GLOBAL MUSIC INTERNATIONAL, INC.
(A DEVELOPMENT STAGE COMPANY)
NOTES TO CONDENSED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(UNAUDITED)

NOTE 1 - BASIS OF PRESENTATION

The accompanying unaudited condensed financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”) for interim financial reporting. Certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in the Company’s annual financial statements have been condensed or omitted. In the Company’s opinion, the unaudited interim financial statements and accompanying notes reflect all adjustments, consisting of normal and recurring adjustments that are necessary for a fair presentation of its financial position and operating results as of and for the interim periods ended December 31, 2006 and 2005 and cumulative from inception (July 1, 2004) to December 31, 2006.

The results of operations for the interim periods are not necessarily indicative of the results to be expected for the entire fiscal year. This Form 10-QSB should be read in conjunction with the audited financial statements and notes thereto included in the Company’s Form 10-KSB as of and for the year ended June 30, 2006 and for the period commencing from inception (July 1, 2004) through June 30, 2006.

NOTE 2 - SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

NATURE OF OPERATIONS

Global Music International, Inc. (A Development Stage Company) (the “Company”), doing business as Independent Music Network and IMNTV, operates a diversified entertainment company which is presently webcasting programming consisting of music videos of unsigned artists and bands from around the world, and providing music video content to third party media providers for cellular broadcast throughout the United States and China.

DEVELOPMENT STAGE COMPANY

The Company was incorporated in the State of Florida on July 1, 2004 (inception). Operations from the Company’s inception through December 31, 2006 have been devoted primarily to strategic planning, development of music and video content, raising capital and developing revenue-generating opportunities.

USE OF ESTIMATES

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

REVENUE RECOGNITION

The Company’s licensing agreements provide for the Company to receive a stated percentage of subscriber revenue after a deduction for carrier charges (“royalties”). For those arrangements where royalties are determinable, the Company recognizes revenue based on estimates of royalties earned during the applicable period and adjusts for differences between the estimated and actual royalties when they become known. For those arrangements in which royalties are not determinable, the Company recognizes revenue upon receipt of royalty statements from the licensee.

STOCK BASED COMPENSATION

For equity issued to acquire goods or services from non-employees, the Company applies Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 123R, " Share-Based Payment" , which requires the recognition of expense based on the fair value of the consideration received or the fair value of the equity instruments issued, whichever is more readily measurable.

NET LOSS PER COMMON SHARE

The Company presents "basic" earnings (loss) per share and, if applicable, "diluted" earnings per share pursuant to the provisions of SFAS No. 128, Earnings per Share . Basic earnings (loss) per share is calculated by dividing net income or loss by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during each period. Diluted earnings per share have not been presented as the Company has not issued any potentially dilutive share equivalents.

RECENT ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS

There were no recent accounting pronouncements issued during the six month period ended December 31, 2006 that are anticipated to have a significant impact on the Company.

NOTE 3 - CONTROL

As of December 31, 2006, the President/CEO and director has been issued, in the aggregate, 76.4% of the Company's common stock and, therefore, may have the effective power to elect all members of the board of directors and to control the vote on substantially all other matters, without the approval of other stockholders.

NOTE 4 - UNEARNED COMPENSATION

The Company has issued 290,000 shares of restricted common stock to four nonemployees and the Company's Chief Technology Officer for future services to be rendered. The shares granted were valued at the estimated fair value of the services rendered or the estimated value of the shares issued, whichever was more reliable. The Company recorded $569,100 of unearned compensation in connection with these contracts. The Company amortized $84,250 of unearned compensation for the three month period ended December 31, 2006 and $168,500 for the six month period ended December 31, 2006. Cumulative amortization of unearned compensation totaled $540,767 through December 31, 2006.

NOTE 5 - ADVANCES FROM OFFICER / DIRECTOR

The President/CEO and director has provided various short-term working capital advances from inception (July 1, 2004) through December 31, 2006. The advances are non-interest bearing and are due upon demand. Amounts due to the officer/director at December 31, 2006 for such advances totaled $386,000. During the six month period ended December 31, 2006 the amount of officer/director advances totaled $266,000.

