NOTE 1- NATURE OF OPERATIONS

The company was incorporated in the State of Nevada on December 29, 1994.
On October 15, 2011 the Company acquired All American Leasing, Inc. in exchange for stock and debt assumption.

The Board of Directors held a meeting on August 16, 2015, to reflect the current situation of the Company. The tank leasing agreement between All American Leasing, a wholly-owned subsidiary of All American Energy Holding, Inc. and All American Propane of Yakima, WA would be dissolved. All tanks and equipment would be returned to All American Propane and all common stock held by All American Propane would be returned to All American Energy Holding, Inc. All American Leasing, a wholly-owned subsidiary of All American Energy Holding, Inc. would retain ownership of the mining and oil claims.

Pursuant to the Board of Directors meeting, Dick Start and Carole Start would resign from the Board of All American Energy Holding, Inc. effective August 17, 2015.

As of December 31, 2016, the Company had revenues in the amount of $0. The Company's primary activities have consisted of existing Mining and Oil claims. The Company is currently seeking to acquire various mineral claims in the Western United States.

The Company is considered to be in the development stage, and as such, the Company's financial statements are prepared in accordance with the ("Accounting Standards Codification ASC") topic 915, "Development Stage Entities". The Company is subject to all of the risks associated with development stage companies.

NOTE 2- SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements are presented in U.S. dollars and have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America("USGAAP"), and pursuant to the accounting and disclosure rules and regulations of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC").

Revenue Recognition

Revenue is derived from sales of products to distributors and consumers. Revenue will be recognized when earned, as reasonably determinable in accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board Accounting Standards Policy ("ASP") 605-15-25, "Revenue Recognition."

The following are the conditions that must be met in order to recognize revenue in accordance with ASP: (i) the buyer's price is fixed or determinable as of the date of sale (presumably via executed final sales contract); (ii) the buyer has paid or is obligated to pay the seller based on nothing except the delivery of the product (i.e. cannot be contingent on any other future events); (iii) the buyer's obligation to pay the seller changes only if the product is returned to the seller (e.g. theft, damage, or loss of product does not negotiate buyers obligation); (iv) the buyer acquiring the product must have economic substance outside of the product provided by the seller (that is, the buyer cannot be a simple re-seller established by the seller for the purpose of what would amount to inflating recognized sales); (v) the sellers obligation to the buyer significantly ends at delivery (the seller cannot be obligated to direct buyers to the seller, substantially advertise/distribute for the seller, etc).

Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable are stated at the amount management expects to collect from balances outstanding at year end. Management provides for probable uncollectible amounts through a charge to earnings and a credit to an allowance based on its assessment of the current status of individual accounts. Balances that are still outstanding after management has used reasonable collection efforts are written off through a charge to the valuation allowance.

Allowance for Doubtful Accounts

An allowance for doubtful accounts on accounts receivable is charged to operations in amounts sufficient to maintain the allowance for uncollectible accounts at a level management believes is adequate to cover any probable losses. Management determines the adequacy of the allowance based on historical write-off percentages and information collected from individual customers. Accounts receivable are charged off against the allowance when collectability is determined to be permanently impaired.

Stock Based Compensation

When applicable, the Company will account for stock-based payments to employees in accordance with ASC 718, "Stock Compensation" ("ASC 718"). Stock-based payments to employees include grants of stock, grants of stock options and issuance of warrants that are recognized in the consolidated statement of operations based on their fair values at the date of grant.

The Company accounts for stock-based payments to non-employees in accordance with ASC 505-50, "Equity-Based Payments to Non-Employees." Stock-based payments to non-employees include grants of stock, grants of stock options and issuances of warrants that are recognized in the consolidated statement of operations based on the value of the vested portion of the award over the requisite service period as measured at its then-current fair value as of each financial reporting date.

The Company calculates the fair value of option grants and warrants issuances utilizing the Binomial pricing model. The amount of stock-based compensation recognized during a period is based on the value of the portion of the awards that are ultimately expected to vest. ASC 718 requires forfeitures to be estimated at the time stock options are granted and warrants are issued to employees and non-employees, and revised, if necessary, in subsequent periods if actual forfeitures differ from those estimates. The term "forfeitures" is distinct from "cancellations" or "expirations" and represents only the unvested portion of the surrendered stock option or warrant. The Company estimates forfeiture rates for all unvested awards when calculating the expense for the period. In estimating the forfeiture rate, the Company monitors both stock option and warrants exercises as well as employee termination patterns. The resulting stock-based compensation expense for both employee and non-employee awards is generally recognized on a straight-line basis over the period in which the Company expects to receive the benefit, which is generally the vesting period.

