State the names of the principal parties, the nature and current status of the matters, and the amounts involved.
11. Ablaze Technologies, Inc. and its subsidiaries are not party to any legal or administrative actions as either plaintiff or defendant. The Company's founder & CEO is however a defendant in one litigation not relating to the activities of Ablaze Technologies, and as plaintiff in one litigation, also not relating to Ablaze Technologies.

B. Business of Issuer.

Ablaze Technologies utilizes the power of the internet and aggressive, but non-invasive, online marketing techniques to help build businesses by enhancing brand identities and increasing sales.

Our OTC Services unit operates an online investment news network, as well as provides consulting services and online marketing services primarily to other OTC traded public companies; assisting in trading, financing, marketing, and investor relations initiatives for those clients. We have developed significant expertise and understanding of online marketing performance, and can now react quickly, efficiently, and effectively to get and keep our clients visible and branded in the marketplace. The Company typically receives cash and/or marketable securities as fee income for services, and often participates in structured financing transactions with those public company clients as well.

With an intense focus on profitable business lines, management has worked diligently to streamline operations within the Company and concentrate on opportunities that offer: 1) extremely high profit margins, 2) minimal capital investment, 3) reoccurring revenue streams, 4) low personnel expenses, and 5) has a base of operations "online". The operations of OTC Services have met the quality standards and criteria that management was seeking for the benefit of the Company and its shareholders.

Please also include, to the extent material to an understanding of the issuer, the following specific items:

1. the issuer's primary and secondary SIC Codes;

1. 7379

2. if the issuer has never conducted operations, is in the development stage or is currently conducting operations;

2. The issuer is currently conducting operations

3. state the names of any parent, subsidiary, or affiliate of the issuer, and describe its business purpose, its method of operation, its ownership, and whether it is included in the financial statements attached to this disclosure document;

3. Ablaze Technologies, Inc., a Colorado corporation wholly owns to operating subsidiaries, uAuthorize Corporation, an Oklahoma Corporation, and OTC Services, Inc., an Oklahoma Corporation. uAuthorize Corporation owns and operates the Company's original website business, consisting of approx. 30 operating websites on nearly 1000 domain names. OTC Services, Inc. owns and operates the Company's financial news network, as well as offers its services via www.ProTrading.com, as well as invests in structured financing transactions and conducts securities trading operations.

4. the effect of existing or probable governmental regulations on the business;

4. The Company could become subject to The Investment Company Act of 1940 rules for investment companies, should the company's securities portfolio exceed a certain percentage of total assets of an extended period of time. Management intends to quickly liquidate securities positions and not hold significant securities positions long-term, thereby requiring such registration.

5. an estimate of the amount spent during each of the last two fiscal years on research and development activities, and, if applicable, the extent to which the cost of such activities are borne directly by customers;

5. The Company spent several hundred thousand dollars developing its current business model, most of which was initially funded through short term loans to the Company by affiliates of the Founder Darrel Uselton. All such loans have been repaid, and the Company currently operates solely on its owned retained capital.

6. costs and effects of compliance with environmental laws (federal, state and local); and

6. no cost for compliance

7. number of total employees and number of full time employees.

7. 4

C. Investment Policies

No real estate is owned by the company.

State whether there are any limitations of the percentage of assets which may be invested in any one investment, or type of instrument, and indicate whether such policy may be changed without a vote of security holders.

Does not apply

State whether the issuer's policy is to acquire assets primarily for possible capital gain or primarily for income.

The Company's business model calls to acquire cash and/or marketable securities as fee income. Any marketable securities positions may generate substantial amounts of short-term capital gains as well. Certain securities position may possibly held for more than one year, at which time any such gains on sale would be classified as long-term capital gains.

If the issuer owns any real estate, interests in real estate, mortgages or securities related to or backed by real estate, describe the issuer's policies with respect to each of the following types of investments

Does not apply

1. Investments in real estate or interests in real estate. Indicate the types of real estate in which the issuer may invest, and describe the method (or proposed method) of operating and financing these properties. Indicate any limitations on the number or amount of mortgages that may be placed on any one piece of property.

1. Does not apply

2. Investments in real estate mortgages. Indicate the types of mortgages and the types of properties subject to mortgages in which the issuer plans to invest. Describe each type of mortgage activity in which the issuer intends to engage, such as originating, servicing and warehousing, and the portfolio turnover rate.

2. Does not apply

3. Securities of or interests in persons primarily engaged in real estate activities. Indicate the types of securities in which the issuer may invest, and indicate the primary activities of persons in which the issuer may invest and the investment policies of such persons.

3. Does not apply

Item (ix): The nature of products or services offered.

In responding to this item, please describe the following so that a potential investor can clearly understand the products and services of the issuer:

1. principal products or services, and their markets;

1. Ablaze Technologies utilizes the power of the internet and aggressive, but non-invasive, online marketing techniques to help build businesses by enhancing brand identities and increasing sales. Our OTC Services unit operates an online investment news network, as well as provides consulting services and online marketing services primarily to other OTC traded public companies; assisting in trading, financing, marketing, and investor relations initiatives for those clients.

2. distribution methods of the products or services;

2. The Company focuses almost exclusively on the internet and distributing its products and services over the web.

3. status of any publicly announced new product or service;

3. Announced, February 1, 2005, a reorganization of the Company's previous business lines, and the focus on the Company's OTC Services,

Inc. unit. To date, sales and earnings have been robust, with quarterly earnings announced April 17, 2006.

