4) Issuer's Business, Products and Services

A. Summarize the issuer's business operations (If the issuer does not have current operations, state “no operations”)

The Company offers a service delivery platform for the onsite installation, monitoring, and maintenance of technology systems and smart connected devices.

Tekumo means “Tech Cloud” in Japanese. In a world of smart, connected devices, there remains a “last-mile” issue of installing, monitoring, and managing such systems. Product and service companies all need an efficient and automated service model. Tekumo is reinventing that process by deploying an intelligent service delivery platform that manages local technician resources in the installation and maintenance of technology systems, as well as providing a “smart interface” for the monitoring and management of those devices.

The number of connected devices is exploding, and digital transformation is everywhere. The company supports POS systems, kiosks, digital menu boards, cameras, cabling, Wi-Fi and networking. Fueled by the rapid adoption and growth of the Industrial Internet of Things (IIoT) market, the Company also offers a comprehensive IoT service platform that includes a range of services such as water and energy management, smart homes devices, sensors, and access control.

Tekumo

B. List any subsidiaries, parent company, or affiliated companies.

Tekumo LLC is a 100% owned subsidiary of Tekumo Inc. It is a Colorado limited liability company formed on August 13, 2019, and it acquired all the assets, contracts and intellectual property of Sequenza Inc. in January 2020.

Sequenza Inc. was formed in December 2013 as a managed service provider for IT and telecommunication services. As an affiliated company it remains 100% controlled by Tekumo.

C. Describe the issuers’ principal products or services.

Tekumo has four main product offerings:

TekumoPRO is a platform that connects enterprises, retailers, and OEM’s with local skilled resources to install and maintain technology systems. It delivers a smarter dynamic workforce, intelligent automation, real-time visibility, and full integration into client service management systems.

TekumoSMART delivers the complete service platform for smart connected devices. It installs, monitors and manages sensors, devices gateways, hubs, and data for multiple verticals including Multiple Dwelling Units (MDU’s), Quick Service Restaurants (QSR’s), Assisted Living, Retail, Hospitality, Utilities, Builders, Insurance, and Facility Managers – all with 24/7 onsite support.

TekumoIQ provides real-time data from all connected assets, accessible via Tekumo dashboards or directly delivered into any end user ecosystem.

TekumoMS provides direct managed support, sourcing and project management for enterprise partners who need full, end-to-end Service Level Agreements (SLA’s)

These offerings represent the service industry’s first on-demand Service Delivery Platform, addressing the gap in the Industrial Internet of Things for installing, monitoring and managing smart connected devices. It also serves the field service industry’s need for a more dynamic field workforce that can be managed in real-time, with SLA ownership. The Tekumo Platform drives cost savings, process efficiencies, and higher profitability for its product and service customers.

Original Share Exchange Agreement, Reverse Merger and Reorganization

On May 7, 2002, the Company was originally incorporated as Sunland Entertainment Co. (Delaware) Inc. pursuant to a Certificate of Incorporation filed with the Secretary of the State of Delaware. Sunland Entertainment Co. was previously incorporated in California and was the successor to the Harvey Entertainment Company as of June 22, 2001.

The corporation filed an Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation on July 16, 2002, and a Second Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation on September 17, 2003, in which it changed its name to Trestle Holdings, Inc. On March 15, 2009, Trestle Holdings, Inc. entered into a Share Exchange Agreement with MoqiZone Cayman (the “MoqiZone Agreement”). As of August 25, 2009, an Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation was filed in which the corporate name was changed to MoqiZone Holding Corporation and authorized capital was changed to forty million (40,000,000) shares of common stock and fifteen million (15,000,000) shares of preferred stock. Pursuant to additional financings closed in August 2009, a certificate of designation of Series A preferred stock and Series B preferred stock were filed on October 6, 2009, and 15,000 shares of Series A preferred stock and 10,743 shares Series B preferred stock were issued. On August 24, 2015, the Company filed an Amended Certificate of Incorporation, in which it changed its name to Balincan USA, Inc. (“Balincan”).

