2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation - The accompanying unaudited financial statements have been prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. In the opinion of management, all adjustments that are necessary for a fair presentation of the financial information for the year-end reported have been made. All such adjustments are of a normal recurring nature.

Use of Estimates - In preparing these unaudited financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, management makes estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the dates of the financial statements, as well as the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. These accounts and estimates include, but are not limited to, the valuation of accounts receivables, inventories, income taxes and the estimation on useful lives of property, plant and equipment. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Cash Equivalents - The Company considers highly liquid instruments with original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Income Taxes - Deferred taxes are provided on an asset and liability method whereby deferred tax assets are recognized for deductible temporary differences and operating loss carry forwards and deferred tax liabilities are recognized for taxable temporary differences. Temporary differences are the difference between the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and their tax basis. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance when, in the opinion of management, it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are adjusted for the effects of changes in tax laws and rates on the date of enactment.

Net Income/ (Loss) Per Common Share - Income/ (loss) per share of Common Stock is calculated by dividing the net income/ (loss) by the weighted average number of shares of Common Stock outstanding during the period. The Company has no potentially dilutive securities during the year-ended December 31, 2014 and 2013. Accordingly, basic and dilutive income (loss) per common share are the same.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments - The carrying amounts of the Company's financial instruments, which include cash, accounts receivable, accounts payable, and accrued expenses are representative of their fair values due to the short-term maturity of these instruments.

Critical Accounting Policies - The Company considers revenue recognition and the valuation of accounts receivable, allowance for doubtful accounts, and inventory and reserves as its significant accounting policies. Some of these policies require management to make estimates and assumptions that may affect the reported amounts in the Company's financial statement.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements - In June 2009, the FASB established the Accounting Standards Codification ("Codification" or "ASC") as the source of authoritative accounting principles recognized by the FASB to be applied by nongovernmental entities in the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States ("GAAP"). Rules and interpretive releases of the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") issued under authority of federal securities laws are also sources of GAAP for SEC registrants. Existing GAAP was not intended to be changed as a result of the Codification, and accordingly the change did not impact our financial statements. The ASC does change the way the guidance is organized and presented.

The Company has reviewed all other recently issued accounting pronouncements and determined these have no current applicability to the Company or their effect on the financial statements would not have been significant.

3. GOING CONCERN

The accompanying unaudited financial statements have been prepared assuming the Company will continue as a going concern. As shown in the accompanying unaudited financial statements, the Company has incurred a net loss of $11,038 and $3,248 for the year-ended December 31, 2014 and 2013, respectively and has an accumulated deficit of $8,344,958 as of December 31, 2014.

In order to continue as a going concern, the Company will need, among other things, additional capital resources. The Company is significantly dependent upon its ability, and will continue to attempt, to secure equity and/or additional debt financing. There are no assurances that the Company will be successful and without sufficient financing it would be unlikely for the Company to continue as a going concern.

The unaudited financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability and classification of recorded assets, or the amounts of and classification of liabilities that might be necessary in the event the Company cannot continue in existence. These conditions raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. These unaudited financial statements do not include any adjustments that might arise from this uncertainty.

4. ACCRUED EXPENSE

During the calendar years-ended December 31, 2014 and 2013, the Company had accrued expenses of $31,893 and $21,893, respectively. These amounts primarily consist of payroll liabilities of $10,000 and $0 as of December 31, 2014 and 2013, respectively. The Company also incurred liens in the amount of $21,892, as of December 31, 2014 and 2013, respectively.

5. EMPLOYMENT AGREEMENT

Effective December 1, 2014, the Company will pay its Chief Executive Officer ("CEO"), $120,000 per year. The initial terms of this agreement will be for a period of three (3) years. The Company accrued $10,000, at December 31, 2014.

6. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

ASC 855-16-50-4 establishes accounting and disclosure requirements for subsequent events. ASC 855 details the period after the balance sheet date during which we should evaluate events or transactions that occur for potential recognition or disclosure in the financial statements, the circumstances under which we should recognize events or transactions occurring after the balance sheet date in its financial statements and the required disclosures for such events. The Company has evaluated all subsequent events through the date these unaudited financial statements were issued, and determined there are no material subsequent events.
