ITEM 6. DESCRIBE THE ISSUER'S BUSINESS, PRODUCTS AND SERVICES.

A. DESCRIPTION OF ISSUER'S BUSINESS OPERATIONS.

The Company is a holding company with a current focus on three market segments in the energy industry, the telecom industry and information/computer technology industry. The Company concentrates its energy-related efforts in acquisition and development of resource assets within that industry that are either profitable or can be made profitable by application of the Company's management and/or resource expertise. In the telecom industry the Company concentrates its efforts on identifying sites around the world at which to install its high-speed wireless networks at lowest cost but with highest net revenue return. In the Information and Computer Technologies industry, the Company strives to meet needs for home, business, communication, and entertainment needs. It is uniquely positioned by having flexible tools in various environments, with adaptive resources, which allows Pure Digital Technology to be widely adopted

The Company had a Value Added Distributor agreement with Sweratel AB, a Swedish company and primary component provider, including a provision granting exclusivity in North America, the Caribbean and anywhere else in the world where Sweratel sees a business value. On August 11, 2015, Sweratel announced the cancellation of the agreement due to our inability to deliver on its terms. On August 20, 2015, Sweratel issued a Statement Letter essentially supporting our ability to utilize Sweratel equipment, software and services essentially under the same terms as in the VAD except without exclusivity in any territory and requiring Sweratel prior approval. We are working to continue developing this business under these terms and ultimately qualify for a new VAD agreement with Sweratel.

B. DATE AND STATE OF INCORPORATION

The Company was incorporated in the State of Nevada in 2004.

C. PRIMARY AND SECONDARY SIC CODES

The Company's primary SIC code is 1311 (oil and gas).

The SIC code for its Pure Mobility International Inc. subsidiary is 481302 (online service providers)

D. THE COMPANY'S FISCAL YEAR END DATE

The Company's fiscal year ends on April 30.

E. PRINCIPAL PRODUCTS OR SERVICES AND THEIR MARKETS

In the energy industry, the Company focuses on exploration and development of natural resources, primarily oil, the markets for which are worldwide dealers and wholesale buyers. Oil is widely used throughout the United States. Recent, dramatic commodity price decreases and sluggish global demand means the outlook for such resources is weak. Extraction has increased in areas where production costs were formerly prohibitive. Previously, this created some favorable opportunities for the company in both development and redevelopment of its lease and any future leases that it might acquire.

In the telecom industry, the Company focuses on identifying locations around the world either underserved or not served with IP-based access to the World Wide Web. In a recently published white paper, Technology Business Research, Inc. (TBR) states that, TBR believes Pure Mobility's business model exemplifies a business case with a high likelihood of success for a fast ROI. TBR believes the Wi-Fi First market is in a nascent stage with a number of players but no dominant model. Most of the activity is focused on direct acquisition or deployment of the technology by service providers themselves, with few players focusing on local service providers. And that, in addition to the unique focus, Pure Mobility can enable local providers to be competitive with mobile data services in a very short time (i.e., weeks versus the usual months of radio-access network deployment and testing). TBR also states that, "most incumbents are waiting until 2020 to deploy services that offer speeds of 500Mbps to 1Gbps."

In the Information and Computer Technologies industry, the Company strives to meet needs for home, business, communication, and entertainment needs. It is uniquely positioned by having flexible tools in various environments, with adaptive resources, which allows Pure Digital Technology to be widely adopted.

COMPARED TO THE PERIOD ENDED JULY 31, 2016:
