Item 9: The nature of products or services offered.

In responding to this item, please describe the following:

1. Principal products or services, and their markets:

The issuer's services enable clients to place articles on consignment for sale by means of Internet-based auctions. In addition, the company makes volume purchases of products at wholesale prices for resale and expects to develop proprietary products for sale in the future. The Orbit Drop process is as follows:

a. The client brings an item to Orbit Drop for potential sale. If the item is worth $50 or more, weighs less than 150 pounds, and is deemed suitable for sale on eBay, the item is accepted and a receipt issued to the client.

b. Orbit Drop takes photos of the item, creates a professional eBay ad, and uploads the ad to eBay.

c. During the eBay auction, Orbit Drop monitors the process and answers all telephone and mail inquiries. If the item does not sell during the first auction, it will be listed free of charge for a second auction. If the item does not sell during the second auction, the client is notified to come and pick up the item for no additional cost.

d. When the item sells, Orbit Drop secures the funds from the successful bidder, packages the items securely, and sends it to the buyer.

e. When the buyer is satisfied with the item, Orbit Drop deducts its fee from the sales proceeds and sends a check for the balance to the client.

Orbit Drop provides franchisees with the following:

- a. Assistance with site selection.
- b. Design and layout of store.
- c. An Operations Manual and listing of equipment and specifications for business operations.
- d. Training on all aspects of store operations.
- e. Artwork and design of all collateral material including signs and brochures.
- f. Software allowing for efficient listing of items on eBay as well as keeping track of customers and customer payments.
- g. Ongoing support in all aspects of the operations.

2. Distribution methods of the products or services:

The Company currently distributes its services through its two company-owned stores and through franchisees.

3. Status of any publicly announced new product or service:

Not applicable.

4. Competitive business conditions, the issuer's competitive position in the industry, and methods of competition:

OBDP has designed and developed a method of building and operating stores which provide consignment services for Internet-based auctions. The Orbit Drop stores have distinctive formats, methods, procedures, designs, layouts, standards and specifications, all of which the company may improve, further develop and otherwise modify from time to time.

The market segments in which the company competes are rapidly evolving and can be competitive.

Many of Orbit Drop's current and potential competitors have longer operating histories, larger customer bases, greater brand recognition and significantly greater financial, marketing and other resources than we have. They may be able to secure merchandise from vendors on more favorable terms, may be able to operate with a lower cost structure, and may be able to adopt more aggressive pricing policies.

5. Sources and availability of raw materials and the names of principal suppliers:

At this time Orbit Drop depends on advertising and word-of-mouth referrals to obtain customers.

6. Dependence on one or a few major customers:

Orbit Drop is not dependent on one major customer for the survival of the company as it targets the mass market of individuals desiring to sell personal property and looks forward to the future business that is to be provided.

7. Patents, trademarks, licenses, franchises, concessions, royalty agreements or labor contracts, including their duration; and

Not applicable.

8. The need for any government approval of principal products or services. Discuss the status of any requested government approvals:

The company conducts the daily business under the guidelines of the State of Texas. The company, at this time does not need and has not requested government approval of the products and services provided by OBDP.

Item 10: The nature and extent of the issuer's facilities:

In responding to this item, please give the location of the principal plants and other property of the issuer and describe the condition of the properties. If the issuer does not have complete ownership of the property (for example, if others also own the property or if there is a mortgage on the property), describe the limitations on the ownership.

The issuer currently has executive offices in Dallas, Texas, where it has a three year rental agreements on a 1,500 square foot retail space for all locations. The issuer presently has plans to open an additional company-owned store in Newport Beach, California. Each Company store is between 1,000 to 2,000 square feet, employs an average of four employees, and is expected to have an average volume of $50,000 per month.

Item 11: The name of the chief executive officer, members of the board of directors, as well as counsel, accountant and public relations consultant:

In responding to this item, please provide the full names, business addresses, employment histories, board memberships, other affiliations, and number of securities (and of which class) beneficially owned by each such person, which information must be no older than the end of the most recent fiscal year, for the issuer's:

Re: Tradability of Orbit Drop, Inc. Stock – Symbol: OBDP

Dear Madam/Sir:

This letter refers to the issuance by Orbit Drop, Inc., a Texas corporation (the "Company"), of an aggregate of 10,051,464 shares (the "Shares") of its free trading common stock, par value $.0001 per share, to the persons identified on Schedules A and B attached hereto.

Orbit Drop, Inc. ("OBDP") has requested that I provide you with an opinion as to the applicability of selected provisions of federal securities laws to the issuance and subsequent transferability and tradability of the Shares. This letter is written in response to that request. Pink Sheets, LLC is entitled to rely on the opening and expressed herein in determining whether to permit quotations in the Company's securities in the Pink Sheets quotation venue.

In connection with the opinions expressed in this letter, I have examined originals or copies identified to my satisfaction as true copies of originals of documents I have deemed necessary in rendering this opinion, including but not limited to the following documents:

- (a) Articles of Incorporation of the Company, as filed with the Secretary of State of the state of Texas on May 26, 2004, as Vanquish Productions, Inc.;
- (b) Articles of Merger changing the name of the corporation from Vanquish Productions, Inc. to Orbit Drop, Inc. on December 23, 2004;

Exhibit "A"

Tradability Opinion Letter from Counsel, Page 2

- (c) Minutes of meetings of the corporation and its directors referencing approval of a Rule 504 stock offering, a private placement of the Company's common stock, and a four for one forward split of the Company's issued and outstanding common shares.
- (d) Bylaws of the Company dated June 3, 2004; and
- (e) Original stock subscription agreements, transferred ledgers, certified shareholders lists from Holladay Stock Transfer Corp., the Company's transfer agent, and stock certificates.

