Any additional material details, including footnotes to the table are below :

None of the convertible notes have any toxic or death spiral generating discount of market price based variable exercise price mechanism in the notes.

From a practical perspective, the convertible notes would not be exercised unless there is a substantial increase in the stock price due to the large portion of any conversion being subject to taxes. The stock price would have to be substantially higher than the fixed conversion exercise price for a conversion to be practical. Furthermore, Jonathan Ricker owns 599,028 shares that would be subject to a more favorable long term capital gains tax treatment if he decides to sell shares. Jonathan Ricker has not sold any shares since 2014. In the past, his sale of shares were limited to one percent of the outstanding shares in any three month period since he was an officer subject to Rule 144 limitations. In the past, Mass Megawatts was a SEC reporting company and Jonathan Ricker was subject to Section 16 of the Exchange Act.

² The total number of shares that can be issued upon full conversion of the Outstanding Balance. The number should not factor any "blockers" or limitations on the percentage of outstanding shares that can be owned by the Noteholder at a particular time. For purposes of this calculation, please use the current market pricing (e.g. most recent closing price, bid, etc.) of the security if conversion is based on a variable market rate.