NOTE 6 - OPERATING LEASES

On November 1, 2005, the Company entered into an operating lease for the rental of the Company's office space. The lease runs for 12 months at $1,035 per month. On November 1, 2006 the lease was extended for one year at $1,135 per month. Rent expense incurred under the operating lease totaled $3,305 for the three months ended December 31, 2006 and $6,410 for the six months ended December 31, 2006 and $14,690 for the period from inception (July 1, 2004) through December 31, 2006.

On July 15, 2006, the Company entered into an operating lease for the rental of office space in China. The lease runs for 12 months at $1,875 per month. Rent expense incurred under the operating lease totaled $5,625 for the three months ended December 31, 2006 and $10,320 for the six months ended December 31, 2006 and for the period from inception (July 1, 2004) through December 31, 2006.

NOTE 7 - AGREEMENTS

On October 26, 2006 the Company entered into a Music Video and Exhibition Agreement (the "Agreement") with a major international music company that will provide music content to the Company for distribution through its operating contracts already in place in both the United States ("U.S.") and China. Access to the music content is dependent on the Company demonstrating specific technical and security capabilities. The Agreement is for a one year period and required a $50,000 non-refundable advance in connection with the China portion of the agreement, and a $50,000 refundable advance for the U.S. portion of the agreement, both of which were paid during the three months ended December 31, 2006. Since the advance in connection with the U.S. portion of the Agreement is refundable, it has been reflected as a prepaid expense as of December 31, 2006. The Agreement also requires that, upon meeting specific conditions, a content preparation and delivery fee and a minimum monthly service fee will be payable for the remaining term of the Agreement for both the U.S. and China.

NOTE 8 - GOING CONCERN

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern, which contemplates the realization of assets and the settlement of liabilities and commitments in the normal course of business. As shown in the accompanying financial statements, the Company has a working capital deficiency of $1,627,464 as of December 31, 2006, has earned minimal revenues, and has incurred a net loss from its inception (July 1, 2004) through December 31, 2006 totaling $1,331,364. In addition, the note payable to officer/director is due on demand. If the officer/director were to call the note, the Company would be unable to meet the obligation. Further, no assurance can be given that the Company will maintain its cost structure as presently contemplated, raise additional capital on satisfactory terms, or that the distribution agreements that the Company has entered into will generate sufficient revenue to sustain operations. These conditions raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

The Company intends to improve the content and quality of its programming, expand the size and number of markets in which the programming content is available, enter into agreements with wireless telecommunication companies on a subscription basis and, if needed, raise additional capital sufficient to continue operations.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis or Plan of Operation

The following discussion of our financial condition and results of our operations should be read in conjunction with the financial statements and notes thereto as of and for the three and six months ended December 31, 2006. This document contains certain forward-looking statements including, among others, anticipated trends in our financial condition and results of operations and our business strategy. These forward-looking statements are based largely on our current expectations and are subject to a number of risks and uncertainties. Actual results could differ materially from these forward-looking statements. Important factors to consider in evaluating such forward-looking statements include (i) changes in external factors or in our internal budgeting process which might impact trends in our results of operations; (ii) unanticipated working capital or other cash requirements; (iii) changes in our business strategy or an inability to execute our strategy due to unanticipated changes in the industries in which we operate; and (iv) various competitive market factors that may prevent us from competing successfully in the marketplace.

Our Business

Global Music International, Inc. (the “Company” or “Global”), a Florida corporation doing business as Independent Music Network, was formed on July 1, 2004 for the purpose of operating in certain segments of the entertainment industry which webcast programming content, consisting of music videos of unsigned artists and bands from around the world, over our web site at IMNTV.com.

