Saeon Group Inc. was organized in the state of Nevada on February 17, 2004. On August 24, 2004, the Company completed a recapitalization where it merged with SAFEEYES.COM a Nevada company formed on June 23, 1999. On August 24, 2004, the Company changed its name to Pacific Financial Solutions, Inc. On June 20, 2008, the Company changed its name to Continental Prison Systems, Inc. On September 3, 2013, the Company changed its name to General Payment Systems, Inc. For the period from September 30, 2013 through December 8, 2021, the Company had been dormant. On December 9, 2021 Custodian Ventures, managed by David Lazar was appointed custodian of the Company. The Company increased its authorized share count from 100,000,000 shares to 700,000,000 shares on March 31, 2022, and from 700,000,000 shares to 1,500,000,000 shares on January 23, 2024. On June 7, 2022, the Company changed its name to the SAEAN Group Inc. and on July 8, 2022 began trading under the symbol “SEAN”.

The Company’s major shareholder is JY LEE with 23.64% ownership.

Reverse capitalization

On January 31, 2023, Saeon Group Inc., a Nevada corporation (“Parent”), Exod Inc., a Nevada corporation (“Merger Sub”), and Saeon R&D Co., Ltd., a Korean company (“SR&DK”) entered into an Agreement and Plan of Acquisition (“Acquisition Agreement”), under which the Merger Sub acquired all of the outstanding equity of SR&DK, with SR&DK surviving as the wholly owned subsidiary of the Merger Sub. The Merger Sub was treated as the legal acquiror and SR&DK was treated as the accounting acquiror. The Parent issued the acquisition consideration to the shareholders of SR&DK. Following the acquisition, the Merger Sub transferred 100% of the equity of SR&DK to the Parent and will file a certificate of dissolution with the secretary of state of the state of Nevada, and SR&DK continues its corporate existence under the Korean corporate Law (the “KCL”) as the surviving wholly owned subsidiary of the Parent.

As Parent was a nonoperating public shell corporation with nominal net asset and did not meet the definition of a business ASC 805, the acquisition was accounted for as a reverse recapitalization in accordance with U.S. GAAP.

For accounting purposes, SR&DK was considered to be acquiring the assets and liabilities of Parent in the acquisition based on the terms of the Agreement and Plan of Acquisition and other factors, including: (i) SR&DK’s stockholders own a majority of the voting rights in the combined company; (ii) SR&DK designated a majority of the initial members of the board of directors of the combined company; (iii) SR&DK’s executive management team became the management of the combined company; (iv) the pre-combination assets of Parent were none.

Accordingly, the acquisition was treated as the equivalent of SR&DK issuing stock to acquire the net assets of Parent. The fair value of the net assets of Parent (the accounting acquiree, legal acquirer) was none. Therefore, acquisition date fair value of equivalent to the issuance of shares as the consideration transferred by SR&DK (the accounting acquirer, legal acquiree) of US$ 9,061 was charged to current operations as other expenses.

The presentation of the consolidated financial statements represents the continuation of the SR&DK, except for the legal capital structure. Historical shareholders’ equity of SR&DK prior to the reverse capitalization was retrospectively adjusted (a recapitalization) for the equivalent number of shares received by SR&DK after giving effect to any difference in par value of Parent’s and SR&DK’s stock with any such difference recognized in equity. Deficiency of SR&DK are carried forward after the acquisition. Operations prior to the acquisition are those of SR&DK. Earnings per share for periods prior to the acquisition are retrospectively adjusted to reflect the number of equivalent shares received by SR&DK.

2. Going concern

The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared using generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America (“U.S. GAAP”), applicable to a going concern, which contemplates the realization of assets and liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business. The Company has net current assets deficiency of US$ 5,284,596 as of December 31, 2024 and has accumulated loss from inception (December 1, 2013) to December 31, 2024 of US$ 16,315,237.

As a result of these matters, there is a material uncertainty that may cast significant doubt upon the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern and therefore whether the Company will realize its assets and settle its liabilities in the ordinary course of business at the amounts recorded in the financial statements.

In order to continue as a going concern, the Company will need, among other things, additional capital resources. Management’s plan is to obtain such resources for the Company by obtaining additional equity investment. In addition, the Company has entered into several development service agreements with related parties (See Note 11). The Company’s management believes that this financial plan and ongoing service agreements will be sufficient to cover its refund of borrowings, investment for fixed assets and operating expenses in 2024.

These consolidated financial statements do not include any adjustments related to the recoverability and classification of assets or the amounts and classification of liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

3. Summary of significant accounting policies

Basis of financial statements – The Company follows accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America in the preparation of its consolidated financial statements. The following summary of significant accounting policies of the Company is presented to assist in understanding the Company’s consolidated financial statements. These accounting policies conform to the U.S. GAAP and have been consistently applied. The consolidated financial statements and notes are representations of the Company’s management, who is responsible for their integrity and objectivity.

3. Summary of significant accounting policies (cont'd)

Reclassifications - Certain prior-year amounts have been reclassified to conform to current year presentation.

Foreign currency translation and transaction - The financial position and results of operations of the Company are measured using the Korean Won as the functional currency. Revenues and expenses have been translated into U.S. dollars (reporting currency) at average exchange rates prevailing during the period (KRW 1363.98 and 1275.58 to USD 1 in 2024 and 2023, respectively). Assets and liabilities have been translated at the rates of exchange on the balance sheet date (KRW 1470.00 and 1303.80 to USD 1 in 2024 and 2023, respectively). The resulting translation gain and loss adjustments are recorded directly as a separate component of stockholders' deficits.

Transaction gains and losses that arise from exchange rate fluctuations on transactions denominated in a currency other than the functional currency are included in the results of operations as incurred.

Use of estimates and assumptions - The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements, and the reported amounts of net sales and expenses during the reporting period. The accounting estimates and assumptions that require management's most significant judgments include the fair value of consolidated financial instruments, valuation allowance for deferred income taxes and useful lives for depreciation. Actual results may ultimately differ from estimates, although management does not believe such changes will materially affect the financial statements in any individual year.

Operation in foreign country - Substantially, all of the Company's operations are carried in the Republic of Korea. The Company's operations are subject to various political, economic, and other risks and uncertainties inherent in the country in which the Company operates. Among other risks, the Company's operations are subject to the risks of political conditions and governmental regulations.

3. Summary of significant accounting policies (cont'd)

Revenue recognition – In accordance with ASC 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers, revenue is measured based on consideration specified in a contract with a customer, adjusted for any variable consideration (i.e., price concession) and estimated at contract inception.

The estimated amount of variable consideration that will be received by the Company is based on historical experience and trends, management's understanding of the status of negotiations with customers and anticipated future pricing strategies.

The Company recognizes revenue when it satisfies a performance obligation by transferring control over a product or a service to a customer. For the majority of the Company's R&D service contracts, revenue is recognized over time when the Company provides services to satisfy the Company's performance obligation and contractually billable.

Advertising costs - Advertising costs are expensed as incurred.

Research and development - Research and development are expensed as incurred. Research and development expenses consist primarily of salaries and related personnel costs, materials and subcontract fees.

Income taxes - The Company mainly operates in the taxing jurisdictions of Korea, and its income tax is administered in accordance with tax laws of Korea.

Current tax liabilities and assets are recognized for the estimated taxes payable or refundable on the tax returns for the current year. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the expected future tax consequences of events that have been recognized in our financial statements or tax filings. The resulting deferred tax assets or liabilities are adjusted to reflect changes in tax laws as they occur. A valuation allowance is provided when it is more likely than not that a deferred tax asset will not be realized.

Management makes judgments as to the interpretation of the tax laws that might be challenged upon an audit and cause changes to previous estimates of tax liability. In management's opinion, adequate provisions for income taxes have been made for all years. If actual taxable income by tax jurisdiction varies from estimates, additional allowances or reversals of reserves may be necessary.

The Company did not take any uncertain tax positions and had no adjustments to unrecognized income tax liabilities or benefits pursuant to the provisions of ASC Topic 740 for the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023.

Cash and cash equivalents - Cash includes currency, checks issued by others, other currency equivalents, current deposits and passbook deposits held by financial institutions. For financial statement purposes, all highly liquid debt instruments with insignificant interest rate risk and maturity of three months or less when purchased are considered to be cash equivalent. Cash equivalents consist primarily of cash deposits that are available for withdrawal without restriction.

Receivables - Accounts receivable are presented at face value less allowance for doubtful accounts. The allowance for doubtful accounts is the Company's best estimate of probable credit losses in the existing accounts receivable. The Company determines the allowance based on Company's historical experience and review of specifically identified accounts and aging data. The Company reviews its allowance for doubtful accounts periodically. Account balances are charged off against the allowance after all means of collection have been exhausted and the potential for recovery is considered remote.

