

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Solidus Communications Subsidiary, Illumivation Labs, Files Provisional Patent for Breakthrough Industrial and Military Technology

Ormond Beach, FL – April 14, 2025 – Solidus Communications, Inc. (OTC PINK: SLDC) (“SLDC” or the “Company”), through its subsidiary Illumivation Labs, Inc., a leading technology incubator, announces the filing of a provisional patent application with the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO). The rights to this patent-pending invention have been assigned to Solidus Communications, Inc.

This groundbreaking innovation marks SLDC’s entry into the industrial and military sectors, introducing a novel method for triggering reactions. The technology leverages materials proven to withstand mechanical, thermal, optical, ionizing radiation, and electromagnetic disturbances, ensuring a highly resilient and mission-critical triggering mechanism.

Designed for both industrial and military applications, the patent-pending invention enables precise customization of voltage and current over a specified duration within defined parameters. SLDC believes this advancement is a game-changer, particularly for military technology.

A proof-of-concept prototype has been developed, completed, and successfully tested. A prototype incorporating explosives is currently in the staging phase, aiming to demonstrate the invention’s suitability for weapon detonation.

“This innovation represents a bold step for Solidus Communications as we expand into new industries,” said William J. Sanchez, CEO of Solidus Communications, Inc. “I am working toward positioning Solidus Communications as a holder and licensor of forward-thinking patents. Illumivation Labs, as an incubator, is beginning to yield results—and there’s more to come.”