Loss per Share

The Company reports earnings (loss) per share in accordance with ASC Topic 260-10, "Earnings per Share." Basic earnings (loss) per share are computed by dividing income (loss) available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares available. Diluted earnings (loss) per share is computed similar to basic earnings (loss) per share except that the denominator is increased to include the number of additional common shares that would have been outstanding if the potential common shares had been issued and if the additional common shares were dilutive.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purpose of the statements of cash flows, the Company considers cash and cash equivalents to include all stable, highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less.

Concentration of Credit Risk

The Company primarily transacts its business with one financial institution. The amount on deposit in that one institution may from time to time exceed the federally insured limit.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Income Taxes

The Company accounts for its income taxes under the provisions of ASC Topic 740, “Income Taxes.” The method of accounting for income taxes under ASC 740 is an asset and liability method. The asset and liability method requires the recognition of deferred tax liabilities and assets for the expected future tax consequences of temporary differences between tax bases and financial reporting bases of other assets and liabilities.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

The Company continually assesses any new accounting pronouncements to determine their applicability to the Company. Where it is determined that a new accounting pronouncement affects the Company’s financial reporting, the Company undertakes a study to determine the consequence of the change to its financial statements and assures that there are proper controls in place to ascertain that the Company’s financials properly reflect the change. The Company currently does not have any recent accounting pronouncements that they are studying and feel may be applicable.

Research and Product Development

Research and product development expenses are charged to operations as incurred. For internally developed patents, all costs incurred to the point when a patent application is to be filed are expended as incurred as research and development expense. Patent application costs, generally legal costs, are expensed as research and development costs until such time as the future economic benefits of such patents become more certain. The Company has startup expenses that will be charged to stock holders’ equity upon the receipt of the capital raised and will be paid back first.

NOTE 3- STOCKHOLDERS’ EQUITY

The company’s’ capitalization is 5,000,000,000 common shares authorized with a par value of $.001 per share. And 5,000,000 Preferred Class A and 5,000,000 Preferred Class B with
A par value of $.001. December 4th 2016, Board of Directors approved reversing both Series A and B preferred shares 1 for 5,000,000

NOTE 4- NOTES PAYABLE

As of December 31, 2016 and 2015 the company had unsecured notes payable with shareholders of $186,776 and $183,275. On June 30, 2016, and investor purchased a series of aged notes and an $183,275 promissory note was issued in replacement. The aged notes the investor purchased have been retired and are no longer a liability to company, and the Company has sent confirmations to prior note holders

Note 5-PENDING LITIGATION

The company has been named as a Defendant in a lawsuit filed against it when it was operational as Techalt, Inc. The company is one of many defendants with the lead defendant being IBM Corporation. Counsel has responded to the lawsuit and is of the opinion it has no merit against the issuer, or of any beneficial owner, officer or director of the issuer.

For information on the lawsuit, https://www.gpo.gov/fdsys/granule/USCOURTS-ilnd-1_11-cv-03482/USCOURTS-ilnd-1_11-cv-03482-0

Note 6 – INCOME TAXES

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are computed annually for differences between financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities that will result in taxable or deductible amounts in the future based on enacted tax laws and rates applicable to the periods in which the differences are expected to affect taxable income. Valuation allowances are established when necessary to reduce deferred tax assets to the amount expected to be realized. Income tax expense is the tax payable or refundable for the period plus or minus the change during the period in deferred tax assets and liabilities.

The Company adopted the provisions of ASC 740-10-50, formerly FIN 48, and "Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes". The Company had no material unrecognized income tax assets or liabilities as of December 31, 2016.

The Company's policy regarding income tax interest and penalties is to expense those items as general and administrative expense but to identify them for tax purposes. During the period January 1, 2016 through December 31, 2016, there were no income tax, or related interest and penalty items in the income statement, or liabilities on the balance sheet. The Company files income tax returns in the U.S. federal jurisdiction and Nevada state jurisdiction. We are not currently involved in any income tax examinations.

Note 7. –GOING CONCERT AND MANAGEMENT PLANS

As of December 31, 2016, the Company's cash on hand was $ 437. As of December 31, 2016, the Company plans on meeting its current liquidity requirements principally through the private placement of common and preferred stock.

If the Company is unable to raise additional capital, the Company may have to curtail its research and development efforts, delay payments to vendors, and/or initiate cost reductions, which would have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations. These matters raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. The accompanying financial statements do not include any adjustments that might be necessary if the Company is unable to continue as a going concern.
