Engagement of PCAOB Auditor for December 31, 2020 and 2019

On January 11, 2021, the Company engaged Malone Bailey to perform the Audit for the years ended December 31, 2019 and 2020. The Company completed the client approval process in early February. The audit of both years is still in process. No unanswered issues have arisen. It was determined in June of 2021 that the Bioclonetics transaction, which closed in November of 2020, should be accounted for as a reverse merger rather than a business combination and will be reported as such in the audited financials for ENZC. The requested change in accounting method required the books and records of Bioclonetics to be audited for the years ended December 31, 2019 and 2020 in accordance with GAAP standards by a PCAOB auditor. After the hiring of independent Accounting Consultants, it was determined that the Companies did do a business combination not a reverse merger, and as of the time of this filing, the Company has provided all the records and agreements, accounting memos and backup documentation requested by the consultant and the auditor. The Changes in Accounting Method will result in amendments to the quarters ending March 31, 2021, June 30, 2021 and September 30, 2021 immediately upon completion of the audits. There are no disagreements with the auditing firm and the Company is working closely with all parties to finalize the audit in accordance with PCAOB standards.

The applications identify and claim the conserved, immutable sites on the SARS-CoV-2 virus and HIV virus that have been identified by the Company through its Artificial Intelligence (AI) technology.

B. Please list any subsidiaries, parents, or affiliated companies.

The Company is a 49% owner of the Bulgarian entity IMMB BG, which held a sub-license agreement issued by ENZO for the proprietary immunotherapy treatment until it was terminated in the second quarter of 2021 and the investment written off as worthless in the yearend 2021 financials.

The Company is 100% owner of Biogenysis, Inc.

The Company is 100% owner of Virogenetics, Inc.

The Company is 100% owner of RobustoMed, Inc.

The Company is 100% owner of BioClonetics Immunotherapy, Inc.

The Company is 50% owner of International Medical Partners Ltd a Bulgarian entity.

C. Describe the issuers' principal products or services, and their markets.

The Company's products consist of multiple distinct drug development proprietary technologies: Immunotherapy, immune modulators, fully human monoclonal antibodies and an artificial intelligence (AI) platform health care development.

Enzolytics has proprietary technology for creating human cell lines that produce fully human monoclonal antibodies against numerous infectious diseases, including HIV-1, Hepatitis (A, B, C), rabies, influenza A and B, tetanus and diphtheria. The Company's technology for producing fully human monoclonal antibodies is now being employed to produce anti-SARS-CoV-2 (Coronavirus) monoclonal antibodies for treating COVID-19. The Company plans to employ its technology to subsequently produce fully human monoclonal antibodies for treating HIV-2, anthrax, smallpox, H1N1 influenza, herpes zoster, varicella zoster, Rh (+) auto-immune disease and the Ebolavirus.

The Company is in the final development of the recombinant of the parent anti-HIV monoclonal antibody (identified as "Clone 3") which has been shown in in vitro tests conducted in 5 international laboratories to fully neutralized over 95% of all strains and viral subtypes of HIV-1 against which it was tested. The basis for its broad-spectrum efficacy is the fact that Clone 3 antibody targets an immutable epitope on the HIV virus. The targeted epitope has remained present in 98% (either directly or by way of conserved substitutions) of the 87,336 HIV isolates now known which have been analyzed by the Company using Artificial Intelligence (AI).

Using AI, the Company has also identified 8 additional conserved sites on the HIV-1 virus, some with over 98% conserved sequences, against which the Company plans to produce anti-HIV monoclonal antibodies. Production of multiple antibodies targeting different conserved and expectedly immutable sites comports with experts' conclusion that an effective treatment for HIV and the Coronavirus will likely require the administration of multiple monoclonal additional antibodies. Effective monoclonal antibodies will be those that target conserved and expectedly immutable virus sites. Producing targeted antibodies will result in the production of a therapeutic that will not be rendered ineffective due to mutation (variants) of the virus. In other words, even a "variant form of the virus" will expectedly contain the immutable targeted sites. Targeting immutable sites avoids the ineffectiveness that is experienced when a therapeutics or vaccine targets a site that mutates.