Tekumo Contribution Agreement and Reorganization

On June 14, 2022, Balincan entered into a Contribution Agreement with Tekumo LLC (“Tekumo”), a Colorado limited liability corporation, in which it acquired 100% of the membership interests of Tekumo in exchange for ten million (10,000,000) shares of a newly designated Series A Preferred Stock. The Series A Preferred Stock is senior to all other classes of stock and represents 85% of the voting control of the Company and may be converted into 85% of the Company’s fully diluted common stock, non-dilutive.

In conjunction with the change of control, the Company also issued one million (1,000,000) shares of a newly designated Series B Preferred Stock as consideration for services rendered pursuant to a third-party consulting agreement. The Series B Preferred stock is junior to the Series A Preferred Stock upon liquidation, but is senior to all other classes of stock, is non-voting, and may be converted into 9.99% of the Company’s fully diluted common stock, non-dilutive for a period of eighteen months.

The Company also issued a total of $797,500 in Convertible Notes pursuant to Security Purchase Agreements. The Notes may convert into 159,500,000 common shares. The Convertible Notes are accompanied by 7-year Warrants that may be exercised into 145,000,000 common shares.

Under the terms of the agreement, Trillium may convert the debt into shares of common stock at a price equal to the lowest trading price during the thirty (30) trading day period prior to any conversion, subject to a 9.99% limitation on beneficial ownership at the time such conversion. A Remittance Amount of 66.67% of the Net Proceeds from the sale of the Settlement Shares shall reduce the balance of the Notes outstanding. The conversion shares issued by the Company will be unrestricted in reliance on Section 3(a)(10) of the Securities Act of 1933.

Note 2 - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Management of the Company is responsible for the selection and use of appropriate accounting policies and the appropriateness of accounting policies and their application. Critical accounting policies and practices are those that are both most important to the portrayal of the Company’s financial condition and results and require management’s most difficult, subjective, or complex judgments, often as a result of the need to make estimates about the effects of matters that are inherently uncertain. The Company’s significant and critical accounting policies and practices are disclosed below as required by the accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Use of Estimates and Critical Accounting Estimates and Assumptions

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the dates of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods.

These significant accounting estimates or assumptions bear the risk of change due to the fact that there are uncertainties attached to these estimates or assumptions, and certain estimates or assumptions are difficult to measure or value.

Management bases its estimates on historical experience and on various assumptions that are believed to be reasonable in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources.

Management regularly evaluates the key factors and assumptions used to develop the estimates utilizing currently available information, changes in facts and circumstances, historical experience and reasonable assumptions. After such evaluations, if deemed appropriate, those estimates are adjusted accordingly. The Company uses estimates in accounting for, among other items, revenue recognition, allowance for doubtful accounts, stock-based compensation, and income tax provisions.

Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Principles of consolidation

The Company consolidates all majority-owned subsidiaries, if any, in which the parent’s power to control exists. All inter-company balances and transactions have been eliminated.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The fair value measurement disclosures are grouped into three levels based on valuation factors:

- Level 1 – quoted prices in active markets for identical investments
- Level 2 – other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar investments and market corroborated inputs)

- Level 3 – significant unobservable inputs (including our own assumptions in determining the fair value of investments)

The Company's Level 1 assets/liabilities include cash, accounts receivable, accounts payable, and other current assets. Management believes the estimated fair value of these accounts at September 30, 2023 approximate their carrying value as reflected in the balance sheets due to the short-term nature of these instruments or the use of market interest rates for debt instruments.

The Company's Level 2 assets/liabilities include certain of the Company's notes payable and line of credit obligations. Their carrying value approximates their fair values based upon a comparison of the interest rate and terms of such debt given the level of risk to the rates and terms of similar debt currently available to the Company in the marketplace.

The Company's Level 3 assets/liabilities include intangible assets and derivative liabilities. Inputs to determine fair value are generally unobservable and typically reflect management's estimates of assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability. The fair values are therefore determined using model-based techniques, including option pricing models and discounted cash flow models. Unobservable inputs used in the models are significant to the fair values of the assets and liabilities.

