Global Developments Holdings, Inc., (the “Company”), is a Delaware corporation and publicly traded on the OTC Markets (OTC Markets Group, Inc) under the ticker symbol “GDVM.” The company has been previously classified as a shell company.

On or about February 21, 2023, Global Developments Holdings, Inc. completed its merger with VeeMost Technologies, LTD., with Global Developments Holdings, Inc. being the surviving entity.

As of February 21, 2023, upon the completion of the merger, the Company believes that it has ceased to be a shell company.

The definition of a shell as defined in Rule 405 under the Securities Act of 1933 as well as Release 33-8587 is determined by whether the entity has no or nominal operations and no or nominal assets. Neither the release nor the Act requires that a company meet both requirements of Rule 405 so as not to be considered a shell.

More specifically, Rule 12b-2 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 defines a shell company as a company that has:

1. No or nominal operations; and
2. Either:
  - i. No or nominal assets;
  - ii. Assets consisting solely of cash and cash equivalents; or
  - iii. Assets consisting of any amount of cash and cash equivalents and nominal other assets.

With the completion of the merger with VeeMost Technologies, LTD. The company is now operating an established cyber security business with more than nominal operations as demonstrated with its multiple Cisco Advanced Specializations, significant technology partnerships with industry leaders, and service level agreements with enterprise customers in place. The business generates revenue from strategic consulting/integration and managed services. The business expects to keep profitably generating revenue while remaining cash flow positive.

As a result, the company announces that, in accordance with Rule 12b-2, it is no longer a Shell Company.
