Please provide the above-referenced information for all other publicly quoted or traded securities of the issuer.

Other classes of authorized or outstanding equity securities that do not have a trading symbol:

The goal of this section is to provide a clear understanding of the share information for its other classes of authorized or outstanding equity securities (e.g., preferred shares that do not have a trading symbol). Use the fields below to provide the information, as applicable, for all other authorized or outstanding equity securities.

Exact title and class of the security:	Preferred Stock
Par or stated value:	$0.001
Total shares authorized:	20,000,000 as of date: 3/31/26
Total shares outstanding:	1,000,000 as of date: 3/31/26
Total number of shareholders of record:	1 as of date: 3/31/26

Please provide the above-referenced information for all other classes of authorized or outstanding equity securities.

Security Description:

The goal of this section is to provide a clear understanding of the material rights and privileges of the securities issued by the company. Please provide the below information for each class of the company's equity securities, as applicable:

1. For common equity, describe any dividend, voting and preemption rights.

Each share of issued and outstanding common stock shall entitle the holder thereof to participate in shareholder meetings, to cast one vote on each matter with respect to which shareholders have the right to vote, and to share ratably in all dividends and other distributions declared and paid with respect to the common stock, as well as the net assets of the corporation upon liquidation and dissolutions.

2. For preferred stock, describe the dividend, voting, conversion, and liquidation rights as well as redemption or sinking fund provisions.

Preferred J Class Stock

Designation. The share shall be designated as Preferred J Class Stock with one authorized share (the "Preferred J Share").

Voting Rights. The Preferred J Share shall possess eighty percent (80%) of the total voting power of all shares of the Company, voting together with the common stock as a single class, except as required by law.

Issuance Restriction. The Preferred J Share shall be issued exclusively to Jake P. Noch or entities under his control or affiliated with him (the "Noch Affiliates"). Any attempt to transfer the Preferred J Share without the prior written consent of the Noch Affiliates shall be void.

Purpose. The Preferred J Share shall serve to enable the custodian to implement necessary restructuring, regulatory, compliance, and strategic actions without undue delay or cost, for the benefit of the Corporation and its shareholders.

3. Describe any other material rights of common or preferred stockholders.

See above.

4. Describe any material modifications to rights of holders of the company's securities that have occurred over the reporting period covered by this report.

During the prior fiscal year, pursuant to a Certificate of Amendment filed on August 27, 2025, and in connection with the court-authorized custodianship of Jake P. Noch, the Company cancelled and eliminated from its authorized capital stock all previously existing classes of preferred shares, including all Series A and Series B shares, whether issued or unissued. Concurrently, the Company created a new single class of preferred stock designated as "Preferred J Class Stock," consisting of one (1) authorized and issued share, with the terms described above. The cancellation of the Series A Preferred (1,000,000 shares) is also reflected in the Issuance History table above, with an effective date of September 16, 2025.

3) Issuance History

The goal of this section is to provide disclosure with respect to each event that resulted in any changes to the total shares outstanding of any class of the issuer's securities in the past two completed fiscal years and any subsequent interim period.

Disclosure under this item shall include, in chronological order, all offerings and issuances of securities, including debt convertible into equity securities, whether private or public, and all shares, or any other securities or options to acquire such securities, issued for services. Using the tabular format below, please describe these events.

A. Changes to the Number of Outstanding Shares for the two most recently completed fiscal years and any subsequent period.

Indicate by check mark whether there were any changes to the number of outstanding shares within the past two completed fiscal years:

Total Outstanding Balance:		25,584,395		Total Shares:	4,000,000,000

Any additional material details, including footnotes to the table are below:

The Alaska Pacific Energy Corp. Section 3(a)(10) arrangement provides for annual, recurring dollar-denominated obligations and profit entitlements for each party, with new allocation amounts added each year as follows: Jake P. Noch Family Office, LLC receives $6,000,000 annually plus uncapped reimbursement for all reasonable expenses advanced, Rodrigo Di Federico receives $2,500,000 annually, and Paul Ring receives $2,000,000 annually. Each year, these amounts are re-added to the outstanding balance, so any unpaid balance from prior years continues to accrue—there is no interest, and any amount not realized from sale proceeds simply stays outstanding and rolls forward.