The table below under Derivative Liabilities provides a summary of the relevant assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value on recurring basis:

Fair Value Measurements as of March 31, 2024

	Total	Quoted Prices in Active Markets for Identical Assets or Liabilities (Level 1)	Quoted Prices for Similar Assets or Liabilities in Active Markets (Level 2)	Significant Unobservable Inputs (Level 3)

Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid investments with a maturity of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents.

At times, cash balances may exceed the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC") or Financial Claims Scheme ("FCS") insurable limits. The Company has never experienced any losses related to these balances. The Company does not believe it is exposed to significant credit risk on cash and cash equivalents.

Concentration of Credit Risk and Other Risks and Uncertainties

The Company provides credit in the normal course of business. The Company maintains allowances for credit losses on factors surrounding the credit risk of specific customers, historical trends, and other information.

Long-lived Assets Including Goodwill and Other Acquired Intangible Assets

ASC 360 requires that long-lived assets and certain identifiable intangibles held and used by an entity be reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. The Company has adopted Accounting Standard Update (“ASU”) 2017-04 Intangibles – Goodwill and Other (Topic 350), Simplifying the Test for Goodwill Impairment.

The Company reviews recoverability of long-lived assets on a periodic basis whenever events and changes in circumstances have occurred that may indicate a possible impairment. The assessment for potential impairment is based primarily on the Company’s ability to recover the carrying value of its long-lived assets from expected future cash flows from its operations on an undiscounted basis. If such assets are determined to be impaired, the impairment recognized is the amount by which the carrying value of the assets exceeds the fair value of the assets.

Fixed assets and intangible assets with finite useful lives are stated at cost less accumulated amortization and impairment.

The Company assesses the impairment of identifiable intangibles whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may not be recoverable. Factors the Company considers to be important which could trigger an impairment review include the following:

1. Significant underperformance relative to expected historical or projected future operating results;
2. Significant changes in the manner of use of the acquired assets or the strategy for the overall business; and
3. Significant negative industry or economic trends.

When the Company determines that the carrying value of intangibles may not be recoverable based upon the existence of one or more of the above indicators of impairment and the carrying value of the asset cannot be recovered from projected undiscounted cash flows, the Company records an impairment charge. The Company measures any impairment based on a projected discounted cash flow method using a discount rate determined by management to be commensurate with the risk inherent in the current business model. Significant management judgment is required in determining whether an indicator of impairment exists and in projecting cash flows.

Cloud Computing Arrangements

The Company has recognized Other Assets related to their software platform which is considered a cloud computing arrangement (“CCA”). The CCA is a software-as-a-service (SaaS) product. A majority of the costs related to this SaaS product are considered coding and testing fees that are directly related to the software product. This is not internally developed software and is not considered a fixed or intangible asset under ASC 350 or ASC 360. These costs have been capitalized and have begun to be amortized over 5 years as of first fiscal quarter of 2024.

Commitments and Contingencies

The Company follows Accounting Standard Codification (“ASC”) subtopic 450-20 to report accounting for contingencies. Certain conditions may exist as of the date the consolidated financial statements are issued, which may result in a loss to the Company, but which will only be resolved when one or more future events occur or fail to occur. The Company assesses such contingent liabilities, and such assessment inherently involves an exercise of judgment. In assessing loss contingencies related to legal proceedings that are pending against the Company or un-asserted claims that may result in such proceedings, the Company evaluates the perceived merits of any legal proceedings or un-asserted claims as well as the perceived merits of the amount of relief sought or expected to be sought therein.

If the assessment of a contingency indicates that it is probable that a material loss has been incurred and the amount of the liability can be estimated, then the estimated liability would be accrued in the Company’s consolidated financial statements. If the assessment indicates that a potential material loss contingency is not probable but is reasonably possible, or is probable but cannot be estimated, then the nature of the contingent liability, and an estimate of the range of possible losses, if determinable and material, would be disclosed.

Loss contingencies considered remote are generally not disclosed unless they involve guarantees, in which case the guarantees would be disclosed.