The Company expects to fully collect accounts receivable and no allowance for doubtful accounts were recorded as of December 31, 2024 and 2023.

Inventories – Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Costs are determined on the moving average method.

Property and equipment - Property and equipment are stated at historical cost. Maintenance and repairs are expensed in the year in which they are incurred. Expenditures that enhance the value or extend the life of assets are capitalized as additions to property and equipment.

3. Summary of significant accounting policies (cont'd)

Depreciation has been provided using the straight-line method over the following estimated useful lives:

	Years
Property and equipment used for manufacturing purposes	5
Property and equipment used for administrative purposes	5

Intangible assets - The Company follows guidelines of FASB Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) Topic 350 “Intangibles - Goodwill and Other” with regards to accounting and reporting of goodwill and intangible assets. Goodwill represents the excess of the fair value of consideration transferred over the fair value of net assets of businesses acquired. Goodwill is not amortized but subject to at least an annual review for impairment. Other intangible assets, principally related to acquired technology, are amortized over their useful. The Company monitors conditions related to these assets to determine whether events and circumstances warrant a revision to the remaining amortization period.

The Company performs its annual impairment testing in the fourth quarter of each year. Impairment testing is required more often than annually if an event or circumstance indicates that an impairment, or decline in value, may have occurred. The Company uses either a qualitative assessment or a quantitative calculation for its impairment testing. The qualitative assessment permits the Company to assess whether it is more than likely than not (i.e., a likelihood of greater than 50%) that goodwill or an indefinite-lived intangible asset is impaired. If the Company concludes based on the qualitative assessment that it is not more likely than not that the fair value of goodwill or an indefinite-lived intangible asset is less than its carrying amount, it would not have to quantitatively determine the asset’s fair value. The Company also consider external factors that could affect the significant inputs used to determine fair value.

Industrial properties with finite lives are amortized on a straight-line basis over their useful lives of 5 ~ 10 years, starting from their commercial usages .

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
For the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023

3. Summary of significant accounting policies (cont'd)

Equity method investment – Investment accounted for under the equity method, means that a proportional share of the equity method investment's net income increases the investment, and a proportional share of losses and payment of dividends decreases it. In the statement of operations, the proportional share of the net income (loss) is reported as share of income (loss) of an investee under the equity method of accounting.

Impairment of long-lived assets - The Company continually monitors events and changes in circumstances that could indicate carrying amounts of long-lived assets may not be recoverable. When such events or changes in circumstances are present, the Company assesses the recoverability of long-lived assets by determining whether the carrying value of such assets will be recovered through undiscounted expected future cash flows. If the total of the future cash flows is less than the carrying amount of those assets, the Company recognizes an impairment loss based on the excess of the carrying amount over the fair value of the assets. Assets to be disposed of are reported at the lower of the carrying amount or the fair value less costs to sell.

For 2024 and 2023, the Company did not record any material impairment charges on its long-lived assets.

Accrued severance benefits - Employees with at least one year of service are entitled to receive a lump-sum payment upon termination of their employment with the Company based on their length of service and rate of pay at the time of termination. Accrued severance benefits represent the amount which would be payable assuming all eligible employees were to terminate their employment as of the balance sheet date.

Leases - Lease assets and liabilities are recognized at the present value of the future lease payments at the lease commencement date. The interest rate used to determine the present value of the future lease payments is our incremental borrowing rate, because the interest implicit in leases is not readily determinable. The incremental borrowing rate is estimated to approximate the interest rate on a collateralized basis with similar terms and payments, and in economic environments where the leased asset is located. The lease terms include periods under options to extend or terminate the lease when it is reasonably certain that the option will be exercised. Operating lease assets and liabilities are included on the balance sheet. Operating lease expense (excluding variable lease costs) is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Commitment and contingent liabilities - The Company records liabilities for claims, lawsuits and proceedings when they are probable and it is possible to reasonably estimate the cost of such liabilities. Legal costs expected to be in connection with a loss contingency are expensed as such costs are incurred.

As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, no claims, lawsuits and proceedings are pending or threatened against the Company.

Stock - based compensation - The compensation costs for all of the Company's stock-based compensation awards are determined based on the fair value method as defined in ASC 718, Compensation - Stock Compensation. The Company records the compensation expense for awards under the Stock Incentive Plan over the respective vesting period.

