Supplemental Disclosure

Execution of HERE Location Services Evaluation Agreement Through Grey Matter

Issuer: VirExit Technologies, Inc., a Wyoming corporation doing business as Lavish Enterprises, Inc., pending FINRA name and symbol change

Date of Filing: May 26, 2026

Overview

On May 26, 2026, the Company executed an Evaluation Agreement with Grey Matter, an authorized channel partner of HERE Technologies, establishing a formal evaluation subscription to HERE Location Services for integration into the FleetPath operating platform. The execution marks the commencement of the previously disclosed FleetPath integration with HERE Location Services and advances the Company's stated technology vertical strategy.

Strategic Significance

HERE Technologies is one of the world's leading providers of location, mapping, and navigation services, supplying location infrastructure to major automotive original equipment manufacturers, logistics platforms, and transportation enterprises worldwide. Grey Matter, as one of HERE's global premier channel partners, is the contracting party for the evaluation and any subsequent commercial subscription. The Company believes the formal engagement of HERE Location Services through Grey Matter materially strengthens the technical foundation of the FleetPath operating platform and positions FleetPath alongside the location-services infrastructure used by leading commercial transportation operators.

Scope of Evaluation

The Evaluation Agreement provides the Company access to HERE's suite of Location Services across map rendering, geocoding and search, multi-modal routing including dedicated truck routing, real-time traffic, matrix routing for fleet optimization, and additional capabilities relevant to commercial trucking operations. The Evaluation Agreement further extends to HERE's software development kit and fleet optimization evaluation pathways. The evaluation is structured to permit the Company to integrate, test, and validate HERE Location Services within the FleetPath platform during the evaluation term.

Commercial Posture

The Evaluation Agreement is an evaluation subscription only and is not a commercial production agreement. Use of HERE Materials during the evaluation term is restricted to internal non-commercial integration, testing, and validation purposes. A separate commercial subscription would be required to deploy HERE Location Services in any commercial or productive use case. The Company intends to commence commercial subscription discussions with Grey Matter in advance of the conclusion of the evaluation term so that any transition to commercial deployment occurs without service interruption.

Capital and Operational Focus

The HERE evaluation advances the Company's previously disclosed strategy of building FleetPath as an enterprise-grade trucking operations platform with deeply integrated, world-class technology partnerships. The Company continues to progress the broader FleetPath buildout, beta-stage deployment with committed carrier engagements, and the broader Lavish Enterprises growth initiatives.

Forward-Looking Statements. This Supplemental Disclosure contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Such statements reflect the Company's current views with respect to future events, including the conduct and outcome of the HERE evaluation, the potential transition from evaluation to commercial subscription, the integration of HERE Location Services into the FleetPath platform, and the operational progress of the FleetPath platform generally. Such statements are subject to risks and uncertainties that may cause actual results to differ materially. This Supplemental Disclosure is not an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to buy any securities of the Company.