Derivative Liability

The Company evaluates its debt and equity issuances to determine if those contracts or embedded components of those contracts qualify as derivatives to be separately accounted for in accordance with paragraph ASC 815-10-05-4 and ASC 815-40-25. The result of this accounting treatment is that the fair value of the embedded derivative is marked-to-market each balance sheet date and recorded as either an asset or a liability. In the event that the fair value is recorded as a liability, the change in fair value is recorded in the consolidated statement of operations as other income or expense. Upon conversion, exercise or cancellation of a derivative instrument, the instrument is marked to fair value at the date of conversion, exercise or cancellation and then the related fair value is reclassified to equity.

In circumstances where the embedded conversion option in a convertible instrument is required to be bifurcated and there are also other embedded derivative instruments in the convertible instrument that are required to be bifurcated, the bifurcated derivative instruments are accounted for as a single, compound derivative instrument.

The classification of derivative instruments, including whether such instruments should be recorded as liabilities or as equity, is reassessed at the end of each reporting period. Equity instruments that are initially classified as equity that become subject to reclassification are reclassified to liability at the fair value of the instrument on the reclassification date. Derivative instrument liabilities will be classified in the balance sheet as current or non-current based on whether or not net-cash settlement of the derivative instrument is expected within 12 months of the balance sheet date.

The Company utilizes a fair market value for the Preferred Stock that maintains a 95% ownership in the Company, and a binomial option model for valuing its convertible debt features and warrants. The inputs utilized in the application of the model included an estimate for the fair market value of the enterprise, a volatility assumption, and a risk-free rate. The Company records a change in the fair value of the derivative liability as other income or expense in the consolidated statements of operations.

Revenue Recognition

Under Topic 606, revenue is recognized when control of the promised goods or services is transferred to our customers, in an amount that reflects the consideration we expect to be entitled to in exchange for those goods or services.

We determine revenue recognition through the following steps:

- identification of the contract, or contracts, with a customer;
- identification of the performance obligations in the contract;
- determination of the transaction price;
- allocation of the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract;
- recognition of revenue when, or as, we satisfy a performance obligation.

Tekumo is a service delivery platform that connects enterprises, retailers, and OEM's with local skilled resources to install and maintain technology systems. Service events are scheduled for a specific time and location and are typically completed with 2 hours of work.

All the Company's services and performance obligations are therefore completed at the specific time of service, at a point in time, and are not obligations over time. Consistent with ASC 606-10-25-30-(a), the customer is obligated to pay for the service immediately upon completion of the service. As such, the Company recognizes revenue when that activity has been completed.

Accounts Receivable and Allowances

Accounts receivable are recorded and carried when the Company has performed the work in accordance with the agreement. We make estimates for the allowance for doubtful accounts and allowance for unbilled receivables based upon our assessment of various factors, including historical experience, the age of the accounts receivable balances, credit quality of our customers, current economic conditions, and other factors that may affect our ability to collect from customers. The Company expensed $35,358 for bad debt as of December 31, 2023 for accounts receivable deemed to be not fully collectible.

Stock-Based Compensation

The Company recognizes compensation expense for all equity-based payments granted in accordance with ASC 718 "Compensation – Stock Compensation". Under fair value recognition provisions, the Company recognizes equity-based compensation over the requisite service period of the award. The Company has a relatively low forfeiture rate of stock-based compensation and forfeitures are recognized as they occur.

Determining the appropriate fair value model and calculating the fair value of equity-based payment awards requires the input of the subjective assumptions described above. The assumptions used in calculating the fair value of equity-based payment awards represent management's best estimates, which involve inherent uncertainties and the application of management's judgment. As a result, if factors change and the Company uses different assumptions, our equity-based compensation could be materially different in the future. The Company issues awards of equity instruments, such as Series B Preferred Stock granted to certain non-employees. Compensation expense related to these awards is based on the fair value of the underlying stock on the award date and is amortized over the service period. Compensation expense is reduced for actual forfeitures as they occur.

Advertising Expense

The Company expenses marketing, promotions and advertising costs as incurred. For the quarters ended March 31, 2024 and 2023, such costs were considered insignificant.

