About Taylor Consulting, Inc.

Taylor Consulting, Inc, based in Katy, Texas, is positioning itself to become a leading mineral interest aggregator in the Energy Midstream sector. Over the last decade, TAYO managed to identify multiple areas of needed infrastructure improvement, particularly in support of natural gas pipelines where multiple vertical integration opportunities exist, including broadband data transmission, unconventional use of energy that involves converting (otherwise) stranded gas to power cryptocurrency mining, as well as new energy initiatives created by the emerging environmental, social and corporate governance ("ESG") market, such as carbon sequestration..
