On June 21, 2019, the Company filed a Certificate of Amendment of Certificate of Incorporation, with the Secretary of State of the State of Nevada, to change its name to Movement Industries Corporation.

On July 23, 2019, the Company completed the acquisition of 100% of the membership interests of HiAlloy Valve, LLC ("HAV"), a Texas limited liability company and became a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company. The acquisition was accounted for as a reorganization of entities under common control and as if HAV had been owned by the Company since March 4, 2019, when the entities became under common control, in accordance with the guidance for Transactions Between Entities Under Common under subsections of ASC 805-50 (see Note 4).

On December 3, 2019, the Company entered into Membership Interest Purchase Agreement ("Purchase Agreement") with SGX Industrial, LLC ("SGX"), a Texas based limited liability company. NOTE 2 – BASIS OF PRESENTATION AND GOING CONCERN

Basis of Presentation and Principles of Consolidation

The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (the "U.S. GAAP"). The Company's consolidated financial statements include the financial statements of its subsidiary, HiAlloy Valve, LLC. All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

In the opinion of the Company's management, all adjustments (consisting of normal recurring adjustments and reclassifications and non-recurring adjustments) necessary to present fairly the Company's results of operations for the years ended June 30, 2020 and 2019, cash flows for the years ended June 30, 2020 and 2019 and the Company's financial position at June 30, 2020 have been made.

In accordance with ASC 805-50-45-5, for transactions between entities under common control, financial statements and financial information presented for prior periods have been be retroactively adjusted to furnish comparative information. The transaction between entities under common control resulted in a change in reporting entity and required retrospective combination of the entities for all periods presented, as if the combination had been in effect since the inception of common control. Accordingly, the unaudited consolidated financial statements of the Company reflect the accounting of the combined acquired subsidiary, HAV, at historical carrying values (see Note 4).

Going Concern

These unaudited financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern, which contemplates, among other things, the realization of assets and the satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business. As of the year ended June 30, 2020, the Company had a net loss of $861,156, net cash used in operating activities of $717,887 and stockholders' deficit of $875,818, as reflected in the accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements. The Company intends to commence operations and raise the necessary funds to continue operations and acquire an operating business. The Company cannot be certain that it will be successful in these strategies even with the required funding.

Management believes that these matters raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern for twelve months from the issuance date of this report. Management cannot provide assurance that it will ultimately achieve profitable operations. If the Company is unable to raise additional capital or secure additional lending in the near future, management expects that the Company will need to curtail its operations. These unaudited financial statements do not include any adjustments related to the recoverability and classification of assets or the amounts and classification of liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

NOTE 3 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Use of Estimates

The preparation of the unaudited financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the unaudited consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from these estimates. Significant estimates made by management include, but are not limited to allowances on doubtful accounts receivable, estimates for obsolete inventory, valuation allowances for deferred tax assets, the fair value of non-cash equity transactions and stock-based compensation.

Cash and Cash Equivalent

For purposes of the statements of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid instruments with a maturity of three months or less at the purchase date and money market accounts to be cash equivalents. At June 30, 2020 and 2019, the Company did not have any cash equivalents.

Accounts Receivable and Allowance for Doubtful Accounts

Accounts receivable are stated at their net realizable value. The Company reviews its accounts to estimate losses resulting from the inability of its customer to make required payments. Any required allowance or direct write-offs is based on specific analysis of past due accounts and considers historical trends if write-offs. Past due is based on how recently payments have been received from customers.

The Company has a policy of providing an allowance for doubtful accounts based on its best estimate of the amount of probable credit losses in its existing accounts receivable. The Company periodically reviews its accounts receivable to determine whether an allowance is necessary based on an analysis of past due accounts and other factors that may indicate that the realization of an account may be in doubt. Account balances deemed to be uncollectible are charged to bad debt expense and included in the allowance after all means of collection have been exhausted and the potential for recovery is considered remote. As of June 30, 2020 and 2019, the Company did not have any allowance for doubtful accounts.