Loss Per Share

Basic net loss per common share is computed by dividing net loss attributable to common stockholders by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted net loss per common share is determined using the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding during the period, adjusted for the dilutive effect of common stock equivalents. In periods when losses are reported, the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding excludes common stock equivalents because their inclusion would be anti-dilutive.

The Company may have to issue dilutive shares related to our preferred stock, convertible notes and warrants. (see Notes, 6 and 8). Those shares would exceed the amount we are currently authorized to issue, resulting in our inability to net-share settle those obligations. As a result, we have included in our derivative liabilities (see Note 7) the fair value of those instruments. They will remain in derivative liabilities until such time as they are converted into common stock or repaid.

Leases

The Company has adopted ASU No. 2016-02, Leases (Topic 842) and accounts for leases with a term greater than one year, recognizing a lease asset for its right to use the underlying asset and a lease liability for the corresponding lease obligation. Operating lease right-of-use assets and operating lease liabilities are recognized at the lease commencement date based on the present value of lease payments over the lease term. In determining the present value of lease payments, the Company uses a 12% per annum (i.e. 1% monthly) discount rate. The Company considers the lease term to be the noncancelable period that it has the right to use the underlying asset. For subsequent periods, the carrying amount of the ROU asset is derived from the carrying amount of the lease liability at the end of each reporting period based on the present value of the remaining lease payments. The Company records the current and non-current portion of the lease liabilities.

For the quarter ended March 31, 2024, the values of the Company's operating lease were as follows:

Initial value of the Lease Liability and Right of Use Asset for the operating lease for the period ended December 31, 2023	$	359,973
Change in PV of Lease Liability/Right of Use Asset	$	(16,066)
Final value of the Lease Liability and Right of Use Asset for the operating lease for the period ended March 31, 2024	$	343,907
Disclosed as:
Current portion	$	70,802
Non-current portion	$	273,105
Operating Lease Expense: Q1, 2024	$	17,880
Remaining Term		3.92 years

Recent Accounting Guidance Not Yet Adopted

In June 2016, the FASB issued ASU No. 2016-13, Financial Instruments – Credit Losses (Topic 326), Measurement of Credit Losses on Financial Instruments (“ASU-2016-13”). ASU 2016-13 affects loans, debt securities, trade receivables, and any other financial assets that have the contractual right to receive cash. The ASU requires an entity to recognize expected credit losses rather than incurred losses for financial assets. On October 16, 2019, FASB approved a final ASU delaying the effective date of ASU 2016-13 for small reporting companies to interim and annual periods beginning after December 15, 2022. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of these amendments to the Company’s financial position and results of operations and currently does not know or cannot reasonably quantify the impact of the adoption of the amendments as a result of the complexity and extensive changes from the amendments. The Company does not believe the adoption will have a material impact on the Company’s consolidated financial statements. The adoption of the guidance will affect disclosers and estimates around accounts receivable.

In August 2020, the FASB issued ASU 2020-06, Debt—Debt with Conversion and Other Options (Subtopic 470-20) and Derivatives and Hedging—Contracts in Entity’s Own Equity (Subtopic 815-40): Accounting for Convertible Instruments and Contracts in an Entity’s Own Equity. This ASU amends the guidance on convertible instruments and the derivatives scope exception for contracts in an entity’s own equity, and also improves and amends the related EPS guidance for both Subtopics. ASU 2020-06 is effective for the fiscal year beginning after December 15, 2022, including interim periods within that fiscal year. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of the new guidance on its consolidated financial statements.

In July 2021, the FASB issued ASU No. 2021-05, Lessors—Certain Leases with Variable Lease Payments (Topic 842), which requires a lessor to classify a lease with variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or rate (hereafter referred to as “variable payments”) as an operating lease on the commencement date of the lease if specified criteria are met. ASU 2021-05 is effective for the fiscal year beginning after December 15, 2022, including interim periods within that fiscal year. The Company expects that there would be no material impact on the Company’s consolidated financial statements upon the adoption of this ASU.