Fair value measurements - Fair value measurements are determined under a three-level hierarchy for fair value measurements that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value, distinguishing between market participant assumptions developed based on market data obtained from sources independent of the reporting entity ("observable inputs") and the reporting entity's own assumptions about market participant assumptions developed based on the best information available in the circumstances ("unobservable inputs").

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or would be paid to transfer a liability (i.e., the "exit price") in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. In determining fair value, the Company primarily uses prices and other relevant information generated by market transactions involving identical or comparable assets ("market approach"). The Company also considers the impact of a decrease in volume and level of activity for an asset or liability when compared with normal activity to identify transactions that are not orderly.

SAEAN R&D INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
For the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023

3. Summary of significant accounting policies (cont'd)

The highest priority is given to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). Securities are classified in their entirety based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

The three hierarchy levels are defined as follows:

Level 1 - Quoted prices in active markets that is unadjusted and accessible at the measurement date for identical, unrestricted assets or liabilities;

Level 2 - Quoted prices for identical assets and liabilities in markets that are not active, quoted prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets or financial instruments for which significant inputs are observable, either directly or indirectly;

Level 3 – No pricing observability as of the reported date for assets and liabilities. Prices or valuations that are measured using management's best estimate of fair value, where the inputs into the determination of fair value require significant management judgement or estimation.

Credit risk adjustments are applied to reflect the Company's own credit risk when valuing all liabilities measured at fair value. The methodology is consistent with that applied in developing counterparty credit risk adjustments, but incorporates the Company's own credit risk as observed in the credit default swap market.

Assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis – Financial instruments consist primarily of cash and cash equivalent, short-term financial assets, advance payments, accounts receivable, advance payments, accounts payable, and loan from related party. The carrying value of such financial instruments approximate their respective estimated fair value because of the short-term maturity and approximate market interest rate of these instruments. The estimated fair value is not necessarily indicative of the amounts the Company would realize in a current market exchange or from future earnings or cash flows.

SAEAN R&D INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
For the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023

3. Summary of significant accounting policies (cont'd)

Assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a non-recurring basis - In addition to assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis, the Company also has assets and liabilities in its balance sheet that are measured at fair value on a non-recurring basis include long-lived assets, including equity method investments, typically as it relates to impairment.

The Company has determined that the fair value measurements included in each of these assets and liabilities rely primarily on Company-specific inputs and the Company's assumptions about the use the assets and settlements of liabilities, as observable inputs are not available. The Company has determined that each of these fair value measurements reside within Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy. To determine the fair value of long-lived assets, the Company utilizes the projected cash flows expected to be generated by the long-lived assets, then discounts the future cash flows over the expected life of the long-lived assets.

Related parties - The Company follows ASC Topic 850 "Related Party Disclosures" for the identification of related parties and disclosure of related party transactions.

Stock-based compensation - The Company accounts for stock awards issued to non-employees in accordance with ASC 505-50, Equity-Based Payments to Non-Employees. The measurement date is the earlier of (1) the date at which a commitment for performance by the counterparty to earn the equity instruments is reached, or (2) the date at which the counterparty's performance is complete. Stock awards granted to non-employees are valued at their respective measurement dates based on the trading price of the Company's common stock and recognized as expense during the period in which services are provided. As of December 31, 2022, no stock awards were granted by the Company.

Per share amounts - Earnings (loss) per share are computed in accordance with ASC 260, Earnings per Share. Basic earnings (loss) per share is computed by dividing net income (loss), after deducting preferred stock dividends accumulated during the period, by the weighted-average number of shares of common stock outstanding during each period. Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing net income by the weighted-average number of shares of common stock, common stock equivalents and other potentially dilutive securities, if any, outstanding during the period.

Subsequent events - The Company follows the guidance in ASC Topic 855 “Subsequent Events” for the disclosure of subsequent events. The Company evaluated subsequent events through the date when the financial statements were available to be issued.

New accounting standards - Changes to U.S. GAAP are established by the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) in the form of accounting standards updates (“ASUs”) to the FASB’s Accounting Standards Codification (ASC). The Company considers the applicability and impact of all ASUs. ASUs not listed below were assessed and determined to be either not applicable or are expected to have an immaterial impact on the Company’s consolidated financial statements.