While the Company's HIV therapeutics may be used as an immunotherapeutic treatment for individuals with HIV/AIDS, they may also be developed for use as a prophylactic and therapeutic vaccine to prevent uninfected populations from contracting the HIV virus. Treatment using the fully human anti-HIV antibody will be far superior to current antiretroviral therapy for several significant reasons: (1) the therapy will be non-toxic (without damage to the kidneys and liver) and will not cause bone density deterioration (osteopenia and osteoporosis) – as does antiretroviral treatments, (2) will not require lifetime treatment and (3) will be far less expensive.

Using its proprietary methodology, the Company is also producing anti-SARS-CoV-2 monoclonal antibodies and has identified 19 conserved, expectedly immutable epitopes on the Coronavirus against which it plans to produce targeted monoclonal antibodies. Using AI, the Company has screened over 2 Million Coronavirus isolates currently known and has identified conserved sites which expectedly are immutable. The 19 conserved sequences identified on the virus isolates curated have been identified on the basis that they are 98.71% to 99.29% conserved over the entirety of the 50,512 Coronavirus isolates analyzed by the Company using AI.

Comprehensive patent protection covering these discoveries, relating to HIV, the Coronavirus, and use of AI to guide production of antibodies have been filed under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) to seek coverage in the U.S. and in member countries of the PCT. In these PCT Patent Applications, the Company has claimed its discoveries relating to both HIV and the SARS CoV-2 (Coronavirus) including the use of these identified conserved epitopes for (1) producing a therapeutic monoclonal antibody to treat HIV or the CoronaVirus, (2) producing a vaccine against HIV or the CoronaVirus, or (3) for use in any diagnostics to identify whether a person has HIV or the CoronaVirus. In this way, the patent coverage sought includes patent claims on the discovered epitope/antigens, vaccine claims, antibody claims, and related prophylactic/therapeutic method claims relating to the epitope/antigens.

The Coronavirus treatment drug market is expected to grow from 15.9 billion in 2020 to over $49.2 billion in 2027. The HIV Drug Market is expected to reach $36.49 billion by 2027 for a total market size of $85.69 for the treatments under development. The Company expects, aided by the continued use of AI, further expansion of its pipeline of additional treatments for other life threatening and debilitating viruses both in humans and in animals.

Another therapeutic newly introduced into the U.S. market by the Company is an immune modulation sold under the brand IPF Immune™. Enzolytics IPF Immune™ is an immune modulator which stimulates the immune system to help protect people from infections and diseases, enhances recovery and reduces the recovery period after an illness. It has a beneficial effect on the immune system, enhancing the body's ability to fight infections, promoting antibody production, and promoting the body's antioxidant defenses. Enzolytics IPF immune targets the infected cell and increases the natural immune response to destroy the infected cells. It acts by tagging viruses to assist T-cells to address them. In this way, it assists the body's immune helper T-cells in performing their natural function. The protection process that is stimulated is natural and produces no side effects. The following attributes have been identified as provided by the IPF Immune therapeutics:

- Enzolytics IPF Immune™ may be combined with anti-inflammatory drugs, antiviral, antibacterial, and antimycotic treatment to support the immune system.
- IPF has similar clinical benefit of Acyclovir (for treating Herpes), Tamiflu (for treating Influenza) but those therapies were found to be 35 times more toxic to the body.
- Beneficial in viral diseases: viral hepatitis, influenza, cytomegalovirus or herpes infections. oncological diseases. complex therapy of infectious-inflammatory diseases, and opportunistic infections.
- Beneficial in non-specific pulmonary infections such as pneumonia, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, chronic bronchitis, laryngitis, or laryngotracheitis. Balancing the work of the immune system after influenza infections or coronaviruses infections.
- Demonstrated very good tolerance in all patients and absence of side effects