Plan of Operation

Our plan of operation for the next twelve months will be the continued operation of our web site for the purpose of airing music videos submitted by independent artists and bands from around the world and a major international music company. After the videos are screened for acceptable broadcast content, and they are professionally packaged and edited, they are webcast on IMNTV.com. We also plan during this twelve month period to continue to negotiate with platform providers and telecommunication companies to reach agreements to air our music video content. We have entered into an agreement with RealNetworks to act as a platform provider and marketing partner for our music video content on a non-exclusive basis for the U.S. and Canada. On September 19, 2005, Sprint and RealNetworks issued a joint press release announcing the launch of Rhapsody Radio which is available nationwide to provide Sprint customers a music package which includes music videos from the Company’s IMNTV™ programming. The Company has generated revenues pursuant to this arrangement; however, there can be no assurances that the Company will generate sufficient revenue to be profitable in its business operations. There have been no additional revenues from other license content agreements described herein.

Effective July 13, 2005, the Company entered into a non-exclusive Content License Agreement with MobileVision. As an authorized and fully licensed service provider for China Unicom, the Company’s content is offered to consumers throughout China Unicom’s cellular network. China Unicom currently offers streaming media content on cell phones in China. With its advanced technology, MobileVision is able to provide the Company with media streaming solutions as well as other products and services. MobileData, as part of MobileVision, provides wireless technology and has a copyright on Access Server software. MobileData continues to develop wireless access protocol, which pushes the signal to the telephone (WAP PUSH) and maintains cooperative relationships with Chinese operators. On July 20, 2005, MobileVision launched the Company’s music video content on China Unicom using its value added streaming media and business solution technology. The Company’s video content is also available for preview on MobileVision’s Chinese website: www.looklook.cn . Mobilevision has informed the Company that on April 15, 2006, it has launched IMNTV music video content on a pay per download basis for cell phone use in several regional markets within China.

On December 1, 2005, the Company entered into a Content License Agreement with Omnistar Technologies Ltd. (“Omnistar”). Pursuant to the agreement, Omnistar, since acquired by FoneNet, a service provider in China, agreed to distribute the Company’s music video programming in China, South Korea, Singapore, Taiwan, Hong Kong and Macao. In addition, Omnistar will handle all streaming and encoding of the Company’s content, as well as track, receive and distribute payments to the Company on a monthly basis. Omnistar has informed the Company that on February 15, 2006, it has launched IMNTV music video content on a pay per download service on Dragon Mobile, a subsidiary of Shanghai Media Group.

On December 1, 2005, the Company entered into a non-exclusive Content License Agreement with Moli Entertainment Ltd., (“Moli”). Pursuant to the agreement, Moli, a service provider in China, has agreed to distribute the Company’s music video programming in China and Japan. This will greatly enrich Moli’s content library and offer Chinese Internet users a greater variety of international music. In addition, Moli will handle all streaming and encoding of Global’s content, as well as track, receive and distribute payments to the Company on a monthly basis.

On May 11, 2006, the Company signed a Partnership Agreement with China Unicom Newspace, Ltd. for joint development of China Unicom’s wireless music services and broadcast of its music video content throughout China Unicom’s cellular network. This will enable wireless digital music consumption, take advantage of the “anytime, anywhere” nature of the mobile network and help create a large new market for the benefit of consumers and the music industry. China Unicom Newspace, Ltd. is a wholly owned subsidiary of China Unicom and is responsible for the operation of China Unicom’s Wireless Music services and market activities. China Unicom currently has over 135 million mobile subscribers and is ranked the third largest mobile carrier worldwide. The mobile digital music platform developed by China Unicom for both GSM and CDMA networks can support a variety of music services such as ring tone download, ring back tones, IVR, song dedications and on-demand music video. As part of this Partnership Agreement, the Company has also entered into an agreement with YueHai Communications Information Technology, Ltd. (“YueHai”). YueHai is a service provider and has agreed to license our content for delivery on China Unicom’s mobile network in cooperation with China Unicom Newspace. A final part of the arrangement between the Company, YueHai Communications and China Unicom Newspace is a Service Agreement between Newspace and YueHai. The resulting total revenue split is China Unicom (35%), China Unicom Newspace (32.5%), the Company (26%) and YueHai Communications (6.5%).

