Footnote A: Conversion Terms

The Convertible Promissory Notes issued to David Zevetchin and Joseph Zizzadoro include multiple optional conversion mechanisms that depend on future financing or transaction events, including: (i) conversion at a 20 percent discount to the price paid by investors in a Qualified Equity Financing; (ii) conversion upon a Change of Control at the lower of (a) the prior-day closing price or (b) the price implied by transaction consideration; (iii) conversion into PIPE/uplisting securities at a 20 percent discount; and (iv) conversion at maturity at the 20-day VWAP prior to the maturity date. These terms are defined in the Convertible Promissory Notes executed August 20, 2025, and July 15, 2025.

Footnote B: Indeterminable Conversion Shares

Because the conversion price depends on future equity financings, market pricing, PIPE pricing, Change-of-Control valuations, or future VWAP calculations, the total number of shares that could be issued upon conversion cannot be determined as of the filing date. Accordingly, the potential share amount is reported as "Indeterminable."

Footnote C: Indeterminable Conversion Shares

The number of shares issuable upon conversion cannot be determined as of the filing date because conversion is only permitted upon the occurrence of an event of default and the conversion price is variable, based on terms defined in the agreement. Accordingly, the potential share amount is reported as "Indeterminable."

Go Green Global Technologies Corp.
Notes to the Unaudited Financial Statements
For the Six Months Ended June 30, 2026 and June 30, 2025

NOTE 1 - ORGANIZATION AND OPERATIONS

Go Green Global Technologies Corp. (OTC: GOGR) is a Nevada corporation originally incorporated in February 2006 under the name Photomatica, Inc.

Go Green Global Technologies Corp. ("the Company") is an innovative publicly traded U.S. company that provides proprietary disruptive technology for use in the water and fuel industries of both commercial and consumer segments of these markets. Solutions are provided worldwide utilizing the proprietary Sonical™ process for both non-chemical water treatment and fuel combustion applications, including industrial, automotive, transportation, maritime and railway industries. The Company is a pioneer and leader in the emerging Pulsed Power technology sector. Since inception, the Company has focused on technologies that lead to a cleaner and more efficient planet.

Going Concern Basis of Accounting

The Company's financial statements are prepared using accounting principles generally accepted in the United States ("U.S. GAAP") applicable to a going concern, which contemplates the realization of assets and liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business. As reflected in the financial statements, the Company has an accumulated deficit balance of $2,620,387 as of June 30, 2026, has suffered significant net losses and negative cash flows from operations and has limited working capital. The Company expects to incur substantial expenses for the foreseeable future relating to research, development and commercialization of its potential future technologies. The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent on the Company obtaining adequate capital to fund operating losses until it establishes a revenue stream and becomes profitable. Management's plans to continue as a going concern include raising additional capital through sales of equity securities and borrowing. However, management cannot provide any assurances that the Company will be successful in accomplishing any of its plans. If the Company is not able to obtain the necessary additional financing on a timely basis, the Company will be required to delay, reduce the scope of, or eliminate one or more of the Company's research and development activities or commercialization efforts or perhaps even cease the operation of its business. These factors raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern for one year from the date the financials were issued.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern, which contemplates the realization of assets and the settlement of liabilities and commitments in the normal course of business. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from this uncertainty.

Uncertainty Due to Geopolitical Events

Global economic and market conditions continue to be affected by geopolitical instability, armed conflicts, international trade disruptions, inflationary pressures, and volatility in global energy and financial markets. Ongoing military conflicts, including the Russia-Ukraine war and escalating tensions and hostilities in the Middle East involving Iran, Israel, the United States, and related regional actors, have increased uncertainty across global markets and supply chains. In particular, disruptions and security concerns affecting international shipping routes, including in and around the Strait of Hormuz and the Persian Gulf region, have contributed to volatility in global energy prices, transportation costs, and broader economic conditions. While the Company has not experienced a material adverse impact on its business, operations, or financial condition as a result of these matters for the six months ended June 30, 2026, and none for the year ended December 31, 2025, the Company continues to monitor developments closely. The extent to which ongoing geopolitical events, macroeconomic conditions, inflationary pressures, supply chain disruptions, or disruptions to international trade and energy markets may affect the Company's future business, operations, financial condition, liquidity, or results of operations remains uncertain and will depend on numerous factors outside the Company's control, including the duration and severity of these conflicts, governmental actions, sanctions, and broader global economic conditions.

NOTE 2 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP"). Certain balances have been reclassified to conform with the current year's presentation.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash

The Company considers all highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents. The Company had no cash equivalents as of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025.