Adoption of New Accounting Standards - In November 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-07, Segment Reporting (Topic 280), Improvements to Reportable Segment Disclosures, which improve reportable segment disclosure requirements, primarily through enhanced disclosures about significant segment expenses. The amendments in this update require that a public entity make additional disclosures related to segments if it has them. A public entity that has a single reportable segment would be required to provide all the disclosures required by the amendments in this update and all existing segment disclosures in Topic 280. The amendments in this update are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2023, and interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted. The amendments in this update should be applied retrospectively to all prior periods presented in the financial statements. The Company adopted ASU 2023-07 in the fourth quarter of 2024. The adoption of this guidance has not resulted in incremental disclosures in the Company’s financial statements.

Accounting Standards Issued But Not Yet Adopted - In December 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-09, Income Taxes (Topic 740), Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures, to enhance the transparency and decision usefulness of income tax disclosures as well as improve the effectiveness of income tax disclosures. The amendments in this update require that public business entities on an annual basis (1) disclose specific categories in the rate reconciliation and (2) provide additional information for reconciling items that meet a quantitative threshold. The amendments in this update also require that all entities disclose on an annual basis certain detailed information about income taxes paid. The amendments in this update related to the rate reconciliation and income taxes paid disclosures improve the transparency of income tax disclosures by requiring (1) consistent categories and greater disaggregation of information in the rate reconciliation and (2) income taxes paid disaggregated by jurisdiction. The amendments allow investors to better assess, in their capital allocation decisions, how an entity's worldwide operations and related tax risks and tax planning and operational opportunities affect its income tax rate and prospects for future cash flows. The amendments in this update are effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted. The amendments in this update should be applied on a prospective basis. Retrospective application is permitted. The Company has concluded that ASU 2023-09 will not have a material impact on the income tax disclosures to its financial statements. The Company will adopt the amendments in this update prospectively upon the effective date.

In March 2024, the SEC adopted final rules requiring registrants to disclose climate-related information in their annual reports. The final rules require information about a registrant's climate-related risks that have materially impacted, or are reasonably likely to have a material impact on, its business strategy, results of operations, or financial condition. In addition, under the final rules, certain disclosures related to severe weather events and other natural conditions will be required in a registrant's audited financial statements. The new requirements are required on a prospective basis and a phased-in compliance period becomes effective for the Company beginning with its financial statements for the year ending December 31, 2025. However, pending the resolution of legal challenges that were subsequently filed against these rules, in April 2024, the SEC stayed the effectiveness of the rules. Therefore, the disclosure requirements of these rules and the timing of their effectiveness is uncertain. The Company is currently assessing the anticipated impact that the rules will have on its financial statements if and when effective and will implement disclosures upon any such effective dates.

In November 2024, the FASB issued ASU 2024-03, Income Statement - Reporting Comprehensive Income - Expense Disaggregation Disclosures (Subtopic 220-40), Disaggregation of Income Statement Expenses, to improve financial reporting by requiring additional information about specific expense categories in the notes to the financial statements at interim and annual reporting periods. The amendments in ASU 2024-03 do not change or remove current expense disclosure requirements. The amendments require that at each interim and annual reporting period an entity should disclose the amounts of (a) purchase of inventory, (b) employee compensation, (c) depreciation and (d) intangible asset amortization included in each relevant expense caption. The amendments in ASU 2024-03 are effective for annual reporting periods beginning after December 1, 2026, and interim reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2027. Early adoption is permitted. The amendments in ASU 2024-03 should be applied either (1) prospectively to financial statements issued for reporting periods after the effective date of ASU 2024-03 or (2) retrospectively to any or all periods presented in the financial statements. The Company is currently assessing the impact that ASU 2024-03 will have on its financial statements and will adopt the amendments in this update prospectively upon the effective date.

future lease payments is our incremental borrowing rate, because the interest rate implicit in most of our leases is not determinable. Our incremental borrowing rate is estimated to approximate the interest rate on a collateralized basis with similar terms and payments, and in economic environments where the leased asset is located.

Operating lease assets also include any prepaid lease payments and lease incentives. Our lease terms include periods under options to extend or terminate the lease when it is reasonably certain that we will exercise that option. We generally use the base, non-cancelable, lease term when determining the lease assets and liabilities. Operating lease expense is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Our lease agreements generally contain lease and non-lease components. Non-lease components primarily include payments for maintenance and utilities. We combine fixed payments for non-lease components with our lease payments and account for them together as a single lease component which increases the amount of our lease assets and liabilities.

Payments under our lease arrangements are primarily fixed, however, certain lease agreements contain variable payments, which are expensed as incurred and not included in the operating lease assets and liabilities. These amounts include payments for maintenance and utilities.
