Trade Show Update

Harvest 360 Tech and Blue Diamond Ventures, Inc. recently merged their efforts together to provide a comprehensive package to the industry. This show in Michigan represents the first joint effort in the marketplace. Grownetics Cultivation Controls and Hightech Extracts are some of the strategic partners that will exhibit alongside BLDV and H360 at this show.

“The Cannabis Industrial Marketplace or CIMP is in its first year and we happy to sponsor the Medical Cannabis Pavilion inside the show.” said Josh Alper CEO of Blue Diamond Ventures, “with clarity on legal adult-use in Michigan we can now return to our focus of real medical applications, we believe that Michigan can support Pharma-Grade Medical Projects”

Todd Scattini CEO of Harvest 360 Tech said “One of our goals is to buildout innovations and medical cannabis applications that will be most helpful for the veteran population. These applications include symptoms of PTSD, depression anxiety, insomnia, pain relief, and opioid addiction, I do believe that we are on a new frontier of medicine, this is truly a paradigm shift in health and wellness.”, continued Scattini as he explained the Company’s goal to further explore this area of medicine and eventually gain the attention of the Department of Defense and the Veterans Administration.

Michigan has a mature cannabis industry and is poised to be a major player in the industry, the Cannabis Industrial Marketplace and Expo in Birch Run next Tuesday and Wednesday will be a launchpad to activity of all kinds of Cannabis Business in Michigan.

Todd Scattini will be a Keynote speaker at the Emerald Conference in San Diego on February 28th, this invitation is a recognition of the value that “Hemp Colonel” brings to the BLDV and the Industry

Steve Baugh

BLDV and H360 mourn the February 16th passing of Steven Baugh, valued independent science advisor to our group of companies. Steve and his co-inventor Peter Harrington did the work that led to the Dots-in-a-Box patent, an innovative technology that will prove to be a lasting legacy for him and the industry. Please join us in sending condolences his family
