NOTE 1 – NATURE OF OPERATIONS AND ORGANIZATION

History of Organization

Here To Serve Holding Corp. (the “Company,” “we” or “our”) was incorporated in the State of Delaware as New Ithaca Corporation on September 22, 1983. In 2006, the Company operated as F3 Technologies and began trading on the OTC Market Exchange under the symbol FTCH. In September 2013 it began operating as Here To Serve Holding Corp. trading under the symbol HTSC. Over the next several years, the Company consulted in the software development industry, and currently it provides consulting services to small publicly traded companies that need assistance in financial reporting, product development or marketing.

In fiscal 2020, the Company’s wholly owned subsidiary, ICF Industries Inc. (“ICF”), began providing financial reporting and advisory services to mining companies and discovered an opportunity to acquire mining claims in a nickel-rich area. Consequently, the Company formed a wholly owned subsidiary, Fortune Nickel and Gold Inc. (“Fortune”) to pursue the acquisition, exploration and development of mining properties in prolific jurisdictions, and began accumulating single cell mining claims.

Fortune has acquired mineral rights on 183 unpatented mining claims in the Timmins Mining Camp, Ontario, Canada, for the purpose of exploration and potential development of nickel, gold, copper, and other metals on a total of approximately 9,200 acres. Fortune's goal is to mine metals that sustain the global economy and replace fossil fuels with low-carbon energy. Metals such as copper facilitate the generation, storage and transmission of electricity, and nickel is a key component in the batteries of electric vehicles. Fortune owns 183 mining claims that lie at the core of the Abitibi Greenstone Belt, which contains some of the world's largest deposits of gold, copper, zinc, nickel, and platinum-group metals. Nickel is a crucial battery metal in the electric vehicle supply chain.

ICF accounts for all the Company’s revenues. It holds a basket of minority positions in publicly traded companies. It receives cash and equity securities in exchange for marketing and financial reporting services.

In fiscal 2022 the Company purchased three additional wholly owned subsidiaries from its Chief Executive Officer. Its Transcendence Age Corp. subsidiary works with KRTL Biotech Inc. and its affiliates (“KRTL”). Their goal is to discover and distribute psychedelic medicines to medical treatment centers to alleviate suffering and improve health. KRTL has approval from South Korea’s Ministry of Food and Drug Safety to study psilocybin and CBD in South Korea with its team of doctors, chemists, and researchers. The team has years of experience with research and development of custom formulations for CBD, terpenes and other cannabinoids, which they believe will allow them to fast track the production cycle. Other subsidiaries, TelcoSoftware.com Corp. and AVI Holding Corp. are inactive.

NOTE 2 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Principle of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly owned subsidiaries after elimination of significant intercompany balances and transactions. The Company uses the accrual basis of accounting and accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The Company has a September 30 fiscal year end.

Use of Estimates

In preparing financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, management is required to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. The most significant estimates relate to income tax valuation allowance, the valuation of warrants and the allowance for doubtful accounts. On a continual basis, management reviews its estimates, utilizing currently available information, changes in facts and circumstances, historical experience and reasonable assumptions. After such reviews, and if deemed appropriate, those estimates are adjusted accordingly. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents. The Company has no cash equivalents. The Company uses one financial institution for its cash balances and has not maintained cash balances that exceed federally insured limits.

Investments

The FASB issued ASU No. 2016-01, Financial Instruments – Overall (Subtopic 825-10): Recognition and Measurement of Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities, which the Company follows for the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of financial instruments.

Exploration and Evaluation of Mineral Properties

Exploration and evaluation assets represent properties on which the Company is conducting exploration to determine whether significant mineralization exists or for which the Company has identified a mineral resource of such quantity and grade or quality that it has reasonable prospects for economic extraction. All costs incurred prior to obtaining the legal right to undertake exploration and evaluation activities on an area of interest are expensed as incurred. Once the legal right to explore has been obtained, exploration expenditures are capitalized in respect of each identifiable area of interest until a technical feasibility study has been completed and the commercial viability of extracting a mineral resource is demonstrable. Exploration and evaluation activities include the following:

- acquiring the rights to explore;
- researching and analyzing historical exploration data;
- gathering exploration data through topographical, geochemical and geophysical studies;
- exploratory drilling, trenching and sampling;
- determining and examining the volume and grade of the resource; and
- compiling pre-feasibility and feasibility studies.

