

Neptune Establishes Position in Polymarket, Expanding Exposure to Blockchain Financial Platforms

Vancouver, British Columbia--(Newsfile Corp. - May 14, 2026) - Neptune Digital Assets Corp. (TSXV: NDA) (OTCQB: NPPTF) (FSE: 1NW) ("Neptune" or the "Company"), a blockchain infrastructure and frontier technology company, today announced it has established an initial position in Polymarket, a blockchain-based prediction market platform operating within the digital asset ecosystem.

The position reflects Neptune's strategy of maintaining selective exposure to emerging digital infrastructure platforms that expand the utility of blockchain technology beyond traditional cryptocurrency use cases.

Polymarket operates a decentralized marketplace where participants trade event outcomes using blockchain technology, representing a growing category of crypto-native financial applications focused on market-based information discovery. Neptune views platforms like Polymarket as part of the broader evolution of blockchain financial infrastructure, alongside exchanges, custody providers, and decentralized finance protocols.

"Neptune continues to diversify its exposure to digital infrastructure that aligns with the long-term advancement of blockchain financial systems," stated Cale Moodie, Chief Executive Officer of Neptune. "It is our contention that emerging blockchain platforms may increasingly facilitate the development of next-generation financial and data networks. This strategic initial allocation into Polymarket serves to enhance our comprehensive portfolio, which currently includes over 32,000 SpaceX shares, 421 Bitcoin, and 37,600 Solana, in addition to other staked tokens generating consistent revenue streams."

Pursuant to the terms of the agreement, Neptune utilized approximately US$100,000 to secure an equity interest in Polymarket via an arm's length transaction. The Company maintains a disciplined approach to capital allocation while preserving flexibility to participate in emerging areas of the digital asset economy.