Concentration of Credit Risk

Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to concentration of credit risk consist primarily of cash. The Company maintains its cash in bank deposit accounts, which, at times, may exceed federally insured limits. The Company has not experienced any losses in such accounts. The Company believes it is not exposed to any significant credit risk in cash.

Prepaid Expenses

Prepaid expenses consist primarily of short-term prepaid expenditures or deposits that will be amortized within one year.

Leases

The Company reviews all arrangements for potential leases and, at inception, determines whether a lease is an operating lease or finance lease. Lease assets and liabilities, which generally represent the present value of future minimum lease payments over the term of the lease, are recognized as of the commencement date. Leases with an initial lease term of twelve months or less are classified as short term leases and are not recognized in the balance sheets unless the lease contains a purchase option that is reasonably certain to be exercised. Lease terms, discount rates, variable lease costs and future minimum lease payment determinations require the use of judgment and are based on the facts and circumstances related to the specific lease. Lease terms are generally based on their initial non-cancelable terms, unless there is a renewal option that is reasonably certain to be exercised. Various factors, including economic incentives, intent, past history and business needs are considered to determine if a renewal option is reasonably certain to be exercised. The implicit rate in a lease agreement is used when it can be determined to value the lease obligation. Otherwise, the Company's incremental borrowing rate, which is based on information available as of the lease commencement date, including applicable lease terms and the current economic environment, is used to determine the value of the lease obligation.

Income Taxes

In accordance with FASB ASC Topic 740, Income Taxes ("ASC 740"), the Company recognizes deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences or events that have been included in our financial statements and/or tax returns. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are based upon the differences between the financial statement carrying amounts and the tax bases of existing assets and liabilities and for loss and credit carryforwards using enacted tax rates expected to be in effect in the years in which the differences are expected to reverse. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance if it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax asset will not be realized.

The Company provides reserves for potential payments of tax to various tax authorities related to uncertain tax positions when management determines that it is more likely than not that a loss will be incurred related to these matters and the amount of the loss is reasonably determinable. No tax liability was recorded as of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025.

Segment Information

Operating segments are identified as components of an enterprise about which separate discrete financial information is available for evaluation by the chief operating decision maker ("CODM"), or decision-making group, in making decisions on how to allocate resources and assess performance. The Company has one operating segment.

Advertising Costs

Advertising and promotion costs are expensed as incurred. The Company had no material advertising expenses as of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025.

Stock-Based Compensation

The Company accounts for stock-based compensation in accordance with the guidance of FASB ASC Topic 718, Compensation-Stock Compensation ("ASC 718"), which requires all share-based payments be recognized in the consolidated financial statements based on their fair values. In accordance with ASC 718, the Company has elected to use the Black-Scholes option pricing model to determine the fair value of options granted and recognizes the compensation cost of share-based awards on a straight-line basis over the vesting period of the award.

Warrants

The Company accounts for stock warrants as either equity instruments or derivative liabilities depending on the specific terms of the warrant agreement. As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, all outstanding warrants granted were classified as equity being the fixed exercise price. There were no further warrants issued subsequent to June 30, 2026.

Net loss per Common Share

Basic earnings per share are calculated by dividing income available to common stockholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding. Diluted earnings per share are based on the assumption that all dilutive convertible shares and stock options and warrants were converted or exercised. Dilution is computed by applying the treasury stock method. Under this method, warrants and options are assumed to be exercised at the beginning of the period (or at the time of issuance, if later), and as if funds obtained thereby were used to purchase common stock at the average market price during the period. Common stock equivalents of 48,008,273 and 43,408,273 shares were excluded from the computation of diluted earnings per share for the periods ending June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively, because their effects would have been anti-dilutive.

NOTE 3 – FAIR VALUE OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

ASC 825-10 defines fair value as the price that would be received from selling an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. When determining the fair value measurements for assets and liabilities required or permitted to be recorded at fair value, the Company considers the principal or most advantageous market in which it would transact and consider assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, such as inherent risk, transfer restrictions, and risk of nonperformance. ASC 825-10 establishes a fair value hierarchy that requires an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value. ASC 825-10 establishes three levels of inputs that may be used to measure fair value:

Level 1 - Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 - Observable inputs other than Level 1 prices such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities; quoted prices in markets with insufficient volume or infrequent transactions (less active markets); or model-derived valuations in which all significant inputs are observable or can be derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data for substantially the full term of the assets or liabilities.

Level 3 - Unobservable inputs to the valuation methodology that are significant to the measurement of fair value of assets or liabilities.

To the extent that valuation is based on models or inputs that are less observable or unobservable in the market, the determination of fair value requires more judgment. In certain cases, the inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, for disclosure purposes, the level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement is disclosed is determined based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement.