Exploration and evaluation assets are carried at historical cost, less any impairment, if applicable.

Revenue Recognition

In May 2014, the FASB issued ASU 2014-09, "Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606)." Topic 606 established that the Company recognize revenue using the following five-step model

- Identification of the contract, or contracts, with a customer;
- Identification of the performance obligations in the contract;
- Determination of the transaction price;
- Allocation of the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract; and
- Recognition of revenue when or as, the Company satisfies a performance obligation.

The Company identifies performance obligations in contracts with customers, which primarily are professional services. The transaction price is determined based on the amount the Company expects to be entitled to receive in exchange for transferring the promised services to the customer. The transaction price in the contract is allocated to each distinct performance obligation in an amount that represents the relative amount of consideration expected to be received in exchange for satisfying each performance obligation. Revenue is recognized when performance obligations are satisfied. The Company usually bills its customers before it provides any services and begins performing services after the first payment is received. Contracts are typically one year or less. For larger contracts, in addition to the initial payment, the Company may allow for progress payments throughout the term of the contract.

Judgments and Estimates

The estimation of variable consideration for each performance obligation requires the Company to make subjective judgments. The Company enters contracts with customers that sometimes include promises to transfer multiple services, such as digital marketing, financial statement preparation, offering statements, and consulting services. For arrangements with multiple services, the Company evaluates whether the individual services qualify as distinct performance obligations. In its assessment of whether a service is a distinct performance obligation, the Company determines whether the customer can benefit from the service on its own or with other readily available resources, and whether the service is separately identifiable from other services in the contract. This evaluation requires the Company to assess the nature of each individual service offering and how the services are provided in the context of the contract, including whether the services are significantly integrated, highly interrelated, or significantly modify each other, which may require judgment based on the facts and circumstances of the contract.

When agreements involve multiple distinct performance obligations, the Company allocates arrangement consideration to all performance obligations at the inception of an arrangement based on the relative standalone selling prices (“SSP”) of each performance obligation. Where the Company has standalone sales data for its performance obligations which are indicative of the price at which the Company sells a promised service separately to a customer, such data is used to establish SSP. In instances where standalone sales data is not available for a particular performance obligation, the Company estimates SSP by the use of observable market and cost-based inputs. The Company continues to review the factors used to establish list price and will adjust standalone selling price methodologies as necessary on a prospective basis.

Service Revenue

Service revenue from subscriptions to the Company's digital marketing service is recognized over time on a ratable basis over the contractual subscription term beginning on the date that the service begins. Payments received in advance of subscription services being rendered are recorded as a deferred revenue. Professional services revenue is recognized in accordance with the terms of the service contract.

When a contract with a customer is signed, the Company assesses whether collection of the fees under the arrangement is probable. The Company estimates the amount to reserve for uncollectible amounts based on the aging of the contract balance, current and historical customer trends, and communications with its customers. These reserves are recorded as operating expenses against the contract asset.

Contract Assets

Contract assets are recorded for those parts of the contract consideration not yet invoiced but for which the performance obligations are completed. The revenue is recognized when the customer receives services. Contract assets are included in other current or non-current assets in the consolidated balance sheets, depending on if their reduction will be recognized during the succeeding twelve-month period or beyond.

Deferred Revenue

Deferred revenues represent billings or payments received in advance of revenue recognition and are recognized upon transfer of control. Balances consist primarily of prepaid services not yet provided as of the balance sheet date. Deferred revenues that will be recognized during the succeeding twelve-month period are recorded as current deferred revenues in the consolidated balance sheets, with the remainder recorded as other non-current liabilities in the consolidated balance sheets.

Costs to Obtain a Customer Contract

Sales commissions and related expenses are considered incremental and recoverable costs of acquiring customer contracts. These costs are capitalized as other current or non-current assets and amortized on a straight-line basis over the life of the contract, which approximates the benefit period. The benefit period was estimated by taking into consideration the length of customer contracts, technology lifecycle, and other factors. All sales commissions are recorded as consulting fees within the Company's consolidated statement of operations.

Remaining Performance Obligations

The Company's subscription terms are typically less than one year. All of the Company's revenues are considered contract revenues. As of December 31, 2021 and September 30, 2021 there was no contract revenue which has not yet been recognized.