Annual Recurring Compensation Structure

- For Jake P. Noch Family Office, LLC:
  - A $6,000,000 salary amount is added to the 3(a)(10) balance every year, to be satisfied exclusively through cash proceeds from market sale of unrestricted shares.
  - All externally advanced expenses (expenditures is paid on behalf of Alaska Pacific Energy Corp., commissions, custody, legal, etc.) are reimbursed separately and additionally each year via the same mechanism, not capped by the salary allocation.
  - 50% of future net profits, in perpetuity, are due as earned (with additional shares issued if necessary for payment).
- For Rodrigo Di Federico:
  - $2,500,000 annual compensation is added to the 3(a)(10) balance each year, only satisfied by proceeds from court-approved share sales; the unpaid balance rolls forward if not realized.
  - 10% of all future net profits, in perpetuity, payable on an annual recurring basis.
- For Paul Ring:
  - $2,000,000 annual compensation is added each year, with the balance rolling forward until paid by market sales; additional shares may be issued if needed to satisfy annual and accrued amounts.
  - 5% of future net profits, in perpetuity, accruing annually.
  - Subsequent Event — Paul Ring Resignation: On April 7, 2026, subsequent to the close of the reporting period, Paul Ring resigned from the Board of Directors of the Company, effective April 7, 2026. In connection with his resignation, Mr. Ring terminated in their entirety all compensation arrangements between himself and the Company, including any compensation, equity issuances, or rights pursuant to or associated with his 3(a)(10) compensation package. Mr. Ring further agreed that any shares of the Company's common stock issued to him pursuant to or in connection with such 3(a)(10) transactions are cancelled and returned to the Company for cancellation and retirement. From and after April 7, 2026, Mr. Ring has no further rights to receive any compensation, securities, or other consideration from the Company.

- Note: Paul Ring resigned from the Board of Directors effective April 7, 2026, subsequent to the close of the reporting period. See Item 7(B) for additional details.

Outstanding Balance Management

- Each party's annual entitlement and any current unpaid balance continue uninterrupted; satisfaction occurs only by actual dollar proceeds realized from market sales, not by a fixed number of shares or conversion price.
- If the yearly amount is not fully realized, it simply stays outstanding and is added to the new year's total.
- There is no interest mechanism—balances remain until paid out through sale proceeds, with future annual allocations continuing to build on top.

Legal and Judicial Framework

- All payment mechanisms are structured as "living instruments," applicable for all past, current, and future years without the need for further court hearings, ensuring perpetual enforceability of both recurring annual salary/reimbursement and future profit percentages.
- No restriction exists regarding the tranches or timing of issuances, and shares issued are unrestricted and freely tradable due to the Section 3(a)(10) exemption—with all outstanding, recurring amounts clarified in the Court's final orders and legal opinion.

In summary, each year, the amounts specified ($6M, $2.5M, and $2M, plus uncapped reimbursement and profit shares) are added as new obligations to be satisfied only by actual proceeds from the sale of unrestricted Section 3(a)(10) shares, with unpaid balances carrying forward indefinitely until realized.

4) Issuer's Business, Products and Services

The purpose of this section is to provide a clear description of the issuer's current operations. Ensure that these descriptions are updated on the Company's Profile on www.OTCMarkets.com.

Notes to the Financial Statements

Note 1 — Organization, Basis of Presentation, and Use of Estimates

Alaska Pacific Energy Corp. (the “Company”) was re-established in good standing during the period presented and, other than compliance and administrative activities related to reinstatement, had no business operations during the reporting period. The accompanying [unaudited] financial statements have been prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (“U.S. GAAP”) for [interim/annual] financial information. Certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in annual financial statements have been condensed or omitted. In the opinion of management, all normal recurring adjustments considered necessary for a fair presentation have been included. Results for an interim period are not necessarily indicative of results for a full fiscal year.

Preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the balance-sheet date and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Amounts are stated in U.S. dollars.

Note 2 — Obligations (“Prior Period Liabilities”)

As of the balance-sheet date, the Company is carrying $1,953,838.35 of “Prior Period Liabilities.” These amounts consist of loans and convertible notes, together with associated accrued interest, originating from historical financial records last submitted in 2018 while under prior management. Documentation for certain instruments—such as original agreements, amendments, stated interest rates, maturities, and conversion features—remains incomplete or pending retrieval.

