining term of the lease or the estimated useful life of the asset. Major betterments that extend the useful lives of assets are also capitalized. Normal maintenance and repairs are charged to expense as incurred. When assets are sold or otherwise disposed of, the cost and accumulated depreciation are removed from the accounts and any resulting gain or loss is recognized in operations.

Basic and Diluted Earnings Per Share

Under ASC 260 "Earnings Per Share," the Company presents basic and diluted earnings (loss) per share ("EPS") amounts on the face of the statements of operations. Basic EPS is computed by dividing income (loss) available to common stockholders (the numerator) by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding (the denominator) during the period. Shares issued and acquired during the period are weighted by the portion of the period during which they were outstanding. The computation of diluted EPS is similar to that of basic EPS except that the denominator is increased to include the number of additional common shares that would have been outstanding if the dilutive potential common shares had been issued. Diluted amounts are not presented when the effect of the computations is anti-dilutive due to the losses incurred. Accordingly, there is no difference in the amounts presented for basic and diluted loss per share.

Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue under ASC 606, “Revenue from Contracts with Customers,” and in accordance with ASC 326, “Financial Instruments-Credit Losses”. The core principle of the new revenue standard is that a company should recognize revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the company expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. The following five steps are applied to achieve that core principle:

Step 1: Identify the contract with the customer.

Step 2: Identify the performance obligations in the contract.

Step 3: Determine the transaction price.

Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract.

Step 5: Recognize revenue when the Company satisfies a performance obligation.

There is no determinable variable consideration, significant financing component, non-cash consideration, or consideration payable to customers.

Operating Segments

Operating segments are defined as components of an entity for which discrete financial information is available and regularly reviewed by the Chief Operating Decision Maker (“CODM”) or decision-maker group in deciding how to allocate resources to an individual segment and in assessing performance. Our chief operating decision-making group is composed of the Chief Executive Officer. The Company has one operating segment generating revenue as of December 31, 2025, and 2024.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In December 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-09, Income Taxes (Topic 740): Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures, which enhances the disclosure requirements for income taxes, including additional disaggregation of rate reconciliation and income taxes paid. NOTE 3 – GOING CONCERN

The accompanying unaudited financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern, which contemplates the continuity of operations, realization of assets, and liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business. As reflected in the accompanying unaudited financial statements, the Company has not established a source of revenue to cover its operating costs and has continued losses. These factors among others raise substantial doubt about the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern.

While the Company is attempting to commence operations and generate revenues, the Company’s cash position may not be significant enough to support the Company’s daily operations. Management intends to raise additional funds by way of a public or private offering. Management believes that the actions presently being taken to further implement its business plan and generate revenues provide the opportunity for the Company to continue as a going concern. While the Company believes in the viability of its strategy to generate revenues and in its ability to raise additional funds, there can be no assurances to that effect. The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent upon the Company’s ability to further implement its business plan and generate revenues. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might be necessary if the Company is unable to continue as a going concern.