Cost of Services

Cost of services consist of direct costs that we pay to third parties in order to provide the services that generate revenue.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Under the Fair Value Measurements Topic of the FASB Accounting Standards Codification, the Company bases its fair value on the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. It is the Company's policy to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when developing fair value measurements, in accordance with the fair value hierarchy. Fair value measurements for assets and liabilities where there exists limited or no observable market data and, therefore, are based primarily upon management's own estimates, are often calculated based on current pricing policy, the economic and competitive environment, the characteristics of the asset or liability and other such factors. Therefore, the results cannot be determined with precision and may not be realized in an actual sale or immediate settlement of the asset or liability. Additionally, there may be inherent weaknesses in any calculation technique, and changes in the underlying assumptions used, including discount rates and estimates of future cash flows, that could significantly affect the results of current or future value.

Impairment of long-lived assets

The Company periodically reviews its long-lived assets for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the assets may not be fully recoverable. The Company recognizes an impairment loss when the sum of expected undiscounted future cash flows is less than the carrying amount of the asset. The amount of impairment is measured as the difference between the asset's estimated fair value and its book value. During the three-month periods ended December 31, 2021 and 2020, the Company did not record any impairment losses.

Income Taxes

The Company accounts for income taxes under the asset and liability method. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases and operating loss and tax credit carryforwards. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable income and the reversal of deferred tax liabilities during the period in which related temporary differences become deductible. A valuation allowance has been established to eliminate the Company's deferred tax assets as it is more likely than not that any of the deferred tax assets will be realized.

The Company records uncertain tax positions in accordance with ASC 740 on the basis of a two-step process whereby (1) we determine whether it is more likely than not that the tax positions will be sustained on the basis of the technical merits of the position and (2) for those tax positions that meet the more-likely-than-not recognition threshold, we recognize the largest amount of tax benefit that is more than 50 percent likely to be realized upon ultimate settlement with the related tax authority.

Based on the Company's history of losses and tax loss carryforwards available, it has concluded that there are no significant uncertain tax positions requiring recognition in the Company's financial statements. The Company believes that its income tax positions would be sustained on audit and does not anticipate any adjustments that would result in a material change to its financial position.

The Company may in the future become subject to foreign, federal, state and local income taxation though it has not been since inception. The Company is not presently subject to any income tax audit in any taxing jurisdiction.

Basic Income Per Share

Basic income per share is calculated by dividing the Company's net income applicable to common shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares during the period. A diluted earnings per share is calculated by dividing the Company's net income available to common shareholders by the diluted weighted average number of shares outstanding during the year. The diluted weighted average number of shares outstanding is the basic weighted number of shares adjusted for any potentially dilutive debt or equity. As of December 31, 2021 and 2020 the Company had a series of convertible securities outstanding that could be converted into approximately 68,487,189 and 70,353,919 common shares, respectively.

Stock-Based Compensation

The Company utilizes the Black-Scholes option pricing model to estimate the fair value of stock options or common stock purchase warrants awarded to consultants or employees at the date of grant, which requires the input of highly subjective assumptions, including expected volatility and expected life. Changes in these inputs and assumptions can materially affect the measure of estimated fair value of share-based compensation. These assumptions are subjective and generally require significant analysis and judgment to develop. The Company estimates volatility by considering the historical stock volatility. The Company has opted to use the simplified method for estimating expected term.

On December 14, 2021, the company issued two warrants that expire on September 30, 2026 as compensation for the Company's two independent board members, to each purchase up to 750,000 shares of the Company's common stock at a price of $0.069. Using the Black-Scholes valuation method with assumptions including: (1) a term of 4.8 years; (2) a computed volatility rate of 386%; (3) a discount rate of 1.18%; and (4) zero dividends, each warrant was valued at $50,999 and recorded as a consulting expense in the three-month period ended December 31, 2021.

On October 11, 2021, the company issued a warrant that expires on September 30, 2025 as compensation for advisory services to our subsidiary Transcendence Age Corp., to purchase up to 250,000 shares of the Company's common stock at a price of $0.063. Using the Black-Scholes valuation method with assumptions including: (1) a term of 3.97 years; (2) a computed volatility rate of 386%; (3) a discount rate of 0.82%; and (4) zero dividends, the warrant was valued at $15,773 and recorded as a consulting expense in the three-month period ended December 31, 2021.