On October 26, 2006 the Company entered into a Music Video and Exhibition Agreement (the “Agreement”) with a major international music company that will provide music content to the Company for distribution through its operating contracts already in place in both the United States (“U.S.”) and China. Access to the music content is dependent on the Company demonstrating specific technical and security capabilities. The Agreement is for a one year period and required a $50,000 non-refundable advance in connection with the China portion of the agreement, and a $50,000 refundable advance for the U.S. portion of the agreement, both of which were paid during the three months ended December 31, 2006. Since the advance in connection with the U.S. portion of the Agreement is refundable, it has been reflected as a prepaid expense as of December 31, 2006. The Agreement also requires that, upon meeting specific conditions, a content preparation and delivery fee and a minimum monthly service fee will be payable for the remaining term of the Agreement for both the U.S. and China.

Results of Operations for Period Ended December 31, 2006

Since the Company was formed on July 1, 2004, it has earned revenues of $105,526 and incurred a net loss since its inception of $1,331,364. Operations from the Company's inception through December 31, 2006 have been devoted primarily to strategic planning, raising capital, developing revenue-generating opportunities and seeking to develop strategic relatio nships.

During the three month period ended December 31, 2006, we earned revenues of $50,794 and incurred operating expenses in the amount of $254,991. These operating expenses included interest expense totaling $17,114 that was accrued on the note payable to officer/director, $13,441 of depreciation expense on the equipment necessary to webcast the Company's programming, and $103,250 of consulting fees in connection with hardware and software development and maintenance and sales and managerial expertise in developing the Chinese market. In addition the Company paid a $50,000 non-refundable license fee to secure a contract with a major music content provider. The remaining expenses relate primarily to professional fees incurred in connection with our corporate and Securities and Exchange Commission filings and other office and general expenses.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

To date, we have financed our operations from the proceeds of the sale of common stock offered pursuant to our private placements. We raised a total of $590,146 pursuant to Rule 504 of Regulation D of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. Also, the President/CEO and director has provided various short-term working capital advances from inception (July 1, 2004) through December 31, 2006. The advances are non-interest bearing and are due upon demand. Amounts due to the officer/director at December 31, 2006 for such advances totaled $386,000. During the six month period ended December 31, 2006 the amount of officer/director advances totaled $266,000.

The Company purchased various assets necessary to webcast it's programming from the Company's founder, who is its President/CEO and a director, in exchange for a $1,500,000 promissory note. Accrued interest on the note payable totaled $187,292 and $153,063 at December 31, 2006 and June 30, 2006, respectively. Prior to purchase, the assets were assessed for impairment and written down to fair value, which was determined to be $114,500. The fair value was determined by quoted market prices for similar assets. The difference between the fair value of the assets purchased and the note payable was recorded as a dividend totaling $1,385,500.

Item 3. Controls and Procedures

Our management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting for the Company. Under the supervision, and with the participation of our management, including the Principal Executive Officer/Principal Financial Officer, we have evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures pursuant to Exchange Act Rules 13a-15 and 15d-15 as of the end of the period covered by this report. Based on that evaluation, the Principal Executive Officer/Principal Financial Officer have concluded that these disclosure controls and procedures were effective such that the material information required to be filed in our SEC reports is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the required time periods specified in the SEC rules and forms. This conclusion was based on the fact that the business operations to date have been limited and the Principal Executive Officer/Principal Financial Officer have had complete access to all records and financial information and have availed themselves of such access to ensure full disclosure. As the Company business expands, a more definitive plan relating to maintaining effective disclosure controls will be implemented. There were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting during the quarter ended December 31, 2006 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal controls over financial reporting. Potential investors should be aware that the design of any system of controls and procedures is based in part upon certain assumptions about the likelihood of future events. There can be no assurance that any system of controls and procedures will succeed in achieving its stated goals under all potential future conditions, regardless of how remote.