Management has elected to continue recognizing these obligations until such time as they can be researched and resolved. The balances have been recorded based on the Company’s historical filings and available records and are subject to adjustment if additional information is obtained. No adjustments have been recorded for potential settlements, extinguishments, waivers, or statute-of-limitations impacts, as such outcomes are not presently determinable.

Classification. In the absence of definitive settlement terms or extended maturities, these obligations are presented within current liabilities as “Prior Period Liabilities” (inclusive of principal and accrued interest) on the accompanying balance sheet. Upon completion of management’s review, amounts may be reclassified among notes payable, convertible notes payable (current or noncurrent), and accrued interest, as appropriate.

Accounting considerations. When complete supporting documentation is obtained, management will evaluate whether any embedded conversion features require bifurcation and separate accounting as derivative liabilities under ASC 815 and whether any debt discounts or premiums should be recognized and amortized under ASC 470. Any resulting adjustments will be recorded in the period the information becomes available.

Convertible Notes Payable:

As of the reporting date, the Company has outstanding convertible notes payable to the following holders. These notes are associated with the Company’s 3(a)(10) agreement and represent significant financial obligations, subject to conversion or settlement through court-approved share issuances under Section 3(a)(10) of the Securities Act of 1933 (see Note 5 and Note 6):

- Jake P. Noch: $18,084,395
- Rodrigo Di Federico: $7,500,000

Each convertible note is subject to specific terms governing conversion, repayment, and settlement through the issuance of Company stock. The Jake P. Noch note forms the basis for the Company’s recent 3(a)(10) settlement and custodial share arrangement described in Note 5 (“Subsequent Events”) and Note 6 (“Legal Proceedings”). The Company’s obligations under these notes may result in substantial future dilution of the Company’s equity, depending on the terms of conversion or court-approved settlement. Management continues to evaluate the financial statement impact of these obligations in accordance with U.S. GAAP.

Note 3 — Change in Control and Nature of Operations

On November 25, 2024, current management legally assumed operational control of the Company. During the period covered by these financial statements, the Company did not generate revenues and did not conduct operating business activities other than actions required to restore the Company’s good standing and reporting readiness. Management is in the process of resuming business operations and evaluating strategic alternatives for the Company’s future operating plan.

Note 4 — Going Concern

The financial statements have been prepared on a going-concern basis, which contemplates the realization of assets and the satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business. The Company has not resumed revenue-generating operations, has limited cash resources, and carries significant legacy obligations recorded as "Prior Period Liabilities." These conditions raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date the financial statements are issued/available to be issued, as defined by ASC 205-40.

Management's plans to address these conditions include (i) re-establishing operations, (ii) pursuing financing and/or strategic transactions, and (iii) researching, negotiating, or otherwise resolving legacy obligations. There can be no assurance that these plans will be successful. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

Note 5 — Legal Proceedings and Court-Ordered Changes in Control

5.1 Default Judgment and Corporate Custody Proceedings

On May 14, 2024, Jake P. Noch Family Office LLC ("JPNFO"), a company organized in St. Kitts & Nevis and a significant shareholder of the Company, commenced legal proceedings against Alaska Pacific Energy Corp. in the County Court for the Twentieth Judicial Circuit in and for Collier County, Florida, Case No. 11-2024-CA-0010100-001XX.

The lawsuit was initiated after JPNFO, as a shareholder owning over 25 million shares, requested corporate records from the Company to address the Company's non-compliance with annual and quarterly reporting requirements as a publicly traded company. The Company failed to respond to JPNFO's written requests for corporate records.

Court Proceedings and Default: The Company was officially served on May 30, 2024, with a response due by June 12, 2024, under Florida Rule of Civil Procedure 1.140(a)(1). The Company failed to file an Answer or otherwise respond to the Complaint within the prescribed timeframe.

On November 25, 2024, JPNFO filed an Amended Motion for Final Default Judgment requesting extensive relief including: appointment of JPNFO as Chairman, CEO, and court-appointed custodian of the Company; authority to restructure operations; modification of share classes; creation of a new "Preferred J Class" with 80% voting control; and compensation arrangements through Section 3(a)(10) exempt share issuances.

