The formation of Lunar Records Fund #1- The first tokenized music catalog

The Founding executive management team of Lunar Records, including Dallas Santana and Roxanne Green, has decades of collective years of experience working with the top major television and cable networks and music and movie Studios, which include Walt Disney, ABC, Hulu, Netflix, CBS, NBC, Viacom, Universal Music, Paramount, and Warner Bros.

The team is also led by highly experienced block chain/crypto currency founders and outside advisors like Momentum Media Fund who have over seen and advised dozens of ventures in cryptocurrency, especially in the media sectors.

The digitized Lunar Records archive includes material from 20th century icons Elvis Presley, Marvin Gaye, Santana, Jimi Hendrix, Chuck Berry, Sly & the Family Stone, Bob Marley, Janis Joplin, The Who and many more, as well as photos of everything from Woodstock to album art (naturally, a photo of Pink Floyd's The Dark Side of the Moon is included) in a glass, nickel and Nano Fiche structure built to last millions of, if not a billion, years.

How Tokenization Works

Tokenization of RWA (Real World Assets) means inscribing assets onto blockchain/crypto currency networks. Lunar Records is the first music catalog in history to inscribe royalty assets and royalty rights onto Bitcoin Runes and Ethereum.

Now, stakeholders can get transparent, real-time reporting and payouts from one of the rarest and most valuable music catalogs in history