I have assumed that none of the documents listed above has been modified or superseded.

The opinions expressed below are subject to the qualifications and assumptions set forth in paragraphs 1 through 10 below and to any matters not disclosed to me. Paragraphs 1 through 10 are based and relied upon the accuracy of information represented by the Company. In making those assumptions, I have not undertaken any independent examination of the facts upon which the assumptions are based.

1. At no time has the Company registered its shares under the provisions of Section 12 of the Securities Act of 1934 (the "Act"), nor has the Company registered any offering of its securities under the provisions of the Act.
2. Based upon the analysis of the shareholders' ownership and intentions, I am limited to considering the availability of the "safe harbors" set out in Rule 504 and Rule 144.
3. At no time has the Company been an "investment company" within the meaning of the federal securities laws.
4. The Company at all times subsequent to the issuance of its common stock has been in good standing as a corporation under the laws of the state of Texas.
5. The Shares were validly issued, are fully paid, and are nonassessable.
6. None of the Shareholders he is or has been the owner of a sufficient number of shares such that he should be considered a control person of the company.
7. None of the Shareholders is or has been within the past 90 days an "affiliate" of the Company within the meaning of Rule 144(a)(1).
8. None of the Shareholders is an officer or director of the Company, or party to any manner of contract with the Company that would suggest a controlled relationship and shall not be considered an

- underwriter with respect to the shares within the meaning of Section 2(11) of the Act.
9. Neither of the corporate shareholders in Schedule A is under control of either the Company or any of its officers and directors; each Shareholder in Schedule B is a natural person, none of whom appears to be under control of either the Company or any of its officers and directors.
 10. The Company is, and that all relevant times has been, aware (i) that compliance with Rule 504 and/or Rule 144 of the Act does not constitute compliance with anti-fraud provisions of state or federal securities laws in connection with the sale of these securities, (ii) that I have not reviewed, or acted as counsel to the Company in connection with, such disclosure, and (iii) that I have not determined, or issued any opinion with respect to, the residency of any person listed on Schedules A or B or determined, or been asked to determine applicability regarding the sale of the Shares of the laws of any jurisdiction other than the United States and the state of Texas.

Based and relying on the foregoing (without independent investigation) and limited in all respects to the laws of the US, it is my opinion that under the provisions of Rule 504 and Rule 144, the Shareholders in Schedules A and B may avail themselves of the "safe harbors" provided by Rule's Final Four and 144 respectively, such that (a) the sales of the Shares by them are exempt from the registration requirements of the Act under those rules, and (b) certificates may be issued without a restrictive legend appended. The opinion expressed above is subject to the following assumptions, exceptions, and qualifications:

- A. I have assumed that (i) all information contained in all documents reviewed by me is true and correct, (ii) all signatures on all documents reviewed by me are genuine, (iii) all documents submitted to me as originals are true and complete, (iv) all documents submitted to me as copies are true and complete copies of the originals thereof, and (v) each natural person signing any document reviewed by me had the legal capacity to do so.
- B. I have made no independent investigation as to the accuracy or completeness of any of the factual matters contained in the records, documents, and certificates that I have reviewed in connection with the foregoing opinion.
- C. Certificates representing the Shares (i) are not required by the Act or any regulation under the Act to bear or a legend that these securities have not been registered under the Act, and (ii) are not required by the Act or any regulation under the Act to bear or a legend that the securities cannot be resold unless they are registered under the Act or unless an exemption from registration is available.

- D. Based upon the Company information posted with the Pink Sheets News Service, there is currently adequate current public information concerning the Company within the meaning of Rule 144(c)(2) of the Act.
- E. I have assumed and have relied upon the information and documentation provided by the Company and am of the opinion that (i) the Company is not a "registrant" within the meaning of such term under Rule 405 of the Act, and (ii) the Company is not and would not be considered a "shell company" within the meaning of Rule 405 under the act.

I am licensed in the state of California and my opinion expressed in this letter is based exclusively upon the laws of the United States and the state of Texas. I have not been asked to express and do not express, any opinion under the laws of any other jurisdiction. I am permitted to practice before the SEC and at no time have I been prohibited from practicing before the SEC.

I have reviewed the letter by Mr. Richard K. Wulff, Chief, Office of Small Business, Securities and Exchange Commission, dated January 21, 2000, and have considered the manner in which the shares were issued to the shareholders and such shareholders' intentions to sell the shares through quotations in the Pink Sheets trading venue, and based on such review in light of the facts concerning such issuances and proposed sales, I am of the opinion that (i) none of the scenarios described in such letters (or similar letters) are being use by the issuer of the shares, any promoter of the issuer, the current holders of the shares, or any affiliate of any of them, to distribute the shares in violation of the registration requirements of the Act, and (ii) any sales of such shares as intended would not be part of a plan by any of such persons to distribute or redistribute securities to the public in violation of the registration requirements of the Act, although in technical compliance with the rules providing exemptions from such registration requirements.

This opinion letter is delivered solely for the use and benefit of the Company and can only be relied upon by Pink Sheets, LLC for posting with the Pink Sheets News Service for viewing by the public and regulators.

Very truly yours,

/s/ kmc

Kenneth M. Christison
