Item 5. Issuer's Business, Products and Services:

A. Business operations

Hop-on, Inc., a Nevada Corporation (HPNN.PK) is a US based international leader in the development and manufacture of electronics, distributed software and telecommunications hardware and services. Since its inception in 1993, the company has a history of innovation and progressive market development and has maintained position as one of the few remaining US-based manufacturers of wireless technology. Hop-on is well-known for developing the world's first CDMA disposable cell phone.

Using the best ideas to make the products that everyone needs and wants worldwide, Hop-on is committed to working with inventors and patent holders so we can bring the latest technology to market at highly competitive prices. We are filling the void left by conglomerates and build quality products efficiently, utilizing our contract manufacturing abilities, focusing on details, and racing to market with essential patent coverage.

Hop-on has a history of innovation and progressive market development, creating opportunities and shareholder value, and impacting the world. Our CEO/Chairman was a pioneer of Internet gaming, creating one of the world's largest Internet gaming sites.

Due to the litigious nature of the consumer electronics and personal computing hardware industries, the Company has rigorously obtained essential patent portfolio license agreements for mobile communications, computing and home entertainment devices. Hop-on has numerous licensing agreements for GSM, WCDMA, 4G LTE/5G, Wi-Fi, infrastructure equipment, base stations and controllers, circuit switched and packet switched core network elements such as mobile switching, gateway servers and support nodes, transmission equipment, home, visitor and equipment identity registers, network management, operation and maintenance equipment, subscriber terminals, fixed line networks, and multimedia services.

B. Company Subsidiaries:

Hop-on Wireless, Inc. is a wholly owned subsidiary that is on the cutting edge of wireless technology. Our success in securing essential patents for GSM and CDMA technologies have resulted in license agreements with Qualcomm, Motorola, Inter Digital, Lucent, NEC, Alcatel, Ericsson, Philips and Siemens. Currently this subsidiary is not current in the State of Nevada.

C. Principal products, services, and their markets

Hop-on is utilizing our license agreements with essential patent holders to create revenues where international conglomerates have failed. Their failures to properly obtain licenses to the intellectual property rights of high tech and complicated technologies, to negotiate in good faith or pay royalties to patent holders has resulted in multi billions of dollars invested in products with no ability to sell those technologies in litigious countries that protect patented ideas.

Hop-on has existing relationships with wireless carriers worldwide which now have fewer hardware and software options. Industry consolidations, as well as IPR and security issues experienced by Huawei, ZTE, and others have changed the landscape for enterprise and consumer markets within the mobile and computing industry.

Through our diverse IP portfolio, ODM and supply chain resources, and extensive industry experience, Hop-on is poised to command vital positions in the buildout and retrofitting of 5G and other next generation networks, adding high-demand and competitive capabilities such as Multimedia Broadcast Multicast Services (MBMS), M2M infrastructure, the latest in regionally compliant network security and authentication, and streamlined IoT activation and management.

In the US and EU, consolidation has created niche markets with fewer hardware and software providers that have the proper IPRs. Hop-on is now ready to provide a US-based alternative for Huawei, ZTE, and others that have been effectively barred from executing contracts with US and European carriers over national security concerns, violating IPRs, or selling and exploiting personal and business data from end-users.

Based in Temecula, CA with offices in Shenzhen China, Hop-on, Inc. manufactures and sells computers, communications products, and consumer electronics. We are also diligently working on building-out capability to manufacture high-tech products in the continental United States. Our products are sold in the United States under the Hop-on brand and have or currently include laptops, tablet computers, mobile phones, and computer monitors. Hop-on is expanding its operations around the world but is focused on markets in the US.

Hop-on is under patent license agreement with Nokia to manufacture, use and sell licensed H.264/AVC decoding products. The H.264 Advanced Video Codec standard as promulgated by ITU-T H.264 (05/2003), MPEG-4 PART 10, and ISO/IEC 14496-10:2003 utilizes fundamental and innovative contributions made by Nokia that reduce the amount of digital data needed to represent video. Nokia's innovations allow video to be transmitted over communications networks, such as cellular networks, with high quality and dramatically lower bandwidth requirements. Nokia's innovations also significantly reduce the size of video files, allowing more efficient storage on mobile devices. Licensed products can more efficiently and effectively stream video over communications networks.

The Company is creating a platform that will have global reach, promoting open and free sharing of ideas and content, dialogue and debate, within the confines of U.S. law while sharing revenues with content creators. The Company is creating patent pending technologies for Digital Rights Management.

HOP-ON, INC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Hop-on, Inc. ("the Company") was formed under the laws of Nevada on March 16, 1993 under the name of New Discoveries Publishing Corporation and adopted later as NWDP.com, Inc. The Company was also qualified to transact business in the State of California on March 24, 1999.

In 2001 the Company shifted emphasis to develop and market wireless phone products. The Company is the developer and manufacturer of the world's first disposable, recyclable and contract free cell phone. Its initial IS-95 CDMA phones provided a much-needed alternative to full service cellular contracts and prepaid calling. The Company targets its phones to both emerging market carriers, domestic and international carriers, and resellers needing an entry level priced phone.

Beginning in 2002 through 2004, the Company secured essential patents and licensing agreement for GSM and GPRS technology from Nokia, NEC, Alcatel, Siemens, Phillips, Motorola, Lucent Technologies, and Ericsson. 2003, The Company authorized a preferred series of stock for 10,000,000 shares. The Company began shipping to the Mexican market homologated phones with the largest carrier in Latin America. The Company also continued to sell various cell phone accessories throughout the United States.

In May 2005, the Company changed its name to Hop-on, Inc. Peter Michaels Pled Guilty to Conspiracy to Launder Illegal Proceeds. Through 2006, the Company established operations in India, the world's second largest emerging market, and began development of Wi-Fi cell phone technology. The Company's ever-expanding line of products included three new CDMA phones models, as well as phones featuring cameras and MP3 players. Hop-on also continued to ship phones to the largest Mexican wireless carrier and introduced GSM technology to the U.S. market.

In 2007, the Company expanded the company into the Internet gaming market with the source code of a "client-served based, on-line gaming software." The Company is pursuing gaming licenses for legal Internet gambling to be played over personal cell phones and PDAs. Hop-on is currently in beta testing for the gaming software and has plans for the full-scale launch of this new venture as soon as the licenses are obtained. Peter Michaels' Modified Judgment in his Criminal Case, Plead Guilty to Conspiracy to Launder Illegal Proceeds and received 3 years' probation, electronic Monitoring (home arrest) for 180 days, $100 Assessment (satisfied 11/18/05) and a $2,000 fine (satisfied 11/18/05). The value of the Intangible Asset- Patents went from $1,000,000 on June 30, 2007 to $131,145 due to a correction in accounting procedures. GAAP states that patents need to be posted at the cost invested in getting the patent, not at what the patent is worth.

In 2008, Hop-on continued to promote and homologate its phones in the U.S. and abroad. The company is focusing on Tier 1 and Tier 2 carriers and on main-stream distribution. It has currently brought five new phones to market. Hop-on is also in final negotiations for a Joint Venture with a foreign OEM (Original Equipment Manufacturer) to increase shareholder equity and its asset base.

In 2009, Hop-on lost a major sale of phones to a distributor in Mexico. Hop-on also dissolved the equity and joint venture with the OEM manufacture. Hop-on filed a lawsuit against a prior acquisition for Fraud and Breach of Contract. The opposition received a default judgment against Hop-on. Hop-on, will file to set the default aside and pursue litigation.