Inventory

Inventory consisting of finished goods related to the Company's products are stated at the lower of cost and net realizable value utilizing the first-in first-out (FIFO) method. A reserve is established when management determines that certain inventories may not be saleable. If inventory costs exceed expected net realizable value due to obsolescence or quantities in excess of expected demand, the Company will record reserves for the difference between the cost and the net realizable value. These reserves are recorded based on estimates and charged to impairment expense. As of June 30, 2020 and 2019, the Company determined that there was no allowance needed. The Company's inventory amounted to $56,115 and $50,000 as of June 30, 2020 and 2019, respectively, and consisted of industrial valves-finished goods.

Revenue Recognition

In May 2014, FASB issued an update Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") ("ASU 2014-09") establishing ASC Topic 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers ("ASC 606"). ASU 2014-09, as amended by subsequent ASUs on the topic, establishes a single comprehensive model for entities to use in accounting for revenue arising from contracts with customers and supersedes most of the existing revenue recognition guidance. This standard, which is effective for interim and annual reporting periods in fiscal years that begin after December 15, 2017, requires an entity to recognize revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services and also requires certain additional disclosures. The Company adopted this standard in 2018 using the modified retrospective approach, which requires applying the new standard to all existing contracts not yet completed as of the effective date and recording a cumulative-effect adjustment to retained earnings as of the beginning of the fiscal year of adoption. The Company has concluded that ASU 2014-09 did not have any impact on the process for, timing of, and presentation and disclosure of revenue recognition from customers.

On July 1, 2018, the Company adopted ASC Topic 606 and the related amendments Revenue from Contracts with Customers, which requires revenue to be recognized in a manner that depicts the transfer of goods or services to customers in amounts that reflect the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. The Company recognizes revenue by applying the following steps:

Step 1: Identify the contract(s) with a customer.

Step 2: Identify the performance obligations in the contract.

Step 3: Determine the transaction price.

Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract.

Step 5: Recognize revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation.

The Company's performance obligations are satisfied at the point in time when products are shipped or delivered to the customer, which is when the customer has title and the significant risks and rewards of ownership. Therefore, the Company's contracts have a single performance obligation (shipment of product). The Company primarily receives fixed consideration for sales of product.

Cost of Sales

The primary components of cost of sales include the cost of the product, shipping cost and custom's fee. For the years ended June 30 2020 and 2019, the Company incurred cost of sales of $859 and $3,815, respectively.

Fair value of financial instruments and fair value measurements

The Company analyzes all financial instruments with features of both liabilities and equity under the Financial Accounting Standard Board's (the "FASB") accounting standard for such instruments. Under this standard, financial assets and liabilities are classified in their entirety based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The Company did not identify any assets or liabilities that are required to be presented on the balance sheet at fair value in accordance with Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") Topic 820. ASC 825-10 "Financial Instruments", allows entities to voluntarily choose to measure certain financial assets and liabilities at fair value (fair value option). The fair value option may be elected on an instrument-by-instrument basis and is irrevocable, unless a new election date occurs. If the fair value option is elected for an instrument, unrealized gains and losses for that instrument should be reported in earnings at each subsequent reporting date. The Company did not elect to apply the fair value option to any outstanding instruments.

The carrying amounts reported in the balance sheets for cash, prepaid expenses, due from parent, accounts payable, accrued expenses and due to related party approximate their fair market value based on the short-term maturity of these instruments.

Basic and Diluted Net Loss per Common Share

Basic loss per share is calculated by dividing the net loss allocable to stockholders by the weighted-average number of shares outstanding for the period. Diluted loss per share reflects the potential dilution that could occur if securities or other contracts to issue common stock were exercised or converted into common stock or resulted in the issuance of common stock that shared in the earnings (loss) of the Company. Diluted loss per share is computed by dividing the net loss allocable to stockholders by the weighted average number of shares outstanding for the period and dilutive potential shares outstanding unless such dilutive potential shares would result in anti-dilution. Potentially dilutive common shares were excluded from the computation of diluted shares outstanding as they would have an anti-dilutive impact on the Company's net losses and consisted of the following as of June 30, 2020 and 2019:

	June 30, 2020	June 30, 2019
Convertible Series A Preferred Stock	600,000,000	600,000,000
Convertible Series B Preferred Stock	116,875,000	17,375,000
	716,875,000	617,375,000

Stock-Based Compensation

The Company accounts for stock-based compensation in accordance with ASC 718-10, "Share-Based Payment," which requires the measurement and recognition of compensation expense for all share-based payment awards made to non-employees for goods and services, and to employees and directors including employee stock options, restricted stock awards, and employee stock purchases based on estimated fair values.

