BlaqClouds Inc.

Notes to the Financial Statements
For the Three Months Ended March 31, 2026.

Note 1 - Organization and Operations

Nature of Business and Continuance of Operations

BlaqClouds Inc. (the “Company”) was incorporated in the State of Nevada in July 2019. We are a real estate holding company with a focus on international real estate acquisition, development and sales.

These financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which assumes the Company will continue to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business. The continuation of the Company as a going concern is dependent upon the continued financial support from its shareholders, the ability of the Company to obtain necessary equity financing to continue operations, and the attainment of profitable operations. As of December 31, 2025, the Company has settled and or cancelled all of the outstanding debt and has begun to generate revenue from its blockchain development operations.

Note 2 - Significant and Critical Accounting Policies and Practices

(a). Basis of Presentation

These financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States and are expressed in US dollars. The Company’s fiscal year end is December 31.

(b). Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with United States generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. The Company regularly evaluates estimates and assumptions related to stock-based compensation and deferred income tax asset valuation allowances.

The Company bases its estimates and assumptions on current facts, historical experience, and various other factors that it believes to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities and the accrual of costs and expenses that are not readily apparent from other sources.

The actual results experienced by the Company may differ materially and adversely from the Company's estimates. To the extent there are material differences between the estimates and the actual results, future results of operations will be affected.

As of December 31, 2025, the company entered into a long-term funding agreement with several family offices in Utah, New York, Connecticut, California and Florida. The group is comprised of only accredited investors. This long-term funding agreement allows the borrower to draw down 10% of the face value of a basket of ZEUS Chain, Apollo Chain tokens at a rate of LIBOR +3. This basket is currently held in escrow and as of December 31, 2025 the Company has not draw down from this long-term funding agreement, as the company is completing development of several corporate initiatives. As of December 31, 2025 the escrow had a value of $3,789, 467, 700, of which 10% can be drawn upon to be used for normal business expenses including staff, product development, marketing and business expansion. This long-term funding agreement is not personally guaranteed nor is it secured by the company's stock. See Note 10

(c). Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid instruments with an original maturity of three months or less at the time of issuance to be cash equivalents.

(d). Financial Instruments

The Company's financial instruments consist principally of cash and cash equivalents, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, short-term debts and due to related parties. Pursuant to ASC 820, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures and ASC 825, Financial Instruments the fair value of the Company's cash equivalents is determined based on "Level 1" inputs, which consist of quoted prices in active markets for identical assets.

The Company's planned operations will be international, which results in exposure to market risks from changes in foreign currency exchange rates. The financial risk is the risk to the Company's operations that arise from fluctuations in foreign exchange rates and the degree of volatility of these rates. Currently, the Company does not use derivative instruments to reduce its exposure to foreign currency risk. The Company's functional currency for all operations worldwide is the U.S. dollar. Nonmonetary assets and liabilities are translated at historical rates and monetary assets and liabilities are translated at exchange rates in effect at the end of the year. Revenues and expenses are translated at average rates for the year. Gains and losses from translation of foreign currency financial statements into U.S. dollars are included in current results of operations.

(e). Income Taxes

The Company uses the asset and liability method of accounting for income taxes, whereby deferred tax assets are recognized for deductible temporary differences, and deferred tax liabilities are recognized for taxable temporary differences. Temporary differences are the differences between the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and their tax bases. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance when, in the opinion of management, the Company does not foresee generating taxable income soon and utilizing its deferred tax asset, therefore, it is more likely than not that some portion, or all of, the deferred tax assets will not be realized. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are adjusted for the effects of changes in tax laws and rates on the date of enactment.

A tax position is recognized as a benefit only if it is “more likely than not” that the tax position would be sustained in a tax examination, with a tax examination being presumed to occur. The amount recognized is the largest amount of tax benefit that is greater than 50% likely of being realized on examination. For tax positions not meeting the “more likely than not” test, no tax benefit is recorded. The Company has no material uncertain tax positions for any of the reporting periods presented.

(f) Stock-Based Compensation

We estimate the fair value of each stock option award at the grant date by using the Black-Scholes option pricing model and common shares based on the market price of the Company’s common stock on the date of the share grant. The fair value determined represents the cost for the award and is recognized over the vesting period during which an employee is required to provide service in exchange for the award. As share-based compensation expense is recognized based on awards ultimately expected to vest, we reduce the expense for estimated forfeitures based on historical forfeiture rates. Previously recognized compensation costs may be adjusted to reflect the actual forfeiture rate for the entire award at the end of the vesting period. Excess tax benefits, if any, are recognized as an addition to paid-in capital.

(g) Fair value measurements.

When required to measure assets or liabilities at fair value, the Company uses a fair value hierarchy based on the level of independent, objective evidence surrounding the inputs used. The Company determines the level within the fair value hierarchy in which the fair value measurements in their entirety fall. The categorization within the fair value hierarchy is based upon the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Level 1 uses quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities, Level 2 uses significant other observable inputs, and Level 3 uses significant unobservable inputs. The amount of the total gains or losses for the period are included in earnings that are attributable to the change in unrealized gains or losses relating to those assets and liabilities still held at the reporting date. - The Company has no assets or liabilities that are adjusted to fair value on a recurring basis.

(h) Convertible financial instruments

The Company bifurcates conversion options from their host instruments and accounts for them as free-standing derivative financial instruments if certain criteria are met. The criteria include circumstances in which (a) the economic characteristics and risks of the embedded derivative instrument are not clearly and closely related to the economic characteristics and risks of the host contract, (b) the hybrid instrument that embodies both the embedded derivative instrument and the host contract is not remeasured at fair value under otherwise applicable generally accepted accounting principles with changes in fair value reported in earnings as they occur, and (c) a separate instrument with the same terms as the embedded derivative instrument would be considered a derivative instrument.

An exception to this rule is when the host instrument is deemed to be conventional, as that term is described under applicable U.S. GAAP.

(i) Beneficial conversion feature

The issuance of the convertible debt generated a beneficial conversion feature (“BCF”), which arises when a debt or equity security is issued with an embedded conversion option that is beneficial to the investor or in the money at inception because the conversion option has an effective strike price that is less than the market price of the underlying stock at the commitment date. The Company recognized the BCF by allocating the intrinsic value of the conversion option, which is the number of shares of common stock available upon conversion multiplied by the difference between the effective conversion price per share and the fair value of common stock per share on the commitment date, resulting in a discount on the convertible debt (recorded as a component of additional paid-in capital). The discount is amortized to interest expense over the term of the convertible debt.

(j) Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue in accordance with ASC 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers, which requires revenue to be recognized when control of promised goods or services is transferred to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration the Company expects to be entitled to receive.

For the quarter ending March 31, 2026, the Company reported total revenue of $1,200,607,202, compared to $27,846 for the quarter ending March 31, 2026.

Revenue for the quarter ending March 31, 2026 consisted primarily of amounts earned as fee income from the ZEUSx DEX, ApolloWALLET, ApolloCASH, ApolloCHAIN and BLAQpay. There was additional development fees earned from Super Studios and Autonomous.

During the quarter ending March 31, 2026, the company upgraded Shop With Crypto by building a reservation system to enhance the customer experience and designed a three tier system where Tier 1 offers stablecoins only, Tier 2 offers all tokens and Tier 3 offers just tokens within our ecosystem. The goal is to launch this upgraded version of Shop with Crypto in the second quarter of 2026.

Note 3 - Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In February 2016, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") 2016-02, Leases (Topic 842). The update modified the classification criteria and requires lessees to recognize the assets and liabilities on the balance sheet for most leases. The update was effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2018, with early adoption permitted. Adoption of this update as of July 1, 2019, did not have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements because the Company has no long-term operating leases.

In June 2018, the FASB issued ASU 2018-07, Stock Compensation (Topic 718): Improvements to Nonemployee Share-Based Payment Accounting. The update aligns the accounting for share-based payment awards issued to nonemployees with those issued to employees. Under the new guidance, the nonemployee awards will be measured on the grant date and compensation costs will be recognized when achievement of the performance condition is probable. This new standard is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2018, including interim periods within that fiscal year. The adoption of the new guidance on July 1, 2019, did not have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements. In August 2018, the FASB issued ASU 2018-13, Fair Value Measurement (Topic 820): Disclosure Framework- Changes to the Disclosure Requirements for Fair Value Measurement. The update modifies the disclosure requirements for recurring and nonrecurring fair value measurements, primarily those surrounding Level 3 fair value measurements and transfers between Level 1 and Level 2. The new standard is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2019, including interim periods within that reporting period. The Company is currently evaluating the new guidance and does not expect it to have a material impact on its consolidated financial statements.