In October 2021, the FASB issued ASU No. 2021-08, Business Combinations — Accounting for Contract Assets and Contract Liabilities from Contracts with Customers (Topic 805), Which aims to improve the accounting for acquired revenue contracts with customers in a business combination by addressing diversity in recognition and payment terms that effect subsequent revenue recognition. ASU 2021-08 is effective for the fiscal year beginning after December 15, 2022, including interim periods within that fiscal year. The Company expects that there would be no material impact on the Company’s consolidated financial statements upon the adoption of this ASU.

Management does not believe that any recently issued, but not yet effective accounting pronouncements, when adopted, will have a material effect on the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

Note 3 - Going Concern

The Company’s consolidated financial statements have been prepared assuming that it will continue as a going concern, which contemplates continuity of operations, realization of assets, and liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business.

As reflected in the consolidated financial statements, as of March 31, 2024, the Company had an accumulated deficit of $14.638 million and a net operating loss of $0.119 million. These factors raise substantial doubt about the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern for a period of one year from the issuance of these financial statements.

The Company is attempting to further implement its business plan and generate sufficient revenues; however, its cash position may not be sufficient to support its daily operations. While the Company believes in the viability of its strategy to further implement its business plan and generate sufficient revenues and in its ability to raise additional funds by way of a public or private offering of its debt or equity securities, there can be no assurance that it will be able to do so on reasonable terms, or at all. The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent upon its ability to further implement its business plan and generate sufficient revenues and its ability to raise additional funds by way of a public or private offering.

The consolidated financial statements do not include any adjustments related to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts or the amounts and classification of liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

Note 4 - Notes Payable

The Company’s subsidiary, Tekumo LLC, has outstanding promissory notes with a principal of $421,823 and accrued interest of $228,264 as of March 31, 2024. The notes were originally issued with a principal of $630,788 of which $208,966 has been repaid.

The Company recognized interest expense on the notes payable of $9,399 and $9,659 for the quarters ended March 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively.

Under the terms of the 3(a)(10) Settlement, $386,727 of these Notes may convert into unrestricted shares of common stock at a price equal of the lowest trading price during the thirty (30) trading day period prior to any conversion, subject to a 9.99% limitation on beneficial ownership of Trillium at the time of such conversion. A Remittance Amount of 66.67% of the Net Proceeds from the sale of the Settlement shares shall reduce the balance of the Notes outstanding. As of March 31, 2024, the Company has issued 102,742,132 common shares with a Settlement value of $69,420 on these Notes.

SBA EIDL Loan: On June 6, 2020 Tekumo borrowed $104,200.00 with a maturity of 30 years at 3.75% interest from the Small Business Administration ("SBA") through an Economic Injury and Disaster Loan. Subsequent advances of $55,795 were borrowed through 2/26/2021 with a maturity of 30 years at 3.75% interest. The SBA has a continuing security interest in all assets. The total balance outstanding as of March 31, 2024 is $158,551.

Note 5 - Line of Credit

Tekumo has a $3 million Accounts Receivable Financing Agreement with eCapital (previously Flexible Funding) under which it may borrow 90% of eligible outstanding receivables. The funding rate is 0.5% of the borrowed amount plus an interest rate equal to prime plus 7%. eCapital has a senior lien on all Accounts Receivables. As of March 31, 2024 that balance was $683,118.

Tekumo also has a line of credit with one of its vendors of $89,060 as of March 31, 2024. This carries no interest rate.

Note 6 - Convertible Notes

On June 14, 2022, the Company issued a total of $797,500 in Convertible Notes with a 1-year maturity and an interest rate of 4% per annum pursuant to Security Purchase Agreements. The Notes may convert into 159,500,000 common shares and carry anti-dilution features. The Convertible Notes are accompanied by 7-year Warrants that may be exercised into 145,000,000 common shares. The Company recognized the conversion option on the convertible notes and the warrants as derivative liabilities and recognized a debt discount at inception in the amount of $359,766 which includes an original issue discount of $72,500. The Company received net proceeds of $725,000 in the issuance of these convertible notes.

