

UNIVERSAL WELLNESS HOLDING CORP (OTC: "ADHC") PROVIDES FEDERAL COURT LITIGATION UPDATE
PLAINTIFF'S REQUEST TO AMEND COMPLAINT IS DENIED AND CASE IS TRANSFERRED TO CALIFORNIA

Del Mar, CA (Nov-11-2021)

Universal Wellness Corp fka American Diversified Holdings Corporation (OTC: "ADHC") announced today the Court in the SAVEENE vs REMO, et al. has denied the Saveene's request to amend its complaint and ordered the case to be transferred from the South District of New York to Southern District of California consistent with Remo and ADHC's submissions.

The court stated that Saveene's proposed amendments were "FUTILE" and denied Saveene's request to amend its complaint finding the request as "APPEAR[ING] TO BE GAMESMANSHIP." See copy of Court's memo endorsement below. This decision by the Southern District of New York sends a clear message to the plaintiff that their futile arguments and gamesmanship in the matter will not be tolerated. Defendants anticipate that Remo's motion to dismiss will now be heard in the Southern District of California.

ADHC and its CEO are committed to building shareholder value and will not tolerate any more attacks on the company.

Docket Text:

MEMO ENDORSEMENT on re: [101] Letter, filed by Saveene Corp.
ENDORSEMENT: Plaintiff's request to seek leave to amend is DENIED on the ground that it appears to be gamesmanship and the proposed amendments would be futile, substantially for the reasons stated in Defendants' submissions. For substantially the reasons stated in Defendants' submissions, the action is transferred to the Southern District of California. The Clerk of Court is respectfully directed to transfer the case. SO ORDERED. (Signed by Judge Lorna G. Schofield on 11/10/2021) (mml) Transmission to Office of the Clerk of Court for processing.