In August 2020, the FASB issued ASU 2020-06, ASC Subtopic 470-20 “Debt—Debt with Conversion and Other Options” and ASC subtopic 815-40 “Hedging—Contracts in Entity’s Own Equity”. The standard reduced the number of accounting models for convertible debt instruments and convertible preferred stock. Convertible instruments that continue to be subject to separation models are (1) those with embedded conversion features that are not clearly and closely related to the host contract, that meet the definition of a derivative, and that do not qualify for a scope exception from derivative accounting; and, (2) convertible debt instruments issued with substantial premiums for which the premiums are recorded as paid-in capital. The amendments in this update are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2021, including interim periods within those fiscal years. Early adoption is permitted, but no earlier than fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2020, including interim periods within those fiscal years. The Company is currently assessing the impact of the adoption of this standard on its consolidated financial statements.

As of December 31, 2025, there are no recently issued accounting standards not yet adopted that would have a material effect on the Company’s financial statements to have a material impact on the Company’s CFS.

Note 4 – Going Concern

The Company’s financial statements have been prepared assuming that it will continue as a going concern, which contemplates continuity of operations, realization of assets, and liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business.

Note 5- Notes Payable

On January 2, 2023, the Company entered into a convertible note in the principal amount of $105,000, with an unrelated third party. The note carries an annual interest rate of 6% with a maturity date of April 30, 2023. As of December 31, 2025, this note has been settled.

On January 2, 2024, the Company entered into a convertible note in the principal amount of $300,000, with an unrelated third party. The note carries an annual interest rate of 6% with a maturity date of June 30, 2024. As of December 31, 2025, this note has been settled.

Note 6- Previous Management

On Oct 1, 2025 and October 8, 2025, Current management assumed control of the Company from previous management. For the quarter ending Sept 30, 2025 252,516,512 shares were issued in the quarter. On November 2, 2025, the Company's new management entered into a settlement agreement with Pinnacle Consulting for 35,000,000 shares. This settlement fully retired all outstanding notes held by Pinnacle Consulting, with the shares subject to an orderly liquidation schedule not to exceed 2,500,000 shares per trading day. As of December 31, 2025, Pinnacle Consulting has liquidated their entire position and they hold no BCDS shares.

Note 7 – Subsequent event

In November 2024, current management entered into a Stock Purchase Agreement (SPA) with previous management. In April of 2025, previous management sent current management a termination notice for failure to pay. This termination was done without legal basis as the payment was made to and confirmed by previous corporate counsel. On October 1, 2025, a settlement between the parties was reached. On October 8, 2025 new management assumed control of Blaqclouds, Inc. and commenced operation "Clean Up" executing the Blaqclouds business model outlined on www.Blaqclouds.io. As of December 31, 2025, under operation "Clean up", all outstanding notes have been settled, retired and or cancelled. As of March 31, 2026, the company has not issued any new shares nor have they entered into any funding relationships or agreements The .

Finance leader at two separate companies that each sold for >$50M. Responsible for creating formal internal accounting structures, policies, procedures, and team growth at multiple PE backed companies.

In November of 2023, Mr. Witfield was introduced to Net Savings Link as a potential accounting client. That month, Mr. Witfield was hired as an outside accounting professional by James Tilton, CEO of Net Savings Link (NSAV). Mr. Witfield's role was to review and prepare the corporate financial statements in accordance with GAAP. In his professional capacity, Mr. Witfield relied on the information supplied to him by the Company to prepare these reports. Mr. Witfield was introduced to Net Savings Link (NSAV) by an outside consultant of the Company in an effort to keep the Company in compliance with OTC Markets Disclosure requirements. During this period, Mr. Whitfield became aware of outstanding litigation between Net Savings and a third party. He recommended the Company file amended financial statements to account for this litigation. The Company began this process but did not completed these recommended amendments and during this period, was put into receivership and to date, has never been reinstated as an active and operating company. Mr. Witfield has not performed any services related to Net Savings Link since the 6/24 financial statements.

Several of the shareholders of Net Savings Link became aware of BLAQclouds and through open market purchases, became shareholders and BLAQclouds. These shareholders suggested that Mr. Witfield be hired to act as an outside accounting professional for the Company. In September 2024, the Company engaged Mr. Witfield to perform outside professional accounting services. This is the second financial statement prepared by Mr. Witfield for BLAQclouds, Inc., which include 9/30/25 and 12/31/25 reports and can be found at <https://www.otcmarkets.com/stock/BCDS/disclosure>