4. competitive business conditions, the issuer's competitive position in the industry, and methods of competition;

4. The markets for each of our web based offerings are very competitive. The Company expects the intensity of competition to continue to increase from both global and regional competitors. A failure to maintain and enhance the Company's competitive position, including the expansion into geographical areas where the Company currently has no presence, will limit its ability to maintain and increase market share, which would result in serious harm to the Company's business. Increased competition may also result in price reductions, reduced gross margins and loss of market share. The Company competes on the basis of quality, performance, service levels, global capabilities, technology, operational efficiency and price.

Some of the Company's competitors have substantially greater financial, infrastructure, personnel, and other resources than does the Company. Furthermore, some of the Company's competitors have well established, large and experienced marketing and sales capabilities and greater name recognition, including well established relationships with the Company's current and potential clients. As a result, the Company's competitors may be in a stronger position to respond quickly to new or emerging technologies and changes in client requirements. They may also develop and promote their services more effectively than the Company and may have more strategic geographical locations in low cost production areas of the world. Also, the Company may lose potential clients to competitors for various reasons, including the ability or willingness of its competitors to offer lower prices and other incentives or concessions that the Company cannot or will not match. There can be no assurance that the Company's competitors will not develop products and services that are superior to those of the Company or that achieve greater market acceptance than the Company's offerings.

5. sources and availability of raw materials and the names of principal suppliers;

5. no raw materials

6. dependence on one or a few major customers;

6. no dependence

7. patents, trademarks, licenses, franchises, concessions, royalty agreements or labor contracts, including their duration; and

7. none of these

8. the need for any government approval of principal products or services.

Discuss the status of any requested government approvals.

8. no need for governmental approval.

Item (x): The nature and extent of the issuer's facilities.

The goal of this section is to provide a potential investor with a clear understanding of all assets, properties and/or facilities owned, used or leased by the issuer (other than Investments described in Item vii C). In responding to this item, please clearly describe the assets, properties or facilities of the issuer, give the location of the principal plants and other property of the issuer and describe the condition of the properties. If the issuer does not have complete ownership or control of the property (for example, if others also own the property or if there is a mortgage on the property), describe the limitations on the ownership.

Issuer occupies space within a Class B office building in far west Houston, where it leases approximately 1,200 square feet of space for approx. $1600/month, and with its lease expiring in June 2006. The Company believes it could renew its lease in the same location for approximately the same terms, but may seek to acquire office property prior to the lease expiration date as well.

If the issuer leases any assets, properties or facilities, clearly describe them as above and the terms of their leases.

There are no other assets leased.

If the issuer owns any property or properties, for which the book value amounts to 10 percent or more of the total assets of the issuer and its consolidated subsidiaries for the last fiscal year furnish the following information for each such property.

This company does not own any real estate, so the guideline items 1-7 do not apply and are not included in this document.

Item (xi): The name of the chief executive officer, members of the board of directors, as well as counsel, accountant and public relations consultant.

The goal of this section is to provide an investor with a clear understanding of the identity of all the persons or entities that are involved in managing, controlling or advising the operations, business development and disclosure of the issuer, as well as the identity of any significant shareholders.

Please also identify whether any of the foregoing persons have, in the last five years, been the subject of:

No persons have been involved in any of the following.

1. a conviction in a criminal proceeding or named as a defendant in a pending criminal proceeding (excluding traffic violations and other minor offenses);
 1. none
2. the entry of an order, judgment, or decree, not subsequently reversed, suspended or vacated, by a court of competent jurisdiction that permanently or temporarily enjoined, barred, suspended or otherwise limited such person's involvement in any type of business, securities, commodities, or banking activities;
 2. none
3. a finding or judgment by a court of competent jurisdiction (in a civil action), the SEC, the CFTC, or a state securities regulator of a violation of federal or state securities or commodities law, which finding or judgment has not been reversed, suspended, or vacated; or
 3. none
4. the entry of an order by a self-regulatory organization that permanently or temporarily barred, suspended or otherwise limited such person's involvement in any type of business or securities activities.
 4. In May 2005, the Company's founder and President, Darrel Uselton, submitted an Offer of Settlement in which he was fined $10,000 and suspended from association with any NASD member in any capacity for six months. Without admitting or denying the allegations, Mr. Uselton consented to the described sanctions and to the entry of findings that he executed an "Asset and Stock Purchase Agreement, whereby he, as chairman and chief executive of two holding companies, sold all of the assets of a NASD member firm to another firm, and failed to file an application with NASD for prior approval of these transactions.

In March 2004, the Company's founder and President, Darrel Uselton, submitted a Letter of Acceptance, Waiver, and Consent in which he was fined $15,000, suspended from association with any NASD member in any general securities principal capacity for one year, and suspended in any capacity for six months. Without admitting or denying the allegations, Mr. Uselton consented to the described sanctions and to the entry of findings that he and his partner caused a member firm to engage in a securities business when the firm's net capital was below the required minimum, and caused the firm to fail to provide timely notification to NASD of such, as required by SEC Rule 17a-11. In addition, NASD stated that Darrel Uselton acted in the capacity of a general securities principal while not being registered in such capacity.

Mr. Uselton would like to add that each of these issues with the National Association of Securities Dealers dealt with items relating solely to operational issues of broker/dealer firms he controlled, having nothing whatsoever to do with customer complaints or general securities matters. Mr. Uselton would also like to add that he left the securities brokerage business, and any ownership thereto in 2003, prior to any of these findings by NASD.