On September 30, 2022 the Company issued $660,000 in Convertible Notes with a 1-year maturity and an interest rate of 4% per annum pursuant to Security Purchase Agreements. The Notes may convert into 132,000,000 common shares and carry anti-dilution features. The Convertible Notes are accompanied by 7-year Warrants that may be exercised into 120,000,000 common shares. The Company recognized the conversion option on the convertible notes and the warrants as derivative liabilities (see Note 7) and recognized a debt discount at inception in the amount of $189,279 which includes an original issue discount of $60,000. The Company received net proceeds of $600,000 in the issuance of these convertible notes.

On June 15, 2023 the Company issued a total of $203,500 in Convertible Notes with a 1-year maturity and an interest rate of 10% per annum. The Notes may convert into common shares at a variable conversion price equal to 50% of the common share market price. The Convertible Notes are accompanied by 7-year Warrants that may be exercised into 185,000,000 common shares. Due to the fact that the Company may not be able to net share settle these obligations, the Company has recognized the conversion option on the convertible notes and the warrants as derivative liabilities and recognized a debt discount at inception in the amount of $64,841 which includes an original issue discount of $18,500. The Company received net proceeds of $185,000 in the issuance of these convertible notes.

The discounts on the Convertible Notes are being amortized over the life of the convertible notes. The derivative liability that was recorded at the inception of the Convertible Notes is being marked-to-market each reporting period and the changes in the fair value of the derivative liability are reflected in other income (expense).

In the quarters ended March 31, 2024 and 2023, the Company recorded amortization of discounts on the convertible notes of $16,211 and $137,261 respectively. As of March 31, 2024, the Company has $1,608,956 in Convertible Notes outstanding, net of discounts.

The Company recognized interest expense on the convertible notes of $8,327 and $14,256 for the quarters ended March 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively. As of March 31, 2024, the total accrued interest on the Convertible Notes is $232,756.

Under the terms of the 3(a)(10) Settlement (see Note 1), the June 14, 2022 and September 30, 2022 Convertible Notes were settled with a value of $1,868,114 that may convert into unrestricted shares of common stock at a price equal of the lowest trading price during the thirty (30) trading day period prior to any conversion, subject to a 9.99% limitation on beneficial ownership of Trillium at the time of such conversion. A Remittance Amount of 66.67% of the Net Proceeds from the sale of the Settlement shares shall reduce the balance of the Notes outstanding. As of March 31, 2024, the Company has issued 496,303,868 common shares with a Settlement value of $335,339 on those Notes.

Note 7 – Derivative Liabilities

The Company has identified derivative instruments arising from the Company’s Preferred Stock, and for its convertible notes and warrants.

The Company utilizes a fair market value approach for its different classes of stock and values the derivative liability for each of the Preferred Stock, convertibles notes and warrants using a binomial method based on the enterprise value of the Company. The Company records the change in the fair value of the derivative as other income or expense in the consolidated statements of operations.

The Company recognized the value of the Series A Preferred Stock at issuance on June 14, 2022 of $8,127,358 as a deemed dividend and recorded a derivative liability on its Consolidated Balance Sheet as the “as converted” shares may exceed the total authorized shares and the Company could not net share settle that obligation.

The Company recognized the expense of the Series B preferred Stock at issuance on June 14, 2022 of $956,160 as stock-based compensation as these shares were issued as part of the consulting agreement entered into with a third-party, and recognized as a derivative liability as the “as converted” shares may exceed the total authorized shares and the Company could not net settle this obligation.

The Company recognized the conversion option on the June 14, 2022 convertible notes and the corresponding warrants as derivative liabilities due to the fact that the Company may not be able to net share settle these obligations, and recognized a derivative liability at inception in the amount of $287,266.

The Company recognized the conversion option on the September 30, 2022 convertible notes and the corresponding warrants as derivative liabilities due to the fact that the Company may not be able to net share settle these obligations, and recognized a derivative liability at inception in the amount of $129,279.

The Company recognized the conversion option on the June 15, 2023 convertible notes and the corresponding warrants as derivative liabilities due to the fact that the Company may not be able to net share settle these obligations, and recognized a derivative liability at inception in the amount of $46,341.

The following are the changes in the derivative liabilities during the quarters ended March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023