Effective March 17, 2021, the company issued a warrant that expires on September 30, 2026 as compensation related to aboriginal rights in Timmins, Ontario, to purchase up to 100,000 shares of the Company's common stock at a price of $0.1475. Using the Black-Scholes valuation method with assumptions including: (1) a term of 5.54 years; (2) a computed volatility rate of 386%; (3) a discount rate of 0.8%; and (4) zero dividends, the warrant was valued at $13,750. Twenty-five percent of the warrant vests every six months, and fifty percent of the warrant is vested at December 31, 2021 and September 30, 2021. So long as the warrant is not terminated, the vesting of the remaining value of $6,875 will be an addition to mineral interests in fiscal 2022.

On January 6, 2021, the company issued a warrant that expires on September 30, 2024 as compensation for advisory board services, to purchase up to 500,000 shares of the Company's common stock at a price of $0.06. Using the Black-Scholes valuation method with assumptions including: (1) a term of 3.73 years; (2) a computed volatility rate of 373%; (3) a discount rate of 0.8%; and (4) zero dividends, the warrant was valued at $48,741 and recorded as a consulting expense in fiscal 2021.

The company also issues restricted shares of common stock as stock-based compensation. The shares are valued at the closing price on the day of issuance. 2,000,000 shares, valued at $348,800, issued in May 2021, were immediately expensed due to the terms of a consulting contract, and 1 million shares, valued at $100,800, issued in July 2021, were recorded as a prepaid expense, based on the terms of a consulting contract.

Prepaid expenses from the issuance of common stock for services amounted to $55,509 and $80,916 as of December 31, 2021 and September 30, 2021, respectively.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In March 2017 the FASB issued ASU 2017-04 Intangibles—Goodwill and Other (Topic 350) Simplifying the Test for Goodwill Impairment. This amendment simplifies the measurement of goodwill by eliminating Step 2 from the goodwill impairment test. This update is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2021. The adoption of ASU No. 2017-04 is not expected to have a material impact on the Company's financial statements.

Management does not believe that any other recently issued, but not yet effective, accounting standards could have a material effect on the accompanying financial statements. As new accounting pronouncements are issued, we will adopt those that are applicable under the circumstances.

The Company does not expect the adoption of recently issued accounting pronouncements to have a significant impact on the Company's results of operations, financial position or cash flow.

NOTE 10 – FAIR VALUE

The Company uses fair value measurements to record fair value adjustments to certain assets and liabilities and to determine fair value disclosures of financial instruments on a recurring basis.

Fair Value Hierarchy

The Fair Value Measurements Topic of the FASB Accounting Standards Codification establishes a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to measurements involving significant unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are as follows:

- Level 1: inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the company has the ability to access at the measurement date.
- Level 2: inputs are inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly.
- Level 3: inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

Financial assets measured at fair value on a recurring basis are summarized below as of December 31, 2021 and 2021:

	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total
September 30, 2021
Equity securities at fair value	$ —	$ 4,074,250	$ —	$ 4,074,250
Related party equity securities at fair value	$ —	$ 93,000	$ —	$ 93,000
December 31, 2021
Equity securities at fair value	$ —	$ 3,195,950	$ —	$ 3,195,950
Related party equity securities at fair value	$ —	$ 81,000	$ —	$ 81,000

Determination of Fair Value

Under the Fair Value Measurements Topic of the FASB Accounting Standards Codification, we base fair value on the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. It is our policy to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when developing fair value measurements, in accordance with the fair value hierarchy. Fair value measurements for assets and liabilities where there exists limited or no observable market data and, therefore, are based primarily upon management's own estimates, are often calculated based on current pricing policy, the economic and competitive environment, the characteristics of the asset or liability and other such factors. Therefore, the results cannot be determined with precision and may not be realized in an actual sale or immediate settlement of the asset or liability. Additionally, there may be inherent weaknesses in any calculation technique, and changes in the underlying assumptions used, including discount rates and estimates of future cash flows that could significantly affect the results of current or future value.

Following is a description of valuation methodologies used for assets and liabilities recorded at fair value and for estimating fair value where it is practicable to do so for financial instruments not recorded at fair value (disclosures required by the Fair Value Measurements Topic of the FASB Accounting Standards Codification).

Cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, and accounts payable

In general, carrying amounts approximate fair value because of the short maturity of these instruments.

Debt

The debt is carried at its face value plus accrued interest. Based on the small size of the Company, it is impracticable for the Company to estimate the fair value of its debt.

The Company has no instruments with significant off balance sheet risk.