On December 10, 2024, the Court entered an Order Granting Plaintiff's Motion for Final Default Judgment and ordered that "The Court shall schedule a fairness hearing under the 3(a)(10) exemption accordingly".

5.2 Potential Impact on Corporate Governance and Capital Structure

The court proceedings may result in significant changes to the Company's governance structure, management control, and equity composition. The requested relief includes:

- Management Changes: Appointment of new executive officers and board members
- Share Class Modifications: Creation of preferred share classes with enhanced voting rights
- Compensation Arrangements: Issuance of shares under Section 3(a)(10) exemption for executive compensation potentially totaling millions of dollars annually
- Corporate Custodianship: Court-appointed custodial arrangements with broad operational authority

5.3 Accounting and Financial Statement Implications

As of the balance sheet date, the outcome of these proceedings was not determinable. Depending on the final court orders following the fairness hearing:

- Contingent Liabilities: The Company may become obligated to issue significant numbers of shares for compensation arrangements, which could result in substantial dilution to existing shareholders
- Change in Control: A change in control may trigger reassessment of the Company's going concern status, valuation assumptions, and debt arrangements
- 3(a)(10) Issuances: Future share issuances under court-approved Section 3(a)(10) exemptions will be recorded at fair value when issued, with no registration costs required

The Company cannot presently estimate the financial impact of these proceedings. Any resulting changes in control, share issuances, or operational restructuring will be accounted for in accordance with applicable U.S. GAAP standards when the court's final determinations are made and implemented.

Note 6 --- Subsequent Events

6.1 Management's research of legacy obligations is ongoing; adjustments, if any, will be recorded in the period in which additional information is obtained and conclusions are reached.

6.2 3(a)(10) Settlement and Custodial Shares

On [approval date], following a court-approved fairness hearing related to the legal proceedings described in Note 6, ASKE (the "Company") entered into a settlement exempt from registration under Section 3(a)(10) of the Securities Act of 1933. On [issuance date], the Company issued 2,000,000,000 shares of common stock, par value [par value] per share, to Jake P. Noch Family Office LLC to be held in a custodial account for future sale. Proceeds from any sales will be applied to the outstanding balance of the related convertible note in accordance with the agreement; the Company will not receive sale proceeds. This occurred as a subsequent event to the reporting period ended September 30, 2025 and is included in the Subsequent Events section; it is a non-recognized subsequent event under ASC 855 and did not affect the Company's balance sheet or statement of changes in stockholders' equity as presented. Future sales by Jake P. Noch Family Office, LLC may result in significant dilution.

6.3 Court Proceedings - See Note 6 for complete details regarding legal proceedings that may materially impact the Company's future operations and capital structure.

These footnote additions ensure GAAP compliance by providing adequate disclosure of contingent liabilities, legal proceedings, and potential changes in control, while meeting OTC Markets requirements for transparency regarding material legal matters that could affect shareholders and operation

6.4 Management's research of legacy obligations is ongoing; adjustments, if any, will be recorded in the period in which additional information is obtained and conclusions are reached.

6.5 3(a)(10) Settlement and Custodial Shares

On December 10, 2024, following a court-approved fairness hearing, ASKE (the "Company") entered into a settlement exempt from registration under Section 3(a)(10) of the Securities Act of 1933. On October 9, 2025, the Company issued 2,000,000,000 shares of common stock, par value $0.0001 per share, to Jake P. Noch Family Office LLC to be held in a custodial account for future sale. Proceeds from any sales will be applied to the outstanding balance of the related convertible note in accordance with the agreement; the Company will not receive sale proceeds. This occurred as a subsequent event to the reporting period ended September 30, 2025 and is included in the Subsequent Events section; it is a non-recognized subsequent event under ASC 855 and did not affect the Company's balance sheet or statement of changes in stockholders' equity as presented. Future sales by the Jake P. Noch Family Office, LLC may result in significant dilution.

6.6 Paul Ring has separated from the Company. As a result of his departure, compensation previously covered under the 3(a)(10) agreement has been terminated, and any remaining obligation related to such compensation has been forfeited.