Leases

In February 2016, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued ASU 2016-02, Leases (Topic 842). The updated guidance requires lessees to recognize lease assets and lease liabilities for most operating leases. In addition, the updated guidance requires that lessors separate lease and non-lease components in a contract in accordance with the new revenue guidance in ASC 606. The updated guidance is effective for interim and annual periods beginning after December 15, 2018.

On January 1, 2019, the Company adopted ASU No. 2016-02, applying the package of practical expedients to leases that commenced before the effective date whereby the Company elected to not reassess the following: (i) whether any expired or existing contracts contain leases and; (ii) initial direct costs for any existing leases. For contracts entered into on or after the effective date, at the inception of a contract the Company assessed whether the contract is, or contains, a lease. The Company's assessment is based on: (1) whether the contract involves the use of a distinct identified asset, (2) whether we obtain the right to substantially all the economic benefit from the use of the asset throughout the period, and (3) whether it has the right to direct the use of the asset. The Company will allocate the consideration in the contract to each lease component based on its relative stand-alone price to determine the lease payments. The Company has elected not to recognize right-of-use ("ROU") assets and lease liabilities for short-term leases that have a term of 12 months or less.

Operating lease ROU assets represents the right to use the leased asset for the lease term and operating lease liabilities are recognized based on the present value of the future minimum lease payments over the lease term at commencement date. As most leases do not provide an implicit rate, the Company use an incremental borrowing rate based on the information available at the adoption date in determining the present value of future payments. Lease expense for minimum lease payments is amortized on a straight-line basis over the lease term and is included in general and administrative expenses in the condensed consolidated statements of operations.

As of June 30, 2020, the Company and its subsidiary did not have any operating lease. The Company shares office and warehouse space with a related party at no cost.

Commitment and Contingencies

The Company follows ASC 450-20, Loss Contingencies, to report accounting for contingencies. Liabilities for loss contingencies arising from claims, assessments, litigation, fines and penalties and other sources are recorded when it is probable that a liability has been incurred and the amount of the assessment can be reasonably estimated.

Income Taxes

The Company follows the accounting guidance for uncertainty in income taxes using the provisions of ASC 740, Income Taxes. Using that guidance, tax positions initially need to be recognized in the financial statements when it is more likely than not the position will be sustained upon examination by the tax authorities. The Company recognizes interest and penalties related to uncertain income tax positions in other expense. No such interest and penalties were recorded as of June 30, 2020 and 2019.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

Management does not believe that any other recently issued, but not yet effective accounting pronouncements, if adopted, would have a material effect on the accompanying unaudited financial statements.

NOTE 4 – ACQUISITION OF HIALLOY VALVE, LLC

On July 23, 2019, the Company completed the acquisition of 100% of HiAlloy Valve, LLC ("HAV") membership interests from its members pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Membership Interest Purchase Agreement (the "Purchase Agreement") entered into among the Company and the HAV members (see Note1). Pursuant to the Purchase Agreement, the Company issued 960,000 shares of the Company's Series B Preferred stock ("Series B") in exchange for 100% of HAV membership interests. The two members of HAV are also the stockholders of the Company's Parent (see Note 5) who holds more than 50% of the voting ownership interest of each entity as such, both entities, the Company and HAV, are owned by the same controlling shareholders and members. HAV is a Texas limited liability company that manufactures API-certified industrial valves with an extensive product line of ball valves, gate valves, check valves, plug valves, and pig valves.

The transaction under the Purchase Agreement between the Company and HAV, which are under common control, resulted in a change in the reporting entity in accordance with the Transactions Between Entities Under Common guidance under ASC 805-50-05-5. Accordingly, the Purchase Agreement was accounted for as a reorganization of entities under common control, in a manner similar to a pooling of interest, using historical costs. As a result of the reorganization, the net assets and liabilities of HAV were transferred to the Company, and the accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared as if the current corporate structure had been in place at the beginning of periods presented in which the common control existed. Consequently, the 960,000 shares issued in exchange for 100% of HAV membership interests was recorded at par value.

The following table summarizes the historical value of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed on July 23, 2019:
